The War Memorial.

What shape is the proposed war memorial, to be erected to the gallant sons of Newfoundland who fell during the Great War, going to assume? This is the question on top in the minds of those who have interest in the movement. So many suggestions have been made, so many opinions advanced that there is already chaos where order should reign, and nobody has definitely decided or made up his mind upon this vitally important matter. Some of the suggestions made are altogether untenable. For instance that the memorial be erected on Signal Hill in order that sea-faring men passing by may gaze upon it as Newfoundland's cenotaph to her brave. One can imagine how the Signal Hill erection would be appreciated. Ships passing the Narrows have not always their full complement of crew on deck, and others beating into port under double reefed canvas have too much to do attending to nautical carelessness to give even a thought to the monument that towers hundreds of feet overhead on classic Signal Hill. Then again how many ships pass in the night. These could not stop their engines in honor of the monument erected to the heroic dead, as is customary amongst mariners when passing an honored spot. Therefore the idea of erecting a perpetual memorial to the immortal sons of Terra Nova on an eminence where few would care to go for the purpose of laying a decoration at its base must be abandoned.

The glorious dead sleep underneath the soils of many countries in Europe. The fragrance of their memories come down to us as sweet smelling odors of sacrifice, for in that they gave their lives, they offered upon the altar of patriotism their all, and "greater love hath no man than this." The old Latin poet said, "it was sweet and pleasant to die for one's country." Newfoundlanders realized this to the full when they stepped into the breach and stood, with arms in their hands, as a human wall between the invaded and the invader. And they died gloriously. Not a man, woman or child in Newfoundland to-day who is not moved to tears at the thought of that living barricade of Terra Nova's flesh and blood barring the way to the barbarian hordes of the Genghis Khan of Germany. Not one of us all will ever forget their death and the manner of their dying. "When can we at cross purposes regarding the form of the honor which shall be shown to those who fought and fell. It is not as yet; it is not fitting; it is not in keeping with the traditions so gallantly upheld by the men who died that there shall be any wrangling over the form or shape, or site, of the monument to their ever blessed memory which it is proposed to erect. But there is this much to be said: That should the proposed form be the correct locality for the memorial statue, or whatever design is passed upon, should be some central spot within the city limits, easily accessible to all who desire to place a wreath to the memory of those who proved themselves "better than the best."

Sir Richard Squires

Will not attend conference. Premier Squires intimated yesterday that he would probably be unable to attend the imperial conference of premiers to be held in London this week. His presence in St. John's is considered necessary because of the prolongation of the legislative session and the gravity of domestic problems out of the business depression and widespread unemployment.

Exciting Football.

Cadets Win on Stroke of Time.

In a keenly contested game of football played before a very large number of spectators on St. George's Field last night, the Cadets defeated the Feildians by 2 goals to 1, the winning goal being scored only a few seconds before the final whistle blew. The game could by no means be considered a good one from the point of view of the football played, but it was far more keenly contested than that of the previous night and proved infinitely more interesting to watch. There was still need for more competition and quite a lot of wild kicking was again indulged in, but owing to the sloppy state of the ground, after the heavy rain, it would not be fair to expect too much in the way of good football, as it was obvious that the players experienced great difficulty in keeping their feet and in controlling the soggy heavy ball. One matter to which it is necessary to draw attention is that of the action of a certain player, who continually hung off-side and had to be first warned and afterwards had several free kicks awarded against him. This is an offense against the rules of football, which must be kept in mind by the players. A fair game throughout a certain amount of combination being got in. Callahan, their left wing, played a splendid game, and whenever he obtained the ball usually managed to send in a good centre. The Feildians forward work, particularly in front of goal, was weak, whilst the back division did not play up to their usual form. Tait at centre half played a very fine game.

THE FIRST HALF

opened with the Cadets, who had easily the best of this part of the game, pressing the Feildian goal. The latter team was playing against the sun, and this detracted to some extent from their game. For a time play became quite scrappy and finally the Feildians managed to bring the ball into their opponents' territory, but failed to accomplish anything. About 10 minutes after the start Callahan on the Cadets' left wing, received the ball and passing the opposing half sent in a fine centre, which was missed by the back and Maddigan rushing in, put a shot, practically impossible to be saved, behind Fletcher. The Feildians played hard from the centre and had some good tries, but some good scoring opportunities were lost by bad judgment and poor shooting. The half ended with the Cadets attacking the Feildian goal.

THE SECOND HALF

was a most exciting one. The Feildians forced things from the start and after five minutes a bit of mixed play occurred, from which Paterson passed to E. Chafe, who beat Clare with a fast shot, thus equalizing the score. From this point on the game became fast and exciting, the Feildians getting by far the best of play and continually bombarding the Cadets' goal, but poor judgment, again caused them to lose many fine opportunities. The Cadets, too, broke away occasionally, but were unable to score. When there was barely a minute to go and the game seemed to be about to end in a draw, Callahan shot from outside the penalty area. The ball went high and Fletcher in the Feildian goal evidently thought it would go over the cross bar, but he misjudged it, for it dropped just inside the goal and with but a few seconds to go, the Cadets had pulled the match out of the fire. The teams were as follows:

Feildians.—Goal, Rev. Fletcher; full backs, Geo. Hunt, R. Chafe; half backs, R. Martin, R. H. T. A. Martin; forwards, J. Paterson, T. Payn, Duke Winter, E. Chafe, E. Ewing.
Cadets.—Goal, W. Clare; full backs, R. Kavanagh, T. Christopher; half backs, M. Maddigan, A. Selwyn, R. Spratt; forwards, W. Callahan, R. Meaney, F. O'Neill, M. Flynn, W. Caul.

McMurdo's Store News.

Wednesday, June 8.
Derwillo has been highly praised by users, some of whom declare it the "best ever" as a complexion lotion, and praise it with great enthusiasm. We have just received a full stock of this popular toilet accessory, which sells for $1.30 a bottle—the slight difference from the last lot in price being due to the surtax.
In accordance with a number of requests, we have imported Liskul Cream—another product of the makers of Derwillo—which is now at the service of any ladies who desire its good qualities at $1 a tube.

Council Must File Defence.

After recess yesterday in the case of E. J. Whitty vs. Mayor and Council, Mr. E. Leo Carter for the Council, asked for a dismissal on the grounds that no material evidence of any agreement in the matter of a scale of wages had been produced. Mr. G. W. B. Ayre for the plaintiff, objected and asked for judgment in favour of his client. It was ordered that the Council enter a defence.

C. L. B. CADETS.

Overbridge Shield Presentation.
The presentation of the Overbridge Shield for one of the most important annual events held by the C. L. B. Cadets, took place in the Armoury last night, quite a large number of people being present, amongst whom were His Lordship Bishop White and Mrs. White, and Mrs. R. V. Goodridge, wife of Lt.-Col. R. F. Goodridge. Over 240 lads were on parade and they made a fine showing as they formed up for the inspection, which was the first item on the evening's programme. After the inspection and the other duties of the programme were proceeded with and were very well received by the spectators. The Physical Drill by A. and F. Companies under Capt. J. H. Snow, was splendidly performed, whilst the Pyramids and Exhibition on the Parallel Bars by C. S. M. Rendell's special squad, was loudly applauded. A special gymnastic exhibition by two members of the crew of H.M.S. Cambrian was greatly enjoyed by all present. Following the Pyramids and Exhibition, the cadets played a game of football, which was won by the cadets, the score being 2 goals to 1. The game was played in front of the cadets' mess, and the game was very well played, the cadets showing a fine team spirit.

The presentation of prizes was next held, the winners receiving them from the hands of Mrs. White. The Overbridge Shield, which is put up for competition annually and is awarded to the best section in either A or F Co.'s, was this year won by No. 3 Section A Company, under Sergeant A. Feaver. The other prizes presented were those won at the Annual Indoor Sports held recently. During the evening orders for the week ending June 16th, were read. The regular Thursday night parade has been cancelled for this week and the next parade will be on Thursday, June 16th. It has been decided to send a detachment from A Co., under Capt. J. H. Snow, to represent the Battalion at Divis on Sunday, June 12th, at the Kirk. A number of promotions and awards were also announced. Pte. J. Morris, the Bandmaster, for the best attendance amongst the boys of the Band was won by Pte. H. Pippy. It was also announced that the evening to give personally to the Band the instrument which was kindly presented to them. Unfortunately duties at the House of Assembly detained him. ### TO-DAY'S MESSAGES.

FITZALAN ACCLAIMED.
BELFAST, June 7.
Viscount Fitzalan's debut as Viceroy is considered to have been a distinct success. Religious feeling runs high here and there has been doubts as to how a President of the Catholic Union would be received. But these were dispelled when at the onset of his speech the Viceroy alluded to differences in creed and made it the subject of numerous remarks. His reference to auxiliaries and his denunciation of murder pleased Belfast audiences. A significant passage in his speech was the admission that the Partition Act was not perfect and needed amendment, and expressed the belief that it would be amended in the near future.

AGRICULTURAL DISLOCATION.

LONDON, June 7.
A further industrial dispute has been added to the existing controversies in coal, cotton and engineering trades, through the decision of the Government to announce to-day its policy of Agriculture to cease control of agriculture. This decision is due to a financial crisis through which the country is passing. It has already been seen by the Government that the protracted depression in trade, which has been intensified by the continued suspension of work in the coal fields, involving the Government in a heavy deficit of railways, which still are under Government control will completely upset all the Budget Estimates. Hence it seems that the Government is hastening to do away with all control which involves financial liability. The cessation of work in the coal fields, which will require the assistance of Parliament, would mean the abolition of guaranteed prices for wheat and oats and the Budget Estimates. County Councils to enforce proper cultivation. It also would result in doing away with the Agricultural Wages Board, which fixed minimum wages, varying from 4s to 5s 6d per week for agricultural labourers. This would mean that the farmers would be permitted to resume their freedom from legal restrictions in the payment of wages, and it is considered certain that they would reduce the scale of wages now in force, which undoubtedly would lead to a serious wage dispute, affecting more than 4,000,000 persons.

Odd Fellows Celebrate.

Atlantic and Colonial Lodges of Oddfellows are holding a dinner at Donovan's this afternoon to celebrate "Craig Day" in honor of Past Grand Master Craig, of the Grand Lodge of Nova Scotia. Members met at the Hall at 2.30 and will then proceed by bus and motor cars to Donovan's. Quite a number have signified their intention to be present, and an enjoyable evening is anticipated.

Take a Plebesite.

Dear Sir,—It is unfortunate that the proposal to give women a vote is being mixed up with party politics. This is a broad subject and should be dealt with on its merits. To avoid any suspicion of using this movement to help either side, I would suggest a plebesite be taken on the subject of the temper of the country on the matter, and I feel confident that the men of this country will not refuse to vote to the women who have proved their worth in the years of great stress during the war period. In every self-governing British Colony to-day the women have the vote and why should not our women who have proved themselves equal to the best when called upon to do their part have equal privileges. I therefore respectfully suggest to the members of the Legislature, on both sides of the chair that they refer the matter of Women Suffrage to a plebesite of the electorate.
Yours truly,
SUFFRAGIST.
