Contracts Awarded Vesterday and Actual Construction Starts Today

Camrose, Alfa., April 16.—Following the awarding of contracts on Wednesday excavations commenced today for the normal school and district telephone buildings at Camrose. The overcrowding in the public school-and cottage schools necessitates that the normal building be completed as soon as possible. The completed as soon as possible. The completed as soon as possible. The phone department with a large start for the work of construction and main tenance over a large stare in the actual resulting and the guilding hand of the conductor. # WORK STARTED ON NORMAL WOMEN WHO WOULD VOTE

A NATIONAL NUISANCE

That amalgamation of second childhoodishness, downright jackasserie and word mangling, known as the simplified Shelling Board, has been at work again. This time it has gone far beyond every limit heretofore set for the oracite of its detestable profession of distorting the brains of the crowing generation. It has sheen feeling the way more or less. WEDDINGS

At Hillhurst Presbyterian church yesterday morning, by the Rev. Peter Walker, Mr. Robert Stewart Vessey of Calgary was united in marriage to Miss Dorothy Tedler of Calgary. They were attended by Miss Mary Steeling and Mr. John W. Bent. Mr. and Mrs. Vessey will reside in Happyland.

fore a large audience in Paget hall, when a very fine performance of the opera, "Maritana," was offered.

This new organization fulfilled expectations. The singing of the chorus was excellent in every way. Smart, intelligent phrasing was very prominent. The wonderful enunciation, coupled with a real "atmosphere," and tone color in all its variety made the choruses exceedingly enjoyable.

The opening of the chorus was exceedingly enjoyable.

The opening chorus, "Sing Pretty Maiden," was presented with great verve and spirit; indeed, all the choral numbers and vocal accompaniments were sung con amore.

"The Angelus" received a tender and reverend reading. Here again the fore a large audience in Paget hall and reverend reading. Here again the chorus showed an easy familiarity with the music and its inner meaning.

erful enough in the concerted items. She wa smost effective in the song, "Scenes That Are Brightest," and in the duet with Miss Windle, entitled "Sainted Mother."

Mr. Ben Skinner made an excellent "Don Caesar" and quite caught his hearers with "Let Me Like a Soldier Fall," which was redemanded.

Miss Pearl Windle, who undertook the contraito solos at short notice, is the possessor of a contraito voice of beautiful quality. She was eminently successful in the well-known song, "Alas, Those Chimes," and more than held her own in the strenuous concerted work which fell to her lot.

Mr. Horace Reynolds, the conductor, was well suited by the rather weary task of presenting the dual parts of "Don Loss" and "The Kine of Sain." was weil suited by the father weary task of presenting the dual patts of "Don Jose" and "The King of Spain."
"Hear Me, Gentle Maritana," perhaps the finest song in the opera, was splendidly sung. The "mood" of this number was excellently portraged, accompanied by magnificent tonal condition.

You might drop a note to the girls asking them if it would be convenient for you and your brother to call on a certain evening. Or, that evening not being convenient for them, ask them to set an evening the they would be at home. It is always better for a young couple to be provided with a chaperone wherever possible. It would be better to have assisting you at the reception an older womanan aunt, perhaps, or some maried friend of your family.

Shall Girl of 15 Marry? Shall Girl of 15 Marry?

"Dear Miss Libbey: I am 15 and I am in love with a fellow of 27. I am satisfied he loves me and wants to get married. I have known him for some time and see him quite often, but never have gone with him as my aunt objects. I have no home. Would you advise me to marry him, as young as I am? I am capable of doing household duties.

I would not advise one so young esyou to marry. Marriage brings responsibilities that I think are almost too heavy for the aboulders of a girl of 15. Besidee, at 15, you really do not know whether you love the fellow or not. Watt a couple of years, at least before you marry.
