FATAL WRECK

On the N. and N. W. Railway at Hamilton.

Hamilton, Ont., Oct. 29.—The north-bound train on the N. and N. W. division of the G.T.R., which leaves the King street station at 4:45, ran off the track opposite the Hamilton Steel Company's works Saturday evening, caused, it is said by an open switch. The engine and baggage car left the track, and the former turned upside down.

Engineer Holden, of Hamilton, was taken from the wreck with one of his knees and both feet badly crushed. It was thought he was not fatally hurt, but he died in the general hospital Sunday morning as the result of his injuries.

Freeman Charles Southerland, also of Hamilton, was seriously injured, and it required a couple of hours' hard work before he could be released from beneath the tender. He was badly scalded about the body and sustained internal injuries of a serious nature. He was removed to his home, and it is thought he may recover.

The track was cleared Saturday night, and traffic was not interrupted. The rolling stock of the company was badly damaged, the engine being most a total wreck. Several passengers were badly shaken up, but none of them seriously injured.

Mems of the Merry War.

Everything comes to him who waits. Sir Mackenzie Bowell has waited patiently for a long time, but his opportunity has come at last.

The Advertiser has shown that in 17 industrial establishments alone in London, nearly 1,000 more hands are employed than before the Laurier Government began to rule. Let merchants, manufacturers and mechanics think what it would mean were all these and other thousands thrown out of work by the change of policy threatened by Tupper. When business has adjusted itself prosperously to the new tariff conditions, is it wise to let Tupper in to meddle and muddle? Better leave very well enough alone.

"I have been living in a nest of traitors!"—Sir Mackenzie Bowell.

Keep the ball rolling.
Young men and young women! You look forward to having cosy homes of your own. That is easier of attainment during Laurier times—i.e., good times. During the Laurier four years there were more marriages than during the 18 years previous. Use your influence for the Laurier candidate.

When Hon. Haggart's head falls with a dull thud on Nov. 7, the universal verdict of Liberals and Conservatives alike will be, "Serve him right."

Hon. Mr. Fielding, Dominion Finance Minister, puts the statement of Canada's phenomenal progress in the last four years in a nutshell when he says that the trade of the Dominion since 1896, when compared with the four years previously, is as $10 to $1 in favor of the present Government. Who desires to change back to the old order of things?

With regard to the big strike of cotton mill employees at Valleyfield: As soon as the situation at Valleyfield was brought to the attention of Mr. Mulock he telegraphed to Mr. Bertrand, the secretary of the labor union, and to Mr. Greenshields, for the company, and to the mayor of Valleyfield, offering to cancel all his political engagements and to give his services in any way possible to bring about an end of the trouble.

Since he has met Sir Hibbert Tupper face to face, on the platform, Hon. Clifford Sifton is not very anxious to meet Hugh John. One does will do for him!—London Free Press.

For cool assurance this beats the record. Everybody, Liberal and Conservative alike, is well aware that when Sir Hibbert Tupper met Hon. Clifford Sifton on the platform at Brandon, he received the most grievous trouncing he ever had in his life. He had to cry piteously for mercy, when Mr. Sifton proposed, very properly, to read Sir Charles Tupper's abject apology for his slanders relative to the Yukon. As for Hon. Hugh John, he was busy in the back streets distributing forged copies of the Globe.

Ottawa Citizen—We want men! Sir Charles Tupper—All right. Take John Haggart. I vouch for him. Sir Mackenzie Bowell—Take him if you dare. I found him to be a traitor. Sir Charles—Well, here is Dr. Montague.

Sir Mackenzie—He's no better; he threw me down, too. And still they say they could form a strong Government. The Kilkenny cats were bosom friends in comparison.

It is the growing time for admiration for the old flag—Hamilton Spectator.

For once we agree with our contentment. It is a significant time for the Old Flag. And the preferential tariff in favor of British products entering Canada is doing more for the Old Flag than all the legislation passed by the previous Government in 18 years. Long may the Old Flag wave over the new condition of affairs.

It looks as though Hon. Haggart would be "bowed" out this innings.

Bradstreet's last trade review says of London: "The outlook for trade for the balance of the fall is very bright." Is it not better to leave well enough alone, rather than risk Governmental changes that would be sure to be disturbing to business?

See The Advertiser's report of Hon. J. I. Tarte's visit to St. Thomas. Tarte is all right.

A Toronto canvasser for Laurier began quoting figures to a mechanic, who promptly replied: "You don't need to quote figures to me. I know that up to four years ago my employment was intermittent and irregular, but since 1896 it has been steady and regular, my wages have been better, my employer has made more money, and I have benefited accordingly."

London's song of prosperity under the Laurier Government shows 67 per cent increase of employees in 17 establishments. Is it wise to make a change? Are you tired of prosperity?

Hon. Haggart piteously inquires "Why should I alone be made to suffer?" You won't. The entire Conservative party has already suffered, and is still suffering grievously on your account. Moreover, keep your ears cocked towards your co-conspirators on the 7th of November, and you will hear something drop.

The valuable work which has been done by the Liberal Government for labor has already been pointed out. It is a matter of satisfaction to have independent testimony on this matter. President Mahon of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employees, in alluding to the appearance of the Dominion Labor Gazette, says: "This is only one of the many steps taken by the Government of Canada to recognize the advancement of labor. There are reasons why laboring men are better off there than in this country. They are recognized officially, even the union label being used on official printing. There is a commission which goes about investigating conditions of labor employed under government contractors. If the wage scale recognized as the prevailing scale in this district is not paid by the contractor, a report is made, and the offending contractor is at once ordered to pay the proper wages. It puts the employer and employed in closer touch with each other when the Government itself is interested in the welfare of the laboring classes. Much of the trouble in labor circles is caused entirely through unnecessary misunderstandings."

Young men! this glorious country is more yours than anyone else's, as you will live longer to enjoy it than the middle-aged or old. You believe in development, and in a big future for Canada. Young man, think it out, and you will come to the conclusion that it is to your own interest to support the progressive Laurier Government.

This is an occasion on which moderate Conservatives, and those not usually strongly on either side, should vote to leave well enough alone.

Are sure to follow in the wake of a neglected cold—but the folly of it, why will anyone be so foolish? NOTES.
The semi-official Vienna Politische Correspondenz asserts that France and Russia, after discussion, have decided to accept the Anglo-German agreement.

The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Daily Express claims to have authority for the statement, when peace is restored, Russia will hand back to its owners the railway from Tong Ku to Niu Chwang.

BRYAN'S BUSY DAY

Enormous Crowds Greeted Him in New York City.

Greatest Political Demonstration of the Campaign—Spoke to Half a Dozen Gatherings, Two of Which Totalled 30,000 People.

New York, Oct. 29.—William Jennings Bryan's second coming to this city was the occasion last night of one of the greatest political demonstrations of the campaign. Fourteen thousand people heard the Democratic candidate speak at Madison Square Garden. He had been speaking all day. His morning speech at New Haven, and in the afternoon he made several addresses at points between New Haven and this city. He was accompanied to this city by two hundred Yale students.

When he arrived at the Grand Central station there were more than 5,000 persons to greet him. He spent the remainder of the afternoon at the Hoffman House, where he went over the business of the campaign with the leaders. After a dinner in his honor, at which there were 45 guests, he witnessed the great pyrotechnic display.

The streets were crowded with people, and his trip to Madison Square Garden was a triumphal one.

The first stop was at the Broadway Athletic Club, where Mr. Bryan spoke to 10,000 enthusiastic people, the majority of whom were Italians.

He reached Cooper Union about 9 o'clock, and addressed a large gathering of Germans.

Thence Mr. Bryan drove to the corner of Fourteenth street and Second avenue, where he made a speech from his carriage to a crowd of about 5,000 people.

He made another speech from his carriage to a gathering at Twentieth street and Second avenue.

Mr. Bryan's Madison Square Garden speech was not begun until after 10 o'clock. It was unlike his former speech at that place. It was addressed to the independent class mainly, and he referred to the financial issue. Many times he was forced to stop because of the tremendous cheering. From the time he entered the hall until he quit speaking the outside of the hall was ringing with cheers.

As a climax to his day he made two other outdoor speeches. The first was from a stand near Dewey arch, where he talked to 15,000 persons who could not get into Madison Square Garden. He made another short speech at Madison avenue and Twenty-fourth street. He was then driven to the Hoffman House, where he retired for the night.
