The will of the late Dr. Douglass, principal of Wesleyan Theological College, bequeaths his entire estate to his wife. At there death it is to be equally divided among her three daughters who will receive the interest on the estate. A codicil provides that Mrs. Douglass shall be permitted to use the principal of the estate should she find the interest insufficient for her needs.

THE LONDON PRESBYTERY.

WEDNESDAY MORNING. The Presbytery met at 9 o'clock this morning, the opening business being the presentment of a report on the state of eligion within the bounds of the Presbytery. The report had no recommendations to offer. Everything was in an excellent condition; the elders in all the churches were doing their duty, the people were rising to their duty in the support of ordinances. Sabbath schools were well attended, prayer meetings were keeping up, and religious life, as a whole, was in an excellent condition. The report was adopted.

The Presbytery also considered in detail a report on Assembly remits. The pro-posed hymnal was gone through, some of he hymns being accepted and others re-

Presbytery adjourned at 12:30 p.m. to meet at First Presbyterian Church on May 8, at 1 o'clock.

ROMANCE IN REAL LIFE. A St. Catharines Girl Finds Her Father

- Believed Each Other Dead. ST. CATHARINES, March 14.-A romance in real life has developed here which has caused considerable of a sensation. About eighteen years ago Severin Neilson, a Norwegian, who sailed a vessel on the Canadian lakes and lived in St. Catharines, married a young Scotch woman, who had just arrived in this country. Neither of them had friends or relatives here, and when their child, a girl, was born, the mother died. The father soon afterwards left for England, leaving the baby in charge of a couple of St. Catharines ladies and leaving sufficient means for its support for some years. The ladies placed the little waif in the Protestant Orphans' Home, where she grew up to womanhood. A few weeks ago a friend of hers secured her a place in the household of a farmer, and when her time there expired, the young woman, Maggie Neilson, went to visit at the home of her newly-found friend. She produced a box of old letters left with her when her father went away, and by means of these he was traced and found to be a prosperous ship chandler in Goole, near Hull, England. He was communicated with, and immediately sent first-class passage tickets and sufficient funds to defray the expenses of his daughter to his house. The father had believed the daughter dead and owing to the drowning of her father's brother at sea in 1882 the girl also believed she was an orphan. The lady who had interested herself in the case accompanied Miss Neilson to Portland, whence she sailed a couple of weeks ago and was met at Liverpool by her father.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES

Five new cases of smallpox are reported n New York. Ballington Booth has induced fifteen young women of wealthy parents to join the Salvation Army at Vassar College. Toronto bricklayers protest against inspectors being employed on city work at lower wages than workingmen under them, which has been the case since the civi salary reduction bylaw went into force.

Fire in Forest.

Forest, Ont., March 14.-At 12 o'clock last night fire broke out in a frame building on Main street occupied by D. McDougall, confectioner, and it and the next building, occupied by Burney Bros., butchers, were totally destroyed. Both were owned by W. S. Stonehouse. Loss on building $800, insured for $400; loss on stock $500, covered by insurance.

Dr. Meyer's Case.

New York, March 13 .- It is now settled that Dr. Henry C. Meyer, the famous alleged poisoner and insurance defrauder, will be again tried for the murder of Gustav Brandt. A motion has been granted transferring the case from the Court of Oyer and Terminer to General Sessions, and the case will come up next month. At the last trial one of the jurors died.

Great Anti-Lords Demonstration. the demonstration against the peers on tions; March 18, are being completed rapidly. The demonstration will be enormous beyond all the original expectation. More than 220 London societies and unions will take part in it, and hundreds of committees will come from the provinces. Altogether more than 200,000 men are expected to march in the processions. Charles Fenwick, the colliers' member of Parliament for the Wansbeck division of Northumberland, caused some consternation among the more fastidious Liberal Commoners after he had been selected to second the address. He declined to wear the traditional levee costume, protesting that his everyday clothes were good enough for the occasion. The Government eventually assent to the innovation, but, not without exciting considerable criticism.

Liberal Tariff Platform.

We, the Liberal party of Canada, in con-ention assembled declare: That the customs tariff of the Dominion should be based, not as it now is, upon the protective principle, but upon the requirements of the public service.

That the existing tariff, founded upon an insound principle and used as it has been by the Government as a corrupting agency, London, March 14.—Arrangements for wherewith to keep themselves in office, has developed monopolies, trusts and combina-

It has decreased the value of farm and other landed property; It has oppressed the masses to the en richment of the few;

It has checked immigration; It has caused great loss of population; It has impeded commerce; It has discriminated against Great Britain In these, and in many other ways, it has occasioned great public and private injury, all of which evils must continue to grow in intensity so long as the present tariff system remains in force.

That the highest interests of Canada demand a removal of this obstacle to our country's progress, by the adoption of a sound fiscal policy, which, while not doing injustice to any class, will promote do mestic and foreign trade and hasten the return of prosperity to our people That to that end, the tariff should be reduced to the needs of honest, economical) and efficient government That it should be so adjusted as to make free, or to bear as lightly as possible upon the necessaries of life and should be so arranged as to promote freer trade with the whole world, more particularly Great Britain and the United States We believe that the resu ts of the pro tective system have grievously disappointed thousands of persons who honestly supported it, and that the country in the light of experience is now prepared to declare for a sound fiscal policy.

The issue between the two political parties on this great question is now clearly defined.

The Government themselves admit the failure of their fiscal policy, and now profess their willingness to make some changes, but they say that such changes must be based only on the principle of protection.

We denounce the principle of protection as radically unsound and unjust to the masses of the people, and we declare our conviction that any tariff changes based on that principle must fail to afford any sub-stantial relief from the burdens under which the country labors. This issue we unhesitatingly accept and upon it we await with the fullest condence the verdict of the electors of Canada. "When pain and anguish wring the brow
