PIMPLES

We talk about them for their removal. We talk about them at this time more than we do at any other because, for various reasons, they are more common in the Spring than in

You can get rid of them, but you must cleanse your system, thoroughly.

You can't get rid of them any other way.

Hood's Sarsaparilla thoroughly cleanses the system, cures pimples and all other eruptions, makes the complexion clear and wholesome, corrects all run-down Spring conditions, and builds up the whole system.

> "My sister and I have been in the habit of taking Hood's Sarsaparilla in the Spring and we find it works wonders. It relieves that tired feeling, purifies the blood, clears the complexion and makes us feel better in every way. I believe it to be a duty to speak in praise of so beneficial a remedy." and dignity. Hers was a rich nature, whose touch made friends in every circle of life.
"Of Mrs. Ross' domestic virtues I venture not to speak, except as they enriched the valuable services the premier has been honored in rendering to his country. Her part in these services has been so marked that, like a city set upon a hill, it could not be hid. She has taught a noble lesson to every woman in the land in her thorough and touching identification of herself with her husband's aims and achievements. When the premier and she were married, two became verily one flesh. She literally, one might say, as well as figword helpmeet. She has shown what largeness and momentum to a man's life, and that woman's most influential sphere for God is to be found in wifely realizations the choicest gills of and head, which she possessed in no ordinary degree. "The sincere and widespread sympathy manifested towards the premier and his family shows that real services, despite regrettable partisan onesidedness, is not, after all, so obscured as to pass without some degree of merited recognition. I am sure that the one feeling of the country is that divine sustainment and comfort and blessing may, in a peculiar degree, be experienced by our bereaved friend and his family in their sudden and sore afflic-

The following are among the very nany letters of sympathy received by Mr. Ross within the last day or two: Sir Oliver Mowat-How I sympathize with you in your great sorrow! I am glad that I and the rest of us at Government House had recently seen so much of Mrs. Ross that we were able from our knowledge and observation to appreciate her kindly nature, her mental and social qualities, and, in fact, all the qualifications needed in your wife. But everybody, however slightly acquainted personally, seems to have been aware of her excellencies sufficiently to perceive how much you have lost. May Almighty love soften the blow you have received, and may you be enables, notwithstanding the great bereavement, to continue rendering patriotic service to the country of your adoption and affection, the native country of the loving and beloved wife you have lost, and for which she looked with hope to increased greatness and advancement in all that is good. Sir Wilfrid Laurier-I simply write you a word to join my voice to the voice of your many friends who all would crave to offer you consolation and sympathy, but who all realize how unavailing human sympathy is to help against such a tragic blow. May God Hihself assist and comfort you.

THE PLACE VIGER

Montreal.

The expansion of the business of the Canadian Pacific Railway, which contemplates an expenditure million dollars for new roadbed, rolling stock, double-tracking parts of the road, and extensive new workshops in Montreal, also includes a very considerable addition to the hotel system of the company. The Canadian Pacific have at the present time a series of hotels from Quebec to Vancouver. The last new hotel which the company has erected, "The Place Viger," at Mon-treal, is, it is claimed, one of the most exquisitely finished hotels that tavelers or tourists from the other side or from the old country have stopped at. It was at the Place Viger that their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York, now the Prince and Princess of Wales, made sons-in-law; Mr. Charles Mitchell, Totheir first stop on their arrival in Mon-

The popularity of this hotel is due, perhaps, to the fact that the management have always endeavored to tablish, and have been successful in establishing, its title as the most refined, select and exclusive quarters in Montreal, and there are very many society people from the old country and from the United States and Canada who have enjoyed the hospitality of this beautiful house.

FUNERAL OF MRS. SKINNER. The funeral of the late Mrs. Violet Robb Skinner took place this after-noon from her late home, Elizabeth street. Rev. Robert Johnston, D. D.,

MISS W. CHILDS-BLACKBURN. DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: - I take pleasure in acknowledging the sffects of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. In my estimation there is no female remedy to equal it. Weakness not properly attended to, together with the close confinement at my desk brought on nervous prostration, so much so that for a year I doctored continually. I tried different remedies which only succeeded in poisoning my system, and my stomach refused food. A neighbor who had suffered with overian troubles and was perfectly cured, called my attention to your Vegetable Compound, and I made up my mind to give it a two months' fair trial. However, before one month had passed I was like a new woman, and after six weeks faithful use of the Compound I was in perfect health. It certainly is of great benefit to women, and I wish every poor suffering woman could have a chance to try it. Yours very truly, Miss W. Childs-BLACKBURN, 2922 Fifth Ave., Rock Island, Ill.

Nothing will relieve this distressing condition so surely as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; it soothes, strengthens, heals and tones up the delicate female organism. It is a positive cure for all kinds of female complaints; that bearing down feeling, backache, displacement of the womb, inflammation of the ovaries and is invaluable during the change of life.

How Mrs. Pinkham helped Mrs. Borst.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:- When I wrote to you some time age for advice I really thought my days were numbered. I was so ill that I could not stand on my feet for fifteen minutes at a time. I had female troubles in many of their worst forms; inflammation and ulceration of the womb; leucorrhœa; bearing down pains; headache and backache; nervous prostration. My kidneys were out of order and blood in a bad condition. Everyone, and even my doctor thought I was going into consumption. I followed your advice faithfully for six months with the result that I became a well woman, and it cost me much less than a doctor's bill. I feel that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved my life." - Mrs. SAMUEL BORST, 7 Cozy Ave., Oneonta, N. Y.

The above letter shows how unerring is the advice which Mrs. Pinkham gives to women who write her about their sickness; as the advice is free and always helpful it is not strange that she advises more than one hundred thousand sick women every year. Her address is Lynn, Mass.

REWARD. — We have deposited with the National City Bank of Lynn, $500 which will be paid to any person who can find that the above testimonial letter are not genuine, or were published before obtaining the writer's special per mission.
