The cyclone passed a mile north of the Republic House. John Lagle was blown down and the house and barn of Jefferson Walter demolished. The house of Mrs. Lindsey Youngblood was blown down and John Lagle was badly injured. Mr. Lagle badly bruised, Mr. Strong seriously injured and Mrs. Walteson seriously hurt. Lost almost everything in the house, as did Strong and Mrs. Youngblood. Near Brooklyn the cyclone

SWEEPED EVERYTHING IN ITS COURSE.

It was three hundred yards wide. It blew James Garlin's house entirely away; the tower of Philip Garlin's house was blown off and the entire crop of wheat blown away. Isaac Boone's house was blown down and Mrs. Boone bruised and injured. Mrs. Haberler killed and John Haberler injured. James McColl's house was demolished. Geo. H. Hawley's house and barn were blown down. Alfred Raddall's house and barn were blown down and Raddall severely injured.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—The Lord Mayor's banquet this evening was attended by many distinguished persons. Mr. Waddington, the French ambassador, replying to a toast, said there was no greater guarantee for the peace of the world than hearty cordial friendship between Great Britain and France. The policy of France was not one of aggression, but one of holding her own. The French Government was earnestly trying to settle pending questions affecting France. His visit to London was one of peace. The French wished to approach Great Britain in a spirit of good will, and he was met with the same desire on the part of England.

Mr. Gladstone replied to the toast in honor of Her Majesty's Ministers. Referring to Waddington's speech he said: "Our hearts and wishes are with France in every cause of peace, justice and orderly government, in which she may find it her interest to engage." Referring to the Missionary Shaw affair, he said what had come from the French Government had been offered, rather than demanded. He believed the incident would tend to confirm good feeling between the two countries. Mr. Gladstone said orders had been given for the withdrawal of a portion of the British forces from Egypt, and that the withdrawal would include the evacuation of Cairo. All the great powers of Europe, he said, had declared their attachment for the cause of peace. In regard to Ireland, he

"There is much to be said; much to be desired, much to be lamented, but there is also much to be hoped for. Peace and order must be firmly maintained."

CONSUMPTION CURED.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an Eastern missionary the formula of a simple and vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure for consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all Throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men. Motivated by this motive and a desire to relieve suffering, I will send free of charge, to any one who desires it, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using.
