

NOTE

The information contained in this report was obtained from a wide range of Canadian Government, Indian Government, United States Government and United Nations documents available in the public domain. Interviews with representatives of the Indian and Canadian Governments were also conducted.

This report provides the Canadian business community with general information on the food processing sector in India. Additional detailed research should be undertaken by the individual business prior to commencing any initiative in a specific product area. The lists of business contacts in Part 3 of this report were published by the United Nations and the Indian Government based on information provided by the businesses themselves.

Disclaimer: The Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade (DFAIT) has taken the utmost care in preparing this guide. However, even though the information has been gathered from sources generally regarded as reliable, DFAIT cannot and does not guarantee the accuracy of the information, nor of the absence of error or omission and therefore assumes no liability for the guide's contents.

Restrictions
Customs and Inspection
Food Laws and Regulations	11
Tips for Doing Business in India	11
PART 2: OPPORTUNITIES	13
Market for Processed Foods	14
Beverages	15
Bottled Water
Soft Drinks
Fruit Juices
Beer and Alcoholic Beverages
Cereal Grain Products	17
Rice
Wheat
Food Processing Biotechnology	18
Frozen Foods	18
French Fries
Ice Cream
Fruit and Vegetable Products	19
Fruits
Vegetables
Mushrooms
Potatoes
Apples
Onions
Packaging and Equipment	22

Foreign Affairs and Int. Trade
Affaires étrangères et Commerce int.

SEP 26 2012

Return to Departmental Library
Retourner à la bibliothèque du Ministère