

6 pushed Fritz back -
in fact on the morning of the 11th Louis Younger
- Rumpf my orderly
officer - the Ford driver and myself were going along ^{in the gap} when some belated, or cheeky Fritz took a poke at us a couple of times at about 400
yards - we were a bit
ahead of the troops -
to the north of Trons.
You see were sore
because Clarke had issued an order of some sort keeping the 9th Bde out of Trons until after 7.00 am. on the 11th when we were to go through and lay out
the final line - before we could get a reply from
Gen. Loomis which
