

The amount to be laid out in the erection of the Seminary must be prudently expended, but with special regard to the comfort and convenience of the pupils; and in the said Testator's opinion, a sum not exceeding ten thousand pounds currency should be sufficiently ample for the purpose. The building must be plain and substantial, and devoid of all unnecessary decorations.

It is the desire of the Testator that the business of this Institute be ever conducted in the fear of God, with an eye to His glory.

The Testator's prayer is that it may prove a blessing to thousands in ages to come, and whose path may be like that of the just which shineth more and more unto the perfect day. May it ever come under the management of God-fearing men and women, whose heart and soul will be in their work.

This the said Testator desired when the Lord first prompted him to make this will, and to the Lord of Glory be all the honour ascribed, who shed His precious blood on Calvary that man might be reconciled with his Creator and made a partaker of eternal life through the blood of the everlasting covenant. Hallelujah! Praise yet the Lord.

It is the desire of the said Testator that a church, chapel, or place of worship be erected in the House or Seminary sufficiently capacious for containing two hundred persons or a larger number if needed, and that Divine Service be performed therein every Lord's Day.

The organ to be placed therein to be played upon by one of the teachers or pupils at each service.

The form of worship in every other respect to be Presbyterian. Pupils, however, belonging to other denominations, shall be permitted to attend their own churches, but only when in charge of their parents or guardians, but shall on no pretence be absent from the Seminary on Sunday evenings or otherwise subject to expulsion.

The ministers' stipend for officiating therein shall be paid at the discretion of the governors aforesaid.

Application may be made to the Legislature for the purpose of obtaining an Act of Incorporation for the said Seminary, in accordance with the spirit of the said Testator's wishes as herein set forth, so soon as the said trustees or governors may deem it advisable, and in such Act of Incorporation provision may be
