

Dress Suits Tuxedos AND Prince Alberts

This is the season when a demand is made upon a man's wardrobe for the ultra fashion in dress for evening wear, dinners and weddings.

As a rule men never think about the fine arts in dress until almost the last moment, and as a matter of fact, it isn't necessary, for we carry all the needful lines for all occasions. Just now, our showing is the finest in Toronto, and we specialize Dress Suits at $30, made from a beautiful Vicuna and cut by our special artist on Dress Suits—the same can be said of our Tuxedos and Prince Alberts. We also carry a very wide range of Fancy and Full Dress Vests for all occasions.

CONTROL OF RAILWAYS STOCK AND BOND ISSUES

President Tart Will, It Is Understood, Forbid Capitalizing Beyond Physical Value.

The New York American, which appears to have program for the further regulation of railroads in the United States, publishes a despatch from Washington which is in part as follows: The report of the special stocks and bonds commission of which President Hadley is chairman, and which was appointed by President Taft to ascertain how much of the capital stock and bonds of the railroads in the United States represents actual value, how much is water, and how the issue of stocks and bonds could best be controlled, is now in the hands of the president.

It is understood that the commission makes the following important recommendations: Federal supervision and control of all issues of stocks and bonds. A special valuation of railroad properties by the government. Publicity of actual values or conditions approximating thereto. Legislation making it a criminal offense for organizers of interstate corporations to capitalize beyond the actual physical value of the property and a reasonable estimate of good will where such enters into the capitalization.

An estimate of the physical valuation of the chief railroad lines is undoubtedly included in the report.

It is understood that Professor Hadley in questioning financiers who testified before the commission, intimated that he thought the overcapitalization concerns by stock watering involved a moral turpitude when such securities were thrown on the stock market for public purchase.

The subject is said to be treated in the report. It is believed the president will use it as a strong political argument should he decide to send the report to congress with a special message.

So eager are the magnates in the railroad and industrial world to ascertain the findings and recommendations of the commission, that several days ago they sent a special committee to the White House to get advance information.

In this committee were: Albert H. Harris, vice-president of the New York Central Railroad; Alfred P. Thom, general counsel of the Southern Pacific; Frank Trumbull, chairman of the board of directors of the Chesapeake & Ohio, and Walter D. Hines.

They approached the president most diplomatically. They asked him if he did not wish a conference with the recommendations of the commission.

President Non-Committal. The president did not stop to ask the railroad lawyers how they happened to know he had the report of the commission. He informed them that while the report had been in his hands for several days, he had not read it, and could not discuss its recommendations with them because of his lack of knowledge of what they were.

Further, the president told the railroad lawyers that even if he had digested all of the information in the report, he did not think he could discuss the recommendations or the report with them at any time. He believed it his duty to transmit the report before he should make any recommendations it contained. Since then the president has had no delegates of railroad lawyers calling on him.

It is accepted here that some of the recommendations must have been known to the railroad men or they would not have been so eager to see the president and ascertain his views. These close to the president are inclined to believe the commission has made recommendations exceedingly objectionable to the railroad heads, that it interferes with the work of his commission with respect to control of stocks and bonds, and that the railroad men are fearful of the consequences.

TORONTO DISTRICT W.C.T.U.

Toronto District W.C.T.U. will meet on Tuesday next, Nov. 22, at 2:30 p.m., instead of on the regular meeting day, as business of importance has to be transacted. The board of the Frances Willard Hall meets the same day at 11 a.m.

No Chances About It.

A somewhat pass summer girl, at the end of a season that had left her further off than ever from the matrimonial harbor, looked sadly seaward and said: "Well, marriage is a lottery." But a fair young widow whose engagement to a millionaire of $3 sum-mers has been announced—this is a fair young widow, with a loss of her head, returned: "Don't you believe it. It is a game of skill."—San Francisco Argonaut.

Matters of public interest will be discussed by representatives of the Ontario Government, city council and the association.

Hydrotherapy in Ontario.

Hydrotherapy, the applying of water in the cure of disease, is to-day one of the most important treatment methods for the public, and withal one of the most pleasant to undergo. The ill susceptible of favorable influence by the proper use of water cover a very wide range, and Ontario is not lacking in the necessary curative mineral waters. At the springs at Caledonia, Springs, at Preston, and again at Chatham, is found every possible convenience for treatment and bathing. There are comfortable hotels at each resort, which are all quickly reached by the Canadian Pacific Railway. Full particulars of accommodation, train service, etc. C. P. St. Luke's Church was the scene of a wedding yesterday, when the marriage was solemnized by Miss Arundell Tyrwhitt, daughter of the late Lieut.-Col. Tyrwhitt, and of Mrs. Tyrwhitt, of Admiral-rd., to Mr. Elliott Grasset Barrie, a cousin of the late Mr. Barrie, and of Mrs. Strath of Bedford-rd. Hamilton Dicker performed the ceremony, and Mr. Killmaster organist of the Church of the Redeemer presided at the organ. During the signing of the register Miss Gladys Ardab of Barrie, a cousin of the bride, sang "Perfect Love." The church was decorated with white chrysanthemums, palms and ferns. The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. Raymond Tyrwhitt, wore white satin trimmed with old Chantilly lace, chiffon and pearls, the lace being caught in front with beautiful Tyrwhitt hairloom of Indian flange gold set with emerald crystals. Her veil, which had been worn by her sister on her marriage, was held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms, she carried a shower of roses and lily of the valley, and wore the groom's gift, diamond ring. Miss Dorothy Tyrwhitt was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Muriel Strath, the groom's sister, and Miss Marjorie Lennon, a cousin of the bride. They were gown in white, in yellow satin veiled in nylon, and large black velvet hats, trimmed with black tulle bows. They carried bouquets of crimson roses and each wore the groom's gift, a brooch, pearl and diamond necklace, and the ushers were Mr. Hedley Snider, Hamilton, and Mr. Grant Fletcher. To each the groom gave a pearl waistcoat set. After the ceremony Mrs. Tyrwhitt held a reception at her house in Admiral-rd., which was decorated with yellow chrysanthemums and ferns, and was wearing mauve satin with old lace, a black velvet toque and bouquet of lily of the valley and violets. Mrs. Strath, the groom's mother, wore mauve nylon on black satin, with black velvet toque, and carried crimson roses. Mrs. Nicol, Aurora, a sister of the bride, was in champagne miter, ermine and black velvet hat. Miss Tyrwhitt wore pink velvet hat with Paisley nylon, large black velvet picture hat and carried large black velvet picture hat and carried yellow roses. Miss Strath, the groom's sister, wore green velvet willow hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. Strath left later for a trip to New York, the bride traveling in a brown fur-trimmed hat to match and mink furs.

The presentation of the freedom of the City of London to Earl Grey, which will take place at an early date, will be a most remarkable gathering in the historic Guildhall. This will probably include the only four other ex-governors-general of the Dominion still living—the Duke of Argyll, who as Marquis of Lorne accepted that position in 1878; the Marquis of Lansdowne (1885); the Earl of Aberdeen (1892), and the Earl of Minto (1898). The assembly will also include Lord Strathcona, the secretary of state for the colonies, and representatives of all the great Canadian commercial enterprises in this country.

Mrs. Fred Young, Roslyn-road, formerly Miss Landon Wright, Toronto, received in Winnipeg last week, when she wore her wedding gown of white satin and lace. ## The Weakness of Liquor Drinkers

Alcohol is a Cumulative Poison That Unhinges the Mind and Wrecks the Body—The Gatlin Treatment Cures the Liquor Habit in THREE DAYS.

LIQUOR makes a man's whole life a lie. It poisons his brain and he believes that he feels good when he feels bad. Under its influence he believes himself strong when he is weak and growing weaker every day. He believes his business prospering when it is on the verge of bankruptcy; he believes he is talking like an intellect; he believes that he has the confidence of his friends when they wouldn't trust him for a minute in an important matter.

Why not wake up? THINK just a little, if you can. What has liquor ever done for you? What is it doing?

TO you? Has it ever made you any money, any friends? Come to the Gatlin Institute and be cured. But THREE DAYS of your time will be required. You will be accepted for treatment under a legally executed contract that you are to be cured in THREE DAYS—cured to your entire satisfaction—or the fee you pay shall be refunded at the end of the third day and treatment shall cost you NOTHING. You judge the cure—not the Gatlin Institute. There are no hypodermic injections, no strong drugs, no disagreeable features—nothing to be afraid of. A child could safely take the Gatlin treatment. There is not a poisonous ingredient in it.

If you cannot come to the Institute for THREE DAYS, send for the Gatlin Home treatment. It carries practically the same contract to cure as Institute treatment, the only change being one to protect you against unscrupulous persons.
