

Her Friends Were Growing Uneasy

Toronto Woman Was Unable to Do Any Work for Five Weeks Before She Got Tanlac.

"I've just finished my third bottle of Tanlac and am feeling better in every way than I have for the past eleven years," said Mrs. C. Roscoe, who resides at 155 Jones avenue, Toronto, recently.

"When I started taking the medicine I was in such a general rundown condition that I had been unable to do any sort of work for five weeks. I think my bad state of health was due to a severe nervous breakdown, which I had two years ago, and which upset my whole system. My digestion became so disordered that whatever I ate would sour on my stomach and make me extremely bilious and I had such spells of dizziness that I often had to sit down and rest. I became very thin and so weak that the housework was a burden to me and I simply had no energy at all. My nerves were so bad that the least unusual noise would scare me, and all night long I would keep waking up. All my friends were concerned about my condition, and I was very down-hearted, for I had tried so many medicines without getting any relief, that I didn't know what to do next in order to get well and strong."

"Then one day I read in the papers of how a woman with troubles just like mine had been greatly benefited by Tanlac and I determined to give it a trial. The first thing it did was to give me a ravenous appetite, and I soon found that I could eat anything I fancied without being troubled with indigestion or biliousness afterwards. The spells of dizziness left me, my nerves got stronger every day, and I now sleep right through the night without once waking up. That great feeling has left me, and I am able to do my work without any trouble. After my experience I think Tanlac is the best medicine in the world."

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, and by an established agency in every town.

DON'T FUSS WITH MUSTARD PLASTERS!

Musterole Works Without the Blister—Easier, Quicker

There's no sense in mixing a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can easily relieve pain, soreness or stiffness with a little clean, white Musterole. Musterole is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, combined in the form of the present white ointment. It takes the place of mustard plasters, and will not blister. Musterole usually gives prompt relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bite, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

POLICE CLAIM DOUGHTY HAS CONFESSED TO BONDS THEFT

The Former Secretary of A. J. Small Silent Regarding Millionaire.

TO WAIVE EXTRADITION

Willing To Come To Toronto From Oregon City.

WILL LEAVE TODAY.

PORTLAND, Oregon, Nov. 23.—Detective Mitchell of Toronto this afternoon purchased railway tickets for Doughty and himself over the Northern Pacific, and will leave in the morning for Toronto, via Spokane and Chicago. After checking their baggage Mitchell took Doughty to a hotel, where they are registered under assumed names. Mitchell at first expected to leave today, but stated later that he would not leave with Doughty until tomorrow morning.

PORTLAND, Oregon, Nov. 23.—John Doughty, former private secretary to Ambrose J. Small, millionaire theatre owner of Toronto, Ont., who disappeared last December, was under arrest here today, and will start tomorrow in custody for the Eastern Canadian city.

Officers who arrested Doughty said he confessed to the theft of $100,000 in Canadian Victory bonds, which were missed after his disappearance. The disappearance of Small, beyond saying that he last saw his employer in a Toronto theatre on the night of Small's disappearance.

Doughty said the bonds were deposited in Chicago, and promised to obtain them when he goes through that city on his way to Toronto. He will be taken east via Spokane and Chicago.

Doughty was arrested yesterday in Oregon City, near here, where he was employed in a paper mill, and where he had risen from a laborer to an assistant foreman in a department crew. A world-wide search has been made for him.

Doughty was turned over to Austin P. Mitchell of the Toronto police department, while his prisoner direct to the Union Station here, saying he would leave at once for Toronto. Mitchell said Doughty confessed to the theft of $100,000 in Canadian Victory bonds, which were missing after his disappearance, but that the prisoner would not discuss the disappearance of Small. Mitchell said that Doughty was willing to accompany him without extradition proceedings.

"I'm going to get right home," said Mitchell. "I don't want to talk. Do you know, I've received so many reports of the capture of Doughty that when I got a telegram from Constable Fortune of Oregon City I threw it in the waste basket. There's another one," I said to myself. Then I determined to take the chance and get my man."

Asked if he would lodge his prisoner anywhere temporarily, Mitchell shook his head. "No, we're going home. All I want to know are the points of the compass. I'm going north and then east."

He paused on the street corner and looked at the sun. "That's north," he said. "Come on, Jack, let's go."

"Kidnapping Doughty," "I don't want to see any policemen here," said Mitchell. "I am kidnapping Doughty. He is willing to return to Toronto, with me without extradition papers."

Doughty willingly discussed his past life with a reporter for the Portland Oregonian, while being conveyed from Oregon City to Portland this afternoon. He maintained silence, however, on the alleged kidnapping of his former employer, Ambrose J. Small, and his whereabouts since his mysterious disappearance from Toronto last December.

Doughty said he had been married twice and that his second wife was living. They were separated some time ago, he said, and his two sons, 10 and 11 years old, are being cared for by his sister in Toronto.

His face lighted with pleasure when he was told that the men in his gang at the paper mill at Oregon City had expressed surprise over his arrest and that they spoke highly of him. "I was used to manual labor," he said. "I did my best to get along with the boys. They were due fellows."

Doughty made no objection to posing for photographers, both at Oregon City and in Portland.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 23.—John Doughty, who has been arrested in Portland, Oregon, was for many years private secretary to Ambrose J. Small, millionaire Canadian theatre man, who disappeared on December 2, 1919, after he had deposited in his bank a marked check for $100,000, which he had received from the Trans-Canada Theatres, Limited, for the purchase of his theatres. Small is still missing.

Doughty also disappeared, and search for him had been made all over the civilized world. Nothing definitely concerning his whereabouts has been published here until the receipt this morning of the news of his arrest in Portland. Five thousand dollars reward was offered for his apprehension.

SISTER HAS NOTHING TO SAY

TORONTO, Nov. 23.—Mrs. Lovatt of this city, sister of John Doughty, who has had the care of Doughty's two sons, John and George, since their father disappeared from Toronto, is seriously ill at her home from pneumonia. Miss Doughty, another sister of the former secretary to Ambrose J.

Small, also resides here and has been collecting rents from her brother's tenants since December 28 last.

"We have nothing to say in the matter at all," was Miss Doughty's reply to an attempt to interview her on the reported arrest of John Doughty. She is reported to have stated, however, in answer to a question, that she had not heard from her brother since he left this city.

Mrs. Ambrose J. Small, wife of the missing theatre owner, is at present visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. J. C. Walsh, at 125 South Thirteenth street, College Point, Long Island, N.Y. She left Toronto for New York last Saturday, intending to stay for a month.

Winnipeg, Nov. 23.—(By Canadian Press).—Whether a strike vote will result from the order issued by President D. B. Hanna of the Canadian National Railway, debarring employees from taking part in politics, will be decided at a conference of representatives of the railway organization to be held in Toronto next Monday morning. H. B. Barker, chairman of the western joint committee in charge of the matter, in announcing this decision, stated that the western delegates, numbering twelve and representing all western organizations, will leave for Toronto on Friday.

It is expected that the first action taken in Toronto will be to interview President Hanna and ascertain whether he will stand by his order. The men, while determined to force the issue by a strike if necessary, express confidence that some amicable adjustment will be reached through the negotiations.

RAILMEN MAY STRIKE, RESULT HANNA'S ORDER

Employees Meet To Decide On Action Monday in Toronto.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 23.—(By Canadian Press).—Whether a strike vote will result from the order issued by President D. B. CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—(By Canadian Press).—The price of live hogs became general today throughout the United States. Big receipts from the farms appeared to be the immediate cause, the total supply of hams on Sunday at the ten principal markets of the country being estimated at 182,000 head, against 124,000 a week ago.

In Chicago, the market closed at the bottom figures of the day, the lowest since December 16, 1916, and at an average drop of $1 per cwt., as compared with yesterday. The practical top at the finish was $19 per cwt., whereas on July 31, 1919, hogs commanded $23.50, the pinnacle point on record. Five years before the current price was $8.15.

CONFUSING MOVES ON NEW YORK MART

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Stocks were strong almost to buoyancy at the lively opening of trading on today's stock market session, heavy during the intermediate period, and irregular at the close, with sales of 1,100,000 shares.

These confusing movements were interpreted by the "street" as indicating that financial and general economic conditions were in progress of further readjustment.

Technically, the market's position was regarded as sounder than at any time since the almost steady reversal of the current month. More stable and reassuring features included the closing out of speculative accounts and resultant material reduction of loans.

Evaporation of war profits and throwing overboard of war-made gains have been accompanied by change of control in many industrial companies. What Wall Street called "the logic of events" has made the Morgan-Du Pont interests dominant factors in the General Motors corporation, the only rival of the United States Steel Corporation as a "billion dollar" concern.

Commonwealth markets were less unsettled, but downward revision continued in many lines of raw and finished materials, these ranging from steel, iron and copper, to the general metal market, sugar, cotton, oil, paper and kindred articles.

Planned Guilty To Charge of Perjury

Wingham Youths Are Fined and Jailed For One Day.

GODERICH, Nov. 23.—Harold and James Showers, both of Wingham, appeared in Judge Dickson's criminal court here this afternoon and pleaded guilty to a charge of perjury, which they were alleged to have committed at Wingham in a liquor case, which was being prosecuted against Thomas J. McLean of that town.

Judge Dickson lectured the young men regarding the seriousness of their act. He said he would not let them go without giving them a jail sentence, and sentenced each to the county jail for one day and imposed a fine of $2500, each, including the rates covering bail in United States territory to be made at the point of destination.

Power To Fix Rate.

One suggestion was advanced that somebody should be given power to fix periodically the rate of exchange on payments covering railway contracts.

Another proposal was that arrangements should be made for the collection at the border of the rates charged on haulage in Canada, the payment of the rates covering haulage in United States territory to be made at the point of destination.

Mr. Carvell noted that up to the present time the board had really received more complaints from Canadian importers than from those engaged in shipping products to Canadian points. Importers of goods were particularly hard hit.

Touches Difficulties.

Counsel for the railway emphasized the difficulties in the way of a solution of the problem, and argued that payment should be made by the shippers in money with one hundred cents on the dollar in both countries affected. They maintained that the board could not dictate the terms on which joint international traffic must move, and stated that United States railways could refuse to accept the traffic if rates were imposed which are insupportable to them.

LEGAL DIFFICULTIES IN WAY OF FREIGHT PAYMENT QUESTION

Proposal That Canadian Haulage Be Paid For in Canadian Money.

OTTAWA, Nov. 23.—(By Canadian Press).—The hearing was concluded late this afternoon by the railway board of the complicated case arising out of the pre-payment of railway tolls on international traffic under present adverse exchange conditions. The situation from the Canadian standpoint has been accentuated since the commencement of the autumn grain movement.

During the course of the hearing today Chief Commissioner Carvell and the other members of the board stated that some action is necessary, but emphasized the legal difficulties involved because of the international character of the problem and the consequent lack of jurisdiction.

Allowance Will Be Very Welcome

Mother Will Not Need To Sew All Night Any More.

WINDSOR, Nov. 23.—The first check for financial assistance under the mothers' allowance act to reach this city was received by a Windsor woman yesterday afternoon. She is the mother of three children, the eldest 13, and she was handed the check for $5 which constitutes a month's instalment, she said. "Now I will not have to sew any more at nights to make ends meet."

For many weary months this Windsor mother has been working far into the night in an effort to provide herself and children.

Those who live in the same household have heard her sobs and sighs, and have refrained from complaining, knowing that she was making her living in that way.
