

OFFICE OF
The Canada Sewing Machine Company
 HAMILTON, ONT.

DEAR SIR,

April 10th, 1877.

We beg to call your special attention to our latest production in Sewing Machines—"The Empress of India." From the long and careful study of the requirements of the day, and the strict attention in detail to workmanship in design and finish, we feel assured that we are introducing what may be really termed the Sewing Machine of the future.

The "Empress of India" is a Hand Machine with all the latest improvements and patents most perfect and complete. Every part is made of the very best material; it is beautifully adjusted, finely finished, and an elegant piece of workmanship. It requires no clamp or fastening of any kind, and rests perfectly firm and solid on the table or any piece of furniture whilst at work. It runs charmingly smooth and silent, and is so simple that the liability to get out of order is reduced to a minimum. It is supplied with a complete set of silver-plated attachments of the latest design, and has an automatic Bobbin Winder and loose wheel device for throwing out of gear whilst winding bobbins. It is ornamented with pure Gold, consequently must always retain its brilliancy. The Shuttle is acknowledged to be superior to any other in use in any country; its tensions are perfect, and the threading or lacing through numerous holes in the side is done away with, the tension being obtained by a spring in the shuttle, and is regulated by a screw—simple and exact.

This Machine is specially adapted to meet a want long felt—a First-Class Hand Sewing Machine, which will, with ease, do every description of work required of any Family or Light Manufacturing Machine made, whether Hand or Treadle; compact, portable, handy and strong; suitable for every climate, and always ready to do its part silently and well, in town or country, in the drawing room or the railway carriage, or whilst travelling in any way by land or water.

We shall be pleased to quote prices to shippers in quantities, free, at Liverpool, London, Glasgow, New York, Boston, Montreal, or Halifax, N.S., in strong cases, well packed for shipment to any part of the world. Forty-two Machines to the cubic ton measurement. Applications for "Empress of India" Hand Book, or any other communications made to our European Depôt, Wood Street, Liverpool, or to this office direct, will receive our prompt attention.

We are, dear Sir,

Yours truly,

C. R. SMITH,

Secretary and Manager.
