WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH THE MEN OF MODERN DAYS?

They Are Satisfied With Less Than Their Best, Says McGraw

I am one of those who believe that a young man with sane ideas of life, who has formed a high ideal of himself, who has initiative and a fair share of good judgment, can climb the ladder as high as he chooses. The world is looking for such men. They are needed as never before. Some of the troubles are about like this: Nineteen out of every twenty young men (and I might include many of our men) are failures better than their work would indicate. Their fault is that they are satisfied with less than their best. Their limitations are in the forefront, instead of being absorbed by their work. They fail to make the effort to live up to the best there is in them. They shrink responsibility, they know it. This becomes a habit of mind. Their mental attitude shuts them out from assuming their share of the load. The man himself may not be aware of it, but the boss is, if he is a student of human nature, as most bosses are.—James H. McGraw in April Aera.

NOW WE HAVE THE SLIT STOCKING

Fancifully Worked Hosiery London Fad For the Summer

London, April 16—It is announced that there is another development of the slit stocking, namely, the "slit stocking".

The opening assumes various shapes and positions from an elongated oval, beginning at the instep, to a slender V-shaped slit of greater length. The opening is faced with very fine bands of silk thread of the same color and texture of which the stocking is made. These are crossed backwards and forwards sufficiently wide apart to make the texture of the slash apparent. In some styles the edges of the slash are faced with narrow insertions of brightly colored ribbons.

A fashion article says regarding the new styles in stockings:—

"Highly elaborate and fancifully worked hosiery is in wide demand. Delicately striped stockings in bright colors are prominent for the summer, the striped being very thin and set close together. A novel idea is the introduction of fine threads of gold to the stocking about the instep and above the ankle."

The department of marine and fisheries hopes to have the channel from Montreal to Quebec cleared by April 24.

THE MAILS

St. John Will Await Official Statement of Facts From Post-Master General

The false claims made by Halifax regarding the alleged superiority of their port for handling mails and the allegation that mails can be landed more quickly in Montreal when sent via Halifax will be vigorously combated by the St. John Board of Trade.

Early in the season when the mail arrangements were made the board secured from the postmaster-general a promise that a careful record of the time made by mails landed at the port would be kept and would be accessible at the close of the season for purposes of comparison. This record will give the official figures for the mails and should enable St. John to show the advantages of this port.

President Robinson of the Board of Trade said this morning that they have communicated with the postmaster-general asking for the figures, so far but have not yet received them. Until they have the exact figures the board do not wish to make any statements which they cannot back up, but as soon as they are in a position to do so they will make every effort to make the real facts known all over Canada.
