VOTES FOR WOMEN IN QUEBEC PROV.

Five Hundred French-speaking Women in Montreal Take Lecture Course.

Montreal, Feb. 28.—Five hundred French-speaking women in Montreal have set out to correct the view that the "Latin temperament is against votes for women." This belief on the part of the Quebec Legislature has kept women from voting in provincial elections. When the University of Montreal began a course on "civic government" this year the five hundred women were among those who caused the class to be the largest on record. They wanted to know all about the principles of government and the duties of citizenship and they settled down to work in earnest. The class met on Thursdays, but it was found that there were many others desirous of attending who could not come on that day. So it was arranged that Thursdays should be reserved for women who were at leisure during the day and an extra class should be formed on Sundays for business girls who could not attend during the week. The classes have proved a great success and lectures have been attentively followed.

Bishop Gauthier, administrator of the Catholic Diocese of Montreal, was present at the opening of the course and heard the first lecture, which was given by Father Forest, general secretary and professor of philosophy at the university. Father Forest at the outset expressed his sympathy with the women in their desire for citizenship rights and refuted some of the common arguments of opponents of the woman's vote. It had been said that economic problems in politics were a little difficult for women to understand. "If you can bring me two men out of a hundred who can thoroughly understand them, then I should be prepared to tell the women they ought not to vote," he said. "In moral and social life the women's influence was as much needed as men's."

Bishop Gauthier, while he did not commit himself to an opinion on the suffrage, said that Father Forest in his views represented the university. Altogether ten lectures covering the various phases of government are included in the course. The movement in part an answer to the provincial legislators' challenge to the women of Quebec to show that the vote is really wanted, is also part of a comprehensive educational campaign which it is planned to extend throughout the province.

The gathering together of 500 French-speaking women to study citizenship is regarded by French and English-speaking suffragist leaders in Quebec as a great victory. Up to the present, the view has been that, while the English-speaking women were generally in favor of the extension of the provincial vote to women in Quebec, French women were indifferent or opposed. Now the French-speaking women are showing a tendency to forge ahead and in activity this year, so far as Montreal is concerned, have left their English-speaking sisters behind.

Measures to give the vote to women in Quebec have been repeatedly turned down in the Legislature. A deputé of several hundred women who waited on Premier Taschereau last year and asked for the franchise, told the Legislature would not pass such legislation.

MAID HELD AS HOME WRECKER IN REVENGE FOR DISMISAL

New York, Feb. 28.—Charged with malicious mischief, Marie Cline, twenty-four years old, a domestic, was held in $1,000 bail for examination by Magistrate William A. Sweetser in Washington Heights Court.

Mrs. Archibald McLeish of 293 Riverside Drive, told the court that, returning home after discharging the maid, she found three valuable rugs had been ripped, linen torn in shreds, mattresses strewn on the floor and kitchen utensils dented, and that her home looked as if it had been hit by a tornado. Marie had gone, but detective arrested her later.

COACHING THE INTESTINAL MUSCLES TO ACT FOR THEMSELVES.

Hundreds of thousands of men and women are being freed from all the evils of constipation by the regular eating of Fleischmann's Yeast. It is in no sense a purgative, and produces no sudden violent action. It must be eaten regularly to achieve results.

Eat two or three cakes a day—plain, or dissolved in water, milk or fruit juices—preferably half an hour before a meal or the last thing at night.

If you eat it plain, follow with a glass of water. Get several cakes at a time—they will keep several days in a cool, dry place. Be sure you get Fleischmann's Yeast! All grocers have it.

"Assured perfect regularity"

"Since I was eleven years old," a New Yorker wrote us recently, "I had used everything that could be suggested for constipation—without a cure. Three operations had been necessary. And then three cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast a day for a period of one month not only assured perfect regularity, but brought me back to my normal weight."

PENNANT PRACTICE NOW UNDER WAY

Many Major League Baseball Clubs Have Begun Spring Training—Giants in Texas Thursday.

New York, Feb. 28.—With the advance squads of many of the major league baseball clubs already in the South, active preparations for the next pennant races are already under way. Several of the teams will start their regular spring training campaigns this week and by the end of the second week of next month the training season will be well under way. By that time the many veterans will have begun their routine of getting into condition for the coming season and the army of young players will be striving to earn a place on a major league team for the first time.

The world's champion Giants have been ordered to report at San Antonio next Thursday for their opening practice session, but the Yankees, champions of the American League, will not get under way at New Orleans until next week. All of the Robins' batting practice has been ordered to report to Manager Wilbert Robinson at Clearwater, Fla., next Friday and the other players are expected to be on hand March 8.

Some of the major league clubs will make few or no changes in their line-ups for the coming campaign while others will be put through a thorough process of reorganization. The competitions for regular positions promise to be keen on several of the clubs when the next pennant races have begun many familiar veterans are likely to be missing and in their place will be ambitious young players. Among the teams that may have some important changes in their regular line-ups are the Indians, Cubs, Cardinals and Braves in the National League and the Indians, Tigers and Red Sox in the American League.

Fans Will Watch Boston Clubs.

Fans will watch with interest the attempts to raise the two Boston clubs out of the cellar positions in which they finished the last pennant races. The purchase of the Braves by a syndicate headed by Christy Mathewson, certain to restore the Boston National League club to the place it once held in the hearts of its fans, is true of the Red Sox under the leadership of the popular Frank Chance. The former has announced his intention of building up a team of young players and seems enthusiastic about the prospects of the Red Sox for the coming season.

The outlook for a repetition of their past triumphs by the Giants and Yankees is very bright, although it seems that both clubs will face strong opposition in their efforts to capture the pennant in their respective leagues for the third successive year. McGraw and Huggins have expressed confidence in the ability of their teams to come through again this year but each has also declared that the feat will be no easy task. Both clubs are expected to be somewhat stronger than last season, although few important changes are contemplated in the line-up of either team.

McGraw has expressed the opinion that his players will have to beat the Pirates and Reds next season if they are to repeat their victories of the last two seasons, while Huggins expects the strongest opposition to be the Browns, who finished the last campaign on the heels of the Yankees, and the Tigers under the leadership of the aggressive Ty Cobb.

Much of the interest in the Giants' spring training campaign will be centered in Jimmy O'Connell, the outfielder purchased from the San Francisco club of the Pacific Coast League for $70,000, and Jack Bentley, left-handed pitcher and heavy hitter, who was obtained from the Baltimore International League club for $65,000. The latter is at present a confirmed holdout and insists that he be given part of the purchase price, but baseball men expect that he will agree to come to terms before the spring training season is well under way. In addition to these two minor league stars there will also be a number of other newcomers driving for positions in the line-up of the world's championships, but from present indications none of them has a chance of earning a regular berth for the coming season.

The exception of a possible change in center field, the line-up of the Giants will in all probability be the same as last year. McGraw's chief tasks will lay in the selection of a regular center field and the strengthening of his pitching staff, which practically collapsed at the height of the 1922 pennant race. If O'Connell lives true to all expectations he will be given the regular assignment in center field. In any event he will be given a thorough trial in that position and it is very likely that the Giants will open their season with the expensive rookie in the regular line-up.

O'Connell Faces Hard Task.

Although O'Connell will have first call on the center field post, he will have to beat out several other strong contenders for the berth. Most important of these are the veteran Casey Stengel, whose work in center field toward the close of the last season was one of the features of the Giants' successful drive for the pennant; Bill Cunningham, who played many games last year in center field, and Ralph Shiner, who opened the last season in center field but was released after he had been injured in a game with the Phillies early in the season.

In the event that Bentley finally agrees to sign with the Giants, he is expected to add considerable strength to the pitching staff, as he is a twister of long experience. McGraw also looks for an improvement in the work of his veteran pitchers. Arthur Nehf, Jess Barnes, Hugh McQuillan and Jack Scott. Three of the young twisters, Bill Ryan, Claude Jonard and Virgil Baries, have come along rapidly during the last few seasons and McGraw expects much from them this year.

Unless any unforeseen occurrences cause a change in McGraw's plans, the Giants' infield will be the same as last year, with Kelly at first base, Frisch at second, Groh at third, Bancroft at shortstop, and Johnny Rawlings in the role of utility infielder. Gros was handicapped to a great extent by injuries last year, but the veteran third baseman is now in good condition and ought to reach the top of his form again. Frank Snyder and Earl Smith will probably handle the catching department again with Alex Gaston as their assistant. Young and Menzel, of course, will be in right and left field, respectively, as they were last year. McGraw believes that the Pirates enter the leadership of Bill McKechnie, who took charge of the club early last season, will give the Giants their hardest fight. The Reds, with a capable infield of youngsters, except the veteran Jake Daubert, and a strong staff of pitchers, appear also as strong contenders for the pennant.

With Babe Ruth anxious to regain his home run crown lost last year and with the pitching staff strengthened through the acquisition of Herb Pennock from the Red Sox, Huggins is confident that his team will repeat. The Yankees' leader expects Bush and Shawkey to be as well as last year, and he also looks for an improvement in the work of Mays and Jones, while Waite Hoyt is also expected to be one of the mainstays of the pitching staff.

The infield will probably be the same as last year, with the possibility that Ward may be shifted back to third base and Dugan moved over to second. The outfield is likely again to consist of Ruth, Bob Menzel and Witt, while Schang will be relied on to do most of the catching.

Tigers a Formidable Combination.

The Tigers, who were a formidable team last year, are likely to put up a stronger fight than they did in 1922. Cobb believes that he has added considerable power to the line-up by the acquisition of Derrill Pratt and Rip Collins from the Red Sox in exchange for Howard and Elmer. The Tigers, with their array of heavy hitters and promising young pitchers, seem certain to put up a hard fight for the 1923 pennant.

Unless the Browns are strengthened in several positions, they are not likely to be as formidable as last season. The pitching staff is badly in need of bolstering, and several of the veterans have seen their best years. At any rate, Lee Fohl faces a hard task if he expects to give the Yankees as strong a fight as he did last year.

Both the White Sox and the Athletics are expected to show quite an improvement this year. The Chicago club developed fast last season, and has a strong array of young pitchers. Kid Gleason expects to make a good showing this year, and has much confidence in Willie Kamm, the $100,000 third baseman purchased from the San Francisco club. The Athletics, who finished last season in seventh place after a long period in the cellar, seem due to rise even higher this year.

Seven of the sixteen major league clubs have decided to pitch their training camps in Florida this year. Texas, Alabama and Arizona will each have two clubs, while Louisiana, Georgia and California will have one.

The list of training camps follows: National League—New York—San Antonio, Texas. Cincinnati—Orlando, Fla. Pittsburgh—Hot Springs, Ark. St. Louis—Bradenton, Fla. Chicago—Catalina Island, Cal. Brooklyn—Clearwater, Fla. Philadelphia—Leesburg, Fla. Boston—St. Petersburg, Fla. American League—New York—New Orleans, La. St. Louis—Mobile, Ala. Detroit—Augusta, Ga. Philadelphia—Leesburg, Fla. Cleveland—Lakeland, Fla. Washington—Tampa, Fla. Philadelphia—Montgomery, Ala. Boston—Hot Springs, Ark.

BRITISH MOISTURE GREAT BEAUTIFIER

English Women Retain Good Looks and Fresh Complexions Because of Wet Weather, Experts Believe.

London, Feb. 28.—(By Mail).—"One of our Belgian visitors, M. Buy, burgomaster of Louvain, has stated to a representative of 'The London Daily Mail' that the standard of beauty among British women has not declined since he first visited us thirty years ago," says January Mortimer.

It is not generally recognized that the chief factor of beauty among British women is our often abused climate. The humidity of our atmosphere is the best possible preservative of the complexion, and the "brave northwester," which, as Charles Gillingham sang, makes "hard Englishmen," has no doubt an effect upon the health and vigor of our women. For beauty is to a considerable extent a sign of health.

"The women of Great Britain and Ireland excel in physical charm, because the standard of health is fairly high. The influence of the rainfall upon skin texture and complexion is plainly shown by the complexions of women living in the wettest quarters of the United Kingdom. The 'Scottish mist' is a skin emollient, and the same may be said for the 'Devonshire drizzle' and the 'drizzly' asphers of Cornwall."

In Ireland, also, where the rainfall is high, the women are famed for the delicate coloring of the cheeks and the brightness of the eyes.

"Our moist air prevents that early wrinkling of the skin of the face, seen among women of the southern races of Europe. The bloom of the Italian and Spanish belles wanes all too soon in the ardent and constant sunshine."

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

Damage estimated at about $35,000 was the result of a fire yesterday morning in Riverside, Albert County, which totally destroyed the large double store of Councillor W. J. Carraway. Of the large stock it was impossible to save more than a few bags of feed. Mr. Carraway's house across from the store and the public hall in the rear were saved only with difficulty. The insurance on the store and contents was $20,000.

It was officially announced in Ottawa yesterday that J. E. Dalmirap, formerly traffic vice-president of the Grand Trunk Railway, had been appointed traffic vice-president of the Canadian National Railways. He will also have charge of the sleeping, dining and parlor car services and the hotels of the system.

LAX MORALS CONDEMNED.

Archbishop of Seville in Pastoral Denounces Modern Customs.

Madrid, Feb. 28.—"The Archbishop of Seville, in a pastoral letter, calls attention to the 'serious immorality of modern customs,' and accuses those 'professors who do not hesitate to teach doctrines which corrupt the morals and glorify actions that the natural laws absolutely reprove.'"

"The relaxation of morals," the pastoral adds, "has reached an extreme limit, the excesses therefore being given as the cultivation of aesthetic beauty, realistic art and even physical culture."

The World War, says the archbishop instead of pointing the way to better morals, has whetted the appetites for grossness, alcoholism and drug-taking. He appeals to all in social or governing positions to safeguard youth from this menace.
