J. Starr Talt, appearing for Stone, again brought up the question of bail magistrate the question of bail between now and Friday.

When Stone pleaded guilty to a charge of having liquor in his possession unlawfully that night, the magistrate remarked on the services seed being a humorous encore. Wirs. Gunn, violinist, played a grave meanes to society," he said "Of all the times when a person should be sober it is when operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor. "It constitutes a grave meane to society," he said "Of all the times when a person drives a grave meane to society," he said "Of all the times when a person drives a grave meane to society," he said "Of all the times when a person drives a grave meane to society," he said "Of all the times when a person drives a grave meane to society," he said "Of all the times when a person drives a grave meane to society," he said "Of all the times when a person drives a person drives a person drive a grave meane to society, he said "Of all the times when a person drives a person drives a grave meane to society," he said "Of all the times when a person drives a grave meane to socie be sober it is when operating an automobile, but when a person drives a car while drunk he becomes a threat to the peace and safety of others."

The newspaper reports of Mr. Ross' condition, His Honor said, were encouraging, but he said he had been led to believe they were not justified. He understood Mr. Ross had both hips and polyis broken and to a man at his age pelvis broken and to a man at his age this was liable to prove fatal. The shock alone must have been very great, he added. He said he wanted to move slowly in this case in order to do jus-tice to all and for this reason had de-

Jesus called him from our home
A soldier for to be.
To serve Him in His army,
From care and sorrow free.
We miss his gentle footsteps.
His bright and loving face.
And we know when Jesus calls us
We'll meet him face to face.
