formal invitation to the Earl and his party to visit the G. W. V. A. of New Brunswick, after his tour of other Canadian centres and at the time of his fishing jaunt on the Metapaedia. It was intimated to the soldier-priest by the headquarters secretary that no doubt Earl Haig would avail himself of this opportunity if the invitation were publicly official. It is this public invitation Father Lockary is desirous of seeing forthcoming.

Father Lockary III.

As the Woodstock clergyman has been ill since his return from Rome, he is doing most of his arranging for Earl Haig's visit by correspondence. He is very anxious that New Brunsawick shall do the British soldier due houor, even though his trip this far be for fishing only. To introduce some welcoming function into the Ear!'s litherary he felt, was purely up to the G. W. V. A. and official circles of the province.

Says Soldiers Would Appreciate Honor Due to Chief

Rev. F. M. Lockary, president of the Great War Veterans' Association of New Brunswick, makes several suggestions concerning the proposed visit of Field-Marshal Earl Haig to this province in August when the eminent soldier will fish New Brunswick salmon. Fat'er Lockary referates what the told The Times-Star on his arrival from his Rome pligrimage a few days ago, that a many-sided effort might be made through official channels to have Saint John or some other prominent part of the province included in the Field-Marshal's itinerary.
