SYNOD COMMITTEES CHOSEN TODAY.

Report of Financial Committee Was Submitted.

Some Important Modifications in the Present System of Handling Diocesan Funds Recommended by Committee.

The third day's session of the C. of E. Synod opened shortly after ten with prayers read by the bishop. Among those present this morning was President Hannah, of King's College, who will address the synod this afternoon. Dr. Hannah arrived yesterday from E. I., where he has been attending the Nova Scotia synod.

At eight o'clock this morning service was held in Trinity church, at which Archbishop Forsyth was celebrant, assisted by Rev. W. E. Armstrong, Rev. W. J. Wilkinson and Rev. G. L. Freeman.

The business of the synod commenced as usual with roll call and the reading of the minutes of yesterday's meeting, which were approved. The list of the churches who were in arrears was read. It is moved by the Rev. Mr. McKel that the amount due the contingent fund be remitted upon payment of this year's assessment. In the parish of Lancaster. This was seconded by W. M. Jarvis. Similar motions were made in regard to Addington, Ludlow, Blackville, Trinity church, St. Stephen and Waterborough.

Canon Newnham gave notice that at the next meeting of the synod he will move that in line five of section 3 of canon XIV. the word "and" be struck out and the word "or" inserted in place thereof.

W. B. Wallace gave notice of motion, seconded by Mr. Allen, that section 9 of canon XXI. be amended by striking out the words "mission" between the words "to" and "diocese" in the last line.

Mr. Justice Hamilton gave notice of motion, seconded by A. C. Fairweather, that the sum of $50.00 be appropriated out of the special fund for that purpose for the Church School for Girls at Windsor, to be awarded as prizes to the students who shall attain the greatest success or proficiency in such subject or subjects as his lordship the bishop and the trustee from this synod may designate during the present academic year. Such prizes to be awarded by the bishop or his representative at the school closing.

The amendments to canon XXI. discussed yesterday were brought up this morning again. The last section is alone remained, and this morning Mr. Knowlton and Mr. Jarvis, the mover and seconder, asked that they be allowed to withdraw this clause. Both clergy and laymen voted to allow it to be struck out.

W. M. Jarvis asked that the order of business be suspended and asked that Rev. Edward Ryerson, retired missionary from Japan, be given a seat on the floor of the house. Mr. Ryerson was warmly welcomed.

The report of the nominating committee was received and the election of the committees of the synod took place as follows: Standing Committee—The Rt. Rev. the Lord Bishop, Very Rev. Dean Farrington, Ven. Archdeacon Forsyth, Ven. Archdeacon Neale, Rev. Canon Richardson, Rev. Canon Newnham, Rev. Canon Roberts, F. J. G. Knowlton, G. O. D. Oddy, A. C. Fairweather, G. Sidney Smith.

AMATEUR ATHLETES SUSPENDED. NEW YORK, July 6.—Drastic measures were taken against offending amateur athletes last night by the registration committee of the Amateur Athletic Union. Several leading local athletes, including Champion P. J. Walsh, of the New York A. C., were suspended. The action taken by the committee has been brought about, it is said, by the loose methods which have recently prevailed among the performers on the track and field in the Metropolitan district. The registration committee met at the St. Bartholomew's A. C. The cases of athletes who shifted from one club to another in their entries and who then failed to appear, was discussed. By the evidence of the entry blanks it was found that several instances of this violation of the rules could be charged against a number of the leading local athletes. It was decided to suspend these men for a period of thirty days.

PANIC STRICKEN PEOPLE FLEEING FROM THEODOSIA.

Mutineers Threaten to Bombard the City This Evening—Russian Admiralty Don't Know What to Do.

THEODOSIA, CRIMEA, July 6.—The inhabitants are leaving the town in panic. The first thing necessary is to make an example of the crew and restore discipline in the Black Sea fleet.

Admiral Virenius said there was no truth in the report from Vienna that four hundred Russian sailors had destroyed a cruiser and sought refuge on board a British steamer bound for Constantinople.

Whether the report of the sailing of the battleship be true or not, the crew took a remarkable step yesterday when with all the solemnity of a provisional government it issued a manifesto addressed to the powers, announcing that civil war had been begun against the existing regime in Russia, and pledging the inviolability of foreign shipping and foreign ports.

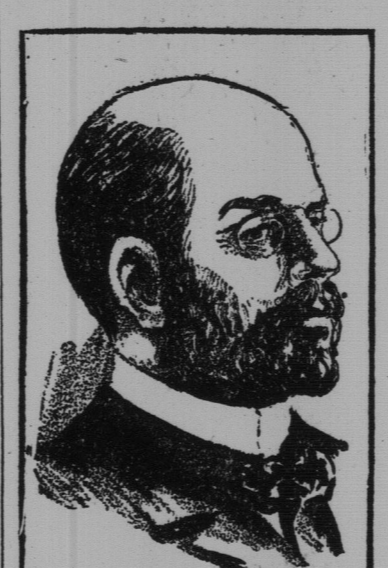

This action doubtless was taken to quiet the apprehensions of foreign powers and to leave no excuse for the sending of warships through the Dardanelles to effect the capture of the battleship, which until now Russia's Black Sea fleet has not dared to attempt. It is considered a shrewd move on the part of the mutineers, and stamps the commander of the crew as a leader far above the class of the ordinary sailor, and strengthens the opinion that he is not a member of the original crew, but one of the revolutionaries who went on board at Odessa.

The issuance of the manifesto lends a certain dignity to the mutiny and proves that the crew and their commander have no desire that the world should believe them to be mere lawless, but that they should be looked upon as men seriously raising the standard of revolution.

SUICIDE INQUEST THIS EVENING.

A jury has been empanelled and will hold an inquiry touching the death of the young Lansdowne House waitress, May Grass, this evening at 8.30 o'clock. They viewed the body in the hospital morgue at noon today, and shortly afterwards Coroner Roberts issued a burial permit.

The body will be taken on the five o'clock train to the station for the purpose of being taken to the home of the poor girl—for interment. Mr. Grass, who is broken down with grief, will accompany the body home, and had hoped to take with him his other daughter, Myrtle, but the coroner has forbidden her to go until after the inquest, as she will, of course, be the principal witness.

It is hoped, however, that the inquiry will be finished this evening, in which case Myrtle will follow on tomorrow in time for the funeral. She will be returning to the Lansdowne house in a few days.

The coroner's jury which is in charge of Marshall Coughlan, is composed of the following: G. K. Burton, C. Olive, D. Coburn, J. W. Lee, S. J. Warwick, J. S. Staton, C. S. Bustin.

TWO YEARS FOR WILLIAM HOLM.

His Trial Lasted Only Fifteen Minutes.

His Counsel Intimated That Tobin's Jury Put Premium on Perjury When They Acquitted Him.

The trial of William Holm for breaking and entering Wm. Webber's shop on Charlotte street, and stealing twenty-eight watches and a quantity of jewelry therefrom, lasted fifteen minutes this morning.

On being brought into court Judge McLeod read the indictment to Holm, who immediately pleaded guilty.

G. V. McInerney, K. C., said he would like to say a few words on Holm's behalf. Holm had, he said, made a full and frank confession of the occurrence and had done it without any promise of clemency. Before the watches were found by the police, the prisoner expressed to him (counsel) his wish to make a clean breast of the part he took in the robbery, telling him (McInerney) where the property was to be found.

Holm for the last eighteen months had led an exemplary life. It was true that when quite a boy he had been in trouble, but his life since had been such, that it was thought by all he had become a reputable citizen. Holm's real name was Petersen.

Speaking of the acquittal of Tobin, Mr. McInerney said: "Juries may continue to put a premium on perjury, but for my part, I for one will continue to believe in the old doctrine, that to make a clean breast of everything, is the best and only retribution open to a guilty person. For this reason I will ask your honor to take per justice with mercy and make the sentence as light as you conscientiously can."

Judge McLeod in passing sentence said, "I feel that punishment must be meted out, but will not deal with the prisoner as severely as I might, simply on account of his being a young man, and I have in view his reformation. In the interests of the public and justice, I could not let this case go by without some considerable punishment."

Many of the aldermen were present and a large number of prominent officials.

"They're going to name the baby 'Mary,' after her maternal grandmother."

"Gracious! that's terrible!"

"Terrible?"

"Certainly. The poor child will be 'Mamed' for life."

There comes from Missouri a story to the effect that a young woman committed suicide out there because she feared the man she was to marry was too good for her. She must have been talking to his mother.

IT MADE A DIFFERENCE.

(Oak Grove, Me., Banner.)

A story is being told of a Sidney young lady who found a package of love letters that had been written to her mother by her father before they were married. The daughter saw that she could have a little sport and read one of them to her mother, substituting her own name for that of her mother and that of a six mile young man for that of her father. The mother seemed utterly disgusted and forbade her daughter to have any more letters to her mother to read. The house became so still that one could almost hear the grass growing in the yard.

NEW FERRY BOAT LAUNCHED TODAY.

Not a Hitch in the Proceedings.

At 1.40 Mrs. White Christened The Ludlow Which Glided into the Water a Few Seconds Later.

The much looked for and long needed ferry boat is now afloat, so that the improved ferry service that has been promised so long is in a fair way to be a realization within the next few weeks or so. The new boat, the Ludlow, was launched this afternoon at twenty minutes to two o'clock and took the water as gracefully as a duck.

There was an enormous crowd present, the wharves on both sides of the yard where the vessel was built being lined with people many tier deep. On the railway embankment was another and equally as large a congregation of people, while on lumber piles and all about the yard were many groups of interested spectators.

A stand at the bow or stern of the steamer—if she has either, as both are alike—was draped in national flags. Upon a raised platform on this stand Mrs. White, wife of his worship, Mayor White, stood with Naval Architect McLean, and as the steamer started to move down the ways Mrs. White broke a bottle of wine on the vessel and christened her. The bottle was entwined with red, white and blue ribbon, and as the contents foamed over the iron work the other end of the steamer churned the waters of the harbor in which she is destined for many years to do service.

The Ludlow was gallantly decorated with bunting, and as she took the water cheer after cheer was given, and the whistle and that of the fleet of tug boats shrieked for several minutes a welcome to the new boat.

Many of the aldermen were present and a large number of prominent officials.

"They're going to name the baby 'Mary,' after her maternal grandmother."

"Gracious! that's terrible!"

"Terrible?"

"Certainly. The poor child will be 'Mamed' for life."
