NEW YORK, June 29 .- New York and yicinity, as well as this part of the country, was flooded by a downpour of rain during which in the course of a few hours, about half as much water fell as in the prolonged period of wet weather this month. SILVER JUBILEE

St, Bernard's Church

MONCTON, June 29.-Father Meaan, whose sacerdotal silver jubilee was celebrated yesterday with much religious ceremony, is today receiving congratulations on the 50th anniversary of his birth. A religious service was held in St. Bernard's this morning, and the secular demonstration took place this evening, when the various societies connected with the church and citizens generally formed in pro-cession at the west end of the town, marching through different streets to the church, where the procession pass-ed in review before the clergy, who then joined in carriages and proceeded to Victoria rink. The order of procession was as follows:

City Marshal Tingley, with two mounted aides.

Squad of Police.

C. M. B. A. headed by Citizens' Band.
Parishioners and Parishioners' Car. Artisans.

Arrived at the rink, complimentary addresses in French and English we read, the English address being as fel-

To the Reverend Henry Alexis Meahan, h A., Parish Priest of St. Bernard's:

Reverend and Dear Father-It is with ings of satisfaction and pleasure that w Reverence and congratulate you on single of satisfaction and pleasure that you on the completion of twenty-five years of service in the ministry of God. the completion of twenty-five years of service in the ministry of God. To all Catholics imbued with love for their religion and respect and reverence for their clergy such a celebration as this possesses a peculiar interest. The close and intimate relation which Christ has permitted to exist between Himself and the dispensers of His sacred mysteries cannot but create in man a deep regard for the high dignity conferred upon the chosen instruments of God's holy purgoses. To ourselves, however, the event is one of personal and local concern, for practically the whole history of our parish is interwoven with the story of your priestly career, and the success and prosperity which we at present enjoy are but the result of indefatigable zeal.

A cursory glance at the twenty years of your pastorate in Moneton will serve to give a very inadcquate idea of the work which hase been accomplished or the difficulties which have been overcome. It is natural for those who have advanced from a position of remote possibility to the stage of actual achievement to grow forgetful of the trials they have been obliged to undergo during the transition and to rest contented in the fruition of realized hopes. We cannot but reflecible, however, that to you as the guiding spirit in all our undertakings is due a deep debt of gratuide for the attainment of the position which we occupy today. You have, indeed, a tribute more elegant and more durable than words of ours in the property which has been acquired and the edifices which have been erected during your career in this city. They will ever remain myournests to the honorable ambition and disinterested zeal which have guided your cause.

disinterested zeal which have guided your cause.

Recognising, however, that the merely physical and local advancement of a religion possesses no intrinsic importance without the accompaniment of spiritual and inward graces, we dwell with especial happiness on the deep concern you have ever manifested in the promotion of the "sacred charities of private life," and in the instilling of moral and religious principles which lend strength and energy to the character of a people. To this do we attribute in great measure that the of perfect trust which has ever bound our people to their priest, and that spirit of harmonious co-operation which has ever existed among your congregation, and which alone has rendered possible the great achievements which have crowned the years of your priesthood.

But while we may be happy in this giorlous privilege which has been accorded you, the real joy of this occasion must be hidden in the receases of your one present. The consciousness of your long years of faithful service, of trials and sacrifices undergone.

in the receases of your own breast. The consciousness of your long years of faithful service, of trials and sservices undergone, of ceaseless striving towards the realization of high aspirations, can impart a satisfaction peculiar to yourself alone. No enconium of ours can be as sweet to you as the tribute of your own conscience. We may indeed, feel grateful that you have been the chosen instrument towards the spiritual and material betterment of the Catholics of Moncton.

The memory of our long years of united labor; the thought of the good which has been accomplished and of the uninterrupted prosperity which we at present enjoy affords us a happy presage for the future. We earnestly pray that your guiding hand may long be preserved to direct the good work which you have undertaken; that the success which has accompanied your efforts in the past may attend them in the future; and that your labors may be sweetened by the thought that your teaching and example are the means by which your people are, better means by which your people are being trawn still more closely together in the sonds of a common brotherhood. Signed on behalf of the congregation of St. Bernard's this twenty-ninth day of June, MONCTON, June 29.-The English address was read by Senator Mc Sweeney and the French address by Harry H. Melanson, at the conclusion of which Hugh F. Hamilton stepped to the front anad in a neat speech on behalf of the parishioners presented Father Meahan with a cheque for $1,-275, which was handed him by Master Edgar Lebianc on a silver salver. At the same time Miss Madeline Walker presented Father Meahan with a huge uquet of pure white flowers. Then Mayor Givan stepped to the front and read an address on behalf of the city council and citizens, after which Father Chapman of Woodstock read an address on behalf of the clergy of the diocese of St. John, accompany a handsome cheque.

Father Meahan replied in both lar guages in a most happy vein, referri tween all races and creeds in Monet and speaking of the duties of citizen ship and the teaching of his church in regard thereto. The proceedings ended with God Save thte King.
