MONOTON.

[Progress is for sale in Monoton at the Monoton Bookstore, at the Central Bookstore and by John Bookstore.]
Oct. 9.—The young ladies of St. George's Junior Guild are holding a rainbow tea and fancy sale in Victoria rink this week, their object being to raise funds for a new Sunday school house, as the present structure is in a state of positive disrepair. The managers and their friends have taken great pains in providing special attractions for each evening, any one of which is well worth double the price of admission. The Lilliputian concert last evening in which Mrs. George W. Daniel, Mrs. Thomas Evans, Miss Nellie Crossdale and Miss Annie Cooke and Messrs. James Watson, A. E. Wilkinson, and A. C. Stead took part, was a great success, the life sized heads and doll like bodies causing much amusement. The duster hemming contest in which Messrs. W. C. Foster, J. McD. Cooke, Brooks, Peters, A. C. Stead and A. E. Wilkinson, wrestled with the intricacies of the olive needle and thread called forth rounds of applause from the delighted spectators.

To night a number of young ladies will present a cavalry drill, while members of the sterner sex engage in a ball trimming contest, thus reversing the usual order of things.
The rink is very beautifully decorated by the skilful hands of members of the guild and their friends, the fancy work booth which is largely the work of Mrs. G. W. Daniel, the art booth under the direction of Mrs. George C. Pick and the crafts and abode booth designed and executed by Mr. A. C. Stead, being especially worthy of mention.
