work of the Rain.

For nearly three months Harding's body had remained beneath the ice of the river, but as a result of Sunday's heavy rain, the ice was broke up and the body released. It was discovered by James Davidson.

The remains were taken to the Orange Hall, and thence they will be buried on Wednesday afternoon. Service will be held in the Anglican church, Rev. Mr. Martin officiating.

body had remained beneath the fee of the river, but as a result of Sunday's heavy rain, the fee was broke up and the body released. It was discovered by James Davidson.

In Good Preservation.

The remains were easily recognised as those of the ni-fated Harding. Decomposition had not set in and a slight swelling over the whole of the body was the only thing out of the could be done to save him.

seems to me that we were a respectable minority.

C. J. on Friday last I heard the greater part of the speech of the surveyor general. If Mr. Hazen has other colleagues like Mr. Grimmer, he will meet the enemy at the gate. He had the facts and with him in written documents. Confronted his predecessors in office with their own records, overv their own signatures.

Mr. Tweedale and other accusers were confronted with such absolute contradictions that they were convicted and nailed to the pillory.

Large money would not pay me to be in the place of the former surveyor general, or the member for Victoria i during that merciless exposure.

L. J. Harrison—There is to much vacant land in our province suitable for agricultural purposes. Naturally, many of the young men and women drift into the cities. I am of the opinion that every available acre should be cultivated.

Parent—I am of the opinion that greater consideration should be given to the health and physical development of our boys and grils. Surely Mr. Vincent in sending out the not-
