PRESSURE IS CONTINUED

By Canadians Against The German Defences

Handful of the Maple Leaf Boys Stalk Forty Huns

By Stewart Lyon.

Canadian Press Correspondent With the Canadian Forces, Canadian Headquarters in France, July 11.—Determined pressure against the defences of the Germans in the vicinity of the City of Lens continues daily. Necessary it is of sort that must be exercised methodically. To send large bodies of assaulting troops into the maze of wrecks and ruins of mining works, which now constitutes "No Man's Land," might result in the carrying of a few hundred yards of shapeless ruins, but the price that would be exacted by the machine-guns would be far greater than the new ground won by a coup-de-main of that kind could possibly be worth.

A Chance for Scouters

The least costly mode of advance is gradually encroaching upon "No Man's Land" by patrols, which occupy wrecked houses here and there during the night, and after a sufficient number have been secured, to form a fairly continuous advanced line. This style of preparatory fighting brings into action the scouting faculties of a large proportion of the line at present. An incident which occurred the other night illustrates their methods.

A party of 10 men, with a lieutenant in command, went out to examine an isolated row of miners' houses in front of their own line. The enemy was so near that no light was possible, save that of the moon, emerging at times from behind heavy clouds. Under these conditions the party went to work in pairs, groping their way through the unfamiliar ruins and seeking for signs of occupation.

The lieutenant and two of his men were in one of the houses when sounds outside warned them of the coming of a considerable body of Germans. Taking shelter where the shadows were deepest, these three Canadians lay hidden while more than 40 of the enemy passed through the house in which they lay. The Germans were apparently on the way for the coming of a raiding party, for they went out in the direction of the Canadian front.

Stalked the Boches

Collecting his little party, the lieutenant sent a man back to warn their comrades in the remainder trench. Then he and the remainder of the scouting party, the enemy, stalking them so successfully that they got within bombing distance undiscovered. The crash of bombs falling among them was the first intimation to the Germans that they had been seen. They ran pell-mell, and some of them were badly hurt, judging from the outcry. Fighting of that sort appeals strongly to the young fellows in Canada, whose life at home is often perilous and full of adventure.

Another exploration party in the area to the south of the River Somme came in last night from "No Man's Land" and reported the destruction of a trench mortar which the enemy had been using during the hours of darkness with serious results to the men in our front line.

SINN FEINER WINS SEAT

Nationalist Proved Winner in East Clare

New Member Just Out Of Prison For Part In Uprising

London, July 12.—Professor Edward De Valera, of Dublin University, a Sinn Feiner, has been elected to Parliament from East Clare. He received 5,010 votes against 2,035 for Patrick Lynch, the Nationalist candidate.

De Valera is one of the Sinn Feiners arrested at the time of the revolution last year and recently released from prison.

Scenes of wild excitement followed the announcement of the result of the election. Prof. De Valera, the successful candidate, addressed the crowd and said it could no longer be alleged that the Irish people did not want independence. The new member headed a crowd of Sinn Feiners who marched through the town, carrying republican flags.

A Dublin despatch says: "It is believed here that the result of the East Clare election will interfere with the arrangements for the assembling of the Irish convention, as it is considered to represent a feeling of lack of confidence in the good faith of the Coalition Government and a belief that the Irish party went too far in its consideration of the Government's war difficulties and received inadequate recognition of the party's reasonable attitude. The outcome, however, has not been taken to mean any permanent estrangement of the parties."

De Valera will hold the seat in the House of Commons made vacant by the death in action of Major William Redmond, brother of John Redmond, and who was Nationalist M.P. for East Clare since 1892.

De Valera, who took part in the memorable Easter week uprising in Dublin, was sentenced to death, but this was commuted to life imprisonment. He was released recently when all those arrested for the Irish revolt were freed in the expectation of creating a better feeling in Ireland for the coming National convention.

De Valera was nominated for the bye-election previous to his release, and a Dublin special to the Times said that a number of Catholic priests attended the convention. The County Clare is on the Atlantic coast, separated from Limerick, to the south, by the River Shannon.

In May, McGuinness, Sinn Feiner, won the bye-election in South Longford, defeating a Nationalist by 37, and in February County Plunkett, Sinn Feiner, won in North Roscommon by 1,300 over the Nationalist.

TEACHERS WHO EXPECT MARRIAGE

Are Barred By Windsor School Trustees

Windsor, July 12.—Women teachers employed by Windsor schools must make up their minds to become "old maids," for the Boarder City's school trustees have decided against re-employing teachers who contemplate marriage.

This decision was made last night, when Miss McKinn, who, it was stated, is shortly to be married to a soldier serving in a Canadian battalion, and Miss Irvine, one of the most successful teachers at Assumption School, applied for positions on the teaching staff.

A majority of the board, however, refused to consider the applications, a motion by Trustee Allworth, to allow the applicants to remain on the staff after marriage receiving no secondaries.

Resign RUSSIANS FIGHTING FOR PEACE

By Offensive Alone May Persuade Allies and Compel foe To Terms

AIM MISUNDERSTOOD

London, July 13.—(New York World cable)—A Petrograd dispatch to The Daily News says the Russian bitterly resent the misunderstanding with which their offensive is cloaked in certain circles in the west. It is being made under circumstances of extraordinary difficulty, the message continued. There are daily reports of hunger riots in different parts of the country and of internal struggle of the parties, and even of huge sections of the population, which threaten disaster to Russia. The dispatch says the offensive is being made not because Russia hopes to desire the crushing of Germany; it is made because she believes that by an offensive she alone can persuade the allies and compel the Germans to agree to a general peace of honorable terms. The willful mis-understanding at a private meeting in the west, she said, is an immediate reflection on her by giving the enemies of the offensive ground for telling the Russians they are fighting in vain.

Next Step, Strij

Petrograd, July 13.—Now that Halicz is in Russian possession, the eyes of General Korniloff's cavalry conscripts are turned toward the railway centre of Strij, a town of 30,000 inhabitants, a junction of the line from Lemberg to Lawoczne and of a branch line to Chodorow. Military writers describing the advance, say its chief strength is on the north and northeast, but weaker on the south. There is widespread expectation of an important counter-attack on the northern front.

Financial Problems

Petrograd, July 12.—The serious financial problems confronting the Russian Government were referred to in a report read at a private meeting of the duma yesterday by Deputy Bubnikoff, who said the nation's gold reserve of 1,711,000,000 rubles covered 13.5 per cent of the paper money of the state now in circulation. The debt, which at the end of 1913 was $800,000,000 rubles at the beginning of 1917, was $3,600,000,000. If the paper money issued during the war were added, he said, the total debt was brought up to about 45,000,000,000 rubles.

Another unfavorable feature of the general situation is a decrease of 30 per cent in the production of coal in southern Russia. M. Boblikoff also referred to the circumstance that 49 per cent of the country's locomotives and cars are in the shops awaiting repairs.

The financial problems, the deputy said, in his opinion could not be solved by the imposition of a fresh taxation which would remove the stimulus for productive labor.
