

WELCOME TO YORK . . .

To help you get the most out of life at York, a special Orientation Program has been planned for you. It will give you a chance to become familiar with the campus and your academic program, as well as meet some new friends.

As you will see from this calendar, Orientation consists of a wide range of special events, tours, information sessions, dances, concerts, outings, and sporting events. These activities will help you get better acquainted with York and the wide variety of educational, social, and recreational opportunities that are available to you.

The Scott Library: Getting Acquainted

Of the five libraries at York University, the Scott Library, located in the centre of the York campus, is the largest. It houses collections in the Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences.

Tours: Tours of the Scott Library have been designed to help new students become familiar with this large research facility. Library staff will introduce students to the library's services and collections and will give a demonstration of Yorkline, the computerized library catalogue.

Tours will be given from: Monday, September 10 - Friday, September 28
at 11am/2pm/6:15pm

Tours will leave from the main lobby of the Scott Library and will last from 30-40 minutes. Students should sign up in advance since group size is limited to 15. Sign-up sheets will be located at the Reference Desk in the Scott Library.
