

shall at their first meeting after the Annual meeting elect two co-operative members, which election shall complete the organization of the Council, provided always that before the selection of the two co-operative members, the ex-officio and previously elected members shall hold and exercise the power and authority of a complete Council.

(2). The Council shall have the general direction and management of the affairs of the Society, and the control of all property belonging to the same.

(3). The Council shall meet at least once a month to conduct the business of the Society, and any two members thereof, may by letter to the Secretary, require a special meeting to be called, two days' notice of which must be given to each member of the Council.

(4). At any meeting of the Council, five members thereof shall constitute a quorum.

(5). The Council shall appoint standing committees to promote the study of the different branches of science, and shall have power to appoint such other committees as they may deem desirable in the interest of the Society, and may publish bulletins in the name of the Society.

(6). The Council shall have power to make by-laws for the government of the officers and members, or of any particular section or department of the Society, so that such by-laws be not inconsistent with this constitution.

(7). The Council shall draw up a yearly report upon the state of the Society, in which they shall give an abstract of all the proceedings and of the receipts and expenses of the past year; and such report shall be read at the Annual meeting.

ARTICLE XIII.

LADIES' AUXILIARY ASSOCIATION.

(1). The Associate members of the Society, shall form an Auxiliary Association to be called the "Ladies' Auxiliary Asso-