PROVISIONS.

In the market on all lines of provisions there is a tendency for high prices, due to the firm tone in live hogs. It is interesting to note that since Dec. 31 there has been an advance of 3c. per lb in the Chicago live hog market. On Dec. 31, $6.40 was quoted, while last week the market tops at $9.40. Some time ago the American influence was not so strongly felt as the Canadian packer imported dressed hogs. The market has been dull in pork products, owing to short stocks on all lines, but higher prices are anticipated. During the past week there has been an advance of 4c on oils and shortening. The market in pure lard has been quiet at last week's figures.

FLOUR, CEREALS AND MILLFEED.

Although flour prices were reduced last week 30c per barrel on spring wheat grades, and 20c per barrel on winter grades, in sympathy with the continued weakness in the wheat situation, business showed little improvement. Export demand is very slow, only a few comparatively small orders being reported. Domestic buyers are well filled for tario mills is beginning to fall off.

small lots to fill actual wants, and buyers are holding off until the market becomes steadier. Weekend advices reported a stronger tendency in Chicago and Winnipeg, and an improvement in export demand; and advices from other sources were in favor of the Canadian situation, so that a better feeling in the flour market is anticipated. Spring wheat mills continue slack, while activity with Onthe time being, the only business passing being for

There was no actual changes to note in the market for millfeed, although the feeling was weaker in sympathy with the general market tendency. There continues to be a good, steady demand for all lines; and the seasonable increase in consumption should stimulate the market. Prices hold steady principally owing to the decrease in production, and unless there are further reductions in the wheat and flour market, a continuance of present prices, for a time, is anticipated. There was a weaker feeling in the market for rolled oats during the week, but no actual change in prices occurred. The demand is fair for the season, although export trade is greatly hampered through the difficulty in securing ocean freight room. Other cereals are steady and in fair demand. REFINED SUGAR AGAIN ADVANCED.

Prices of refined sugar were again advanced last week by Canadian refiners, in sympathy with the continued strength in the raw material market. Prices were marked up another 10c per 100 lbs., making a total advance of 40c per 100 lbs. in the past month. Extra granulated is now selling at $7.00 per 100 lbs. in bags, and all sugars on the basis of 10c per 100 lbs. higher than the previous week's quotations. New York advices states that the European and domestic demand for granulated shows no signs of abatement, and raw sugar values are correspondingly firm.
