WEEKLY MAIL ORDER BARGAINS

As a bargain event this week's offering should create wondrous interest. A hurried glance will quickly prove how big a saving is within your reach if you will but use the opportunity. No one can afford to let such a chance go by. It is undoubtedly a bargain sale in the strictest sense. Order at our risk, because the EATON guarantee protects you: "GOODS SATISFACTORY TO YOU OR MONEY REFUNDED, INCLUDING SHIPPING CHARGES. NO EXCEPTIONS."

A Spring Time Wish.

(By Isabel Ecclestone Mackay.)

O, to be a robin
In the Spring!
When the fleeting days of April
Are a-wing,
And the air is sweet with knowing
Where the hidden buds are growing,
And the merry winds are going
Wandering!

O, to be a robin
With a nest
Built upon the budding branches—
East or West!
Just to swing and sway and dangle
Far from earth and all its tangle,
Joining in the gay bird-jangle
With a zest!

O, to be a robin—
Just to sing!
Not to have the pain of hating
Anything—
Just to race the foremost swallow
Over hill and over hollow—
And the joy of life to follow
Through the Spring!

Funnies.

AN ACT OF KINDNESS.

Marjorie, aged five, had been given some chocolates of various sizes. Picking up a little one, she said: "This is a baby chocolate"; and of a large one: "This is a mama chocolate." She then swallowed the little one, and lifting the larger chocolate to her mouth to eat that also, she said: "Don't cry, baby, your mama is a-comin'!"—Boston Transcript.

Inspector—Now, children, what do we mean when we say "on an average"?
Johnny Tuckham—Please, sir, average is a thing that a hen lays eggs on.
