After twelve years of devoted service as superintendent and assistant superintendent, respectively, of the Evanston Hospital, Miss Annie L. Locke and Miss Edith Bird resigned their positions on September 1st and left immediately for their future home in Gananoque, Ont. Their departure is greatly regretted. Both were efficient nurses and competent managers of an institution; and they were moral forces in the community, where their influence was silently at work in many different ways.

Great improvements are being made on the College of the Sisters of Bethany, Topeka. The chief change has been the placing of an immense stone stairway and porch and of a concrete pavement in front, at a cost of several thousand dollars, secured by the principal, Miss Hambleton, a granddaughter of Bishop Clarkson.
