 Dr. Cassell's Tablets should be given to all children who are in any way delicate, fretful, or of weakly build. The results will be improved assimilation, a well-nourished frame, and bright, happy child health. There is no difficulty in getting children to take Dr. Cassell's Tablets. Full directions and dosage are given with each packet.
 Dr. Chas. Botwood, D.Sc., Ph.D., &c., an English Scientist, says:—"As a safe and reliable remedy for loss of flesh and vigour, nerve affections, and bodily weakness, Dr. Cassell's Tablets appear to be unique. I have no hesitation in recommending them for young or old."

NEWS FROM OVERSEAS
 Items of More or Less Interest From Great Britain
 The raven mascot at Cardiff barracks was in a dejected mood one Saturday recently in consequence of the clipping of one of his wings by the regimental barber. This punishment followed on his escape and recapture the previous day. The bird, which was a gift of the late commander of the regiment, who fell at Mons, had for years enjoyed all the discipline of barracks life, and although his accustomed cry of "Halt" was not always uttered at the most opportune moments, it unfailingly received recognition from somebody or other. He suddenly seemed to grow tired of military life and flew off. His departure occasioned great consternation and reconnoitering parties were sent out late at night to round him up. The mascot was discovered on a window-sill a mile away, his shrill cry of "Halt" having aroused the neighborhood, and somebody telephoned the sergeant as to his whereabouts. He was promptly placed in a sack and conveyed back home and his clipped wings are a sufficient guarantee against truancy for the future.

CHILDREN STARVING WHILE AT SCHOOL

Condition of Belgian Kiddies such that School Hours Have Been Shortened.

London, Sept. 9.—The want of food in Antwerp is so great that the children can no longer stand the strain of a full day in school and class hours have been reduced on account of the pupils' debility.
 The significance of this can hardly be appreciated where people are receiving plenty to eat and prosperity is prevalent. It is the state of the children the condition of their parents can only be imagined.
 The Empire has promised to support these people, to guard their interests and care for them and their children in their helpless state, but this report from Antwerp is one which should set Britons and Canadians to thinking. To Canada, Belgium must look for most of her aid, for there are the life-saving fields of wheat that make the flour which is the one salvation of these people.
 The Belgian Relief Committee has its branch at 59 St. Peter Street, Montreal, and also sub branches and local committees throughout the Dominion. These branches are exerting every effort to give these Belgian children—starving in their seats in school—the bare food that is justly theirs. The task is a big one and needs the co-operation of the father and mother of every Canadian school child. Two dollars and a half will save two of these children and their parents from starvation for a month. Why not do it now?

 Mrs. James Dargie, after a lingering illness, passed peacefully away at her home here on Monday, Sept. 4th, at 10.15 a.m. The deceased underwent a serious operation about one year ago and for a few months seemed to grow better and stronger, but as time went along the old ailment seemed to return and gradually grew worse, until about five weeks ago, she was taken to her bed, from which she never recovered and the end came. The deceased had many friends, having spent her whole life here. The funeral took place on Thursday to the Methodist cemetery here, where a large concourse of friends and relatives gathered to pay their last respects to the departed one. The flowers and wreaths were many and costly. She leaves behind her to mourn and a loss, a husband and two sons and all the sympathy of the whole community in the sad loss they have sustained.
