DRY FEEDING SYSTEM.

Increasing in Favor Among Breeders of Poultry.

The dry feeding system is meeting with increasing favor. Breeders who have tried one season of it claim that the egg production is increased and they have more uniform growth with the young stock, says Wallace's Farmer. The feed boxes are kept filled with a variety of grains, the grit box is full, and also a box of charcoal. From these the fowls take their choice, balancing their own rations as they do in the summer time on free range.

It has not been very long since the farmer was censured for letting his poultry have the range of the feed yards, where was always a supply of corn, and of the barn, with its wheat and oat bin. It was a source of wonder to the town breeder that under such conditions the farmer's flock laid an egg, yet they continued to pay the grocer. Where there is a variety of grains it is not very different from the dry feed system if chickens are supplied with pure water, housed warmly in dry quarters and really have access to the feed bins. If they are supplied with grit and charcoal they will doubtless lay as well as the fancier's fowls on dry feed and free range.

The Useful Orpington.

The Orpington, the youngest aspirant for fame in the poultry world in England, is a composite breed that has been brought by careful crossing of several varieties of fowls with the object of producing a breed that would combine first class laying and table qualities, writes T. B. Hutton in Western Poultry Journal.

The type is deep, short, broad and cobby in body and short on leg; tail rather short and compact; the back should be a nice U shaped curve; carriage bold and upright.

The Buff Orpingtons of the correct type are equal to the Dorking in amount and quality of flesh and in some respects are superior. They lay on flesh and mature very easily and attain a greater weight.

My own experience after several years' trying has been that the Buffs have proved themselves to be the most useful breed I have met with. They begin to lay in the early winter months and provide a constant supply of eggs throughout the winter.

Curing the Gapes.

I keep wheat soaking in a small bottle of turpentine. If a chick wheezes, snuffles and rattles as though it had a cold, this is the forerunner of gapes, says an Illinois breeder in American Agriculturist. When gapes are unusually violent and fatal a chick may begin gaping without showing these. In such cases the chick is nearly always gone. Carbolic acid will help him if anything will.

Four a little refined carbolic acid in a spoon, hold it over a lamp, and dense white fumes will soon arise. Hold the chick's head in these, drawing him away for a second or two to let him catch his breath. Don't let him get his bill in the acid. If you look at the acid in the spoon before you pour it back in the bottle you can often see the tiny red worms that the fumes made the chick cough up. Five cents' worth of acid will doctor dozens of chicks. If the chick is only coughing, two or three grains of the wheat or a tiny piece of asafetida may cure him. If he is still wheezing the next day repeat the dose. I never failed to kill a chick that I gave both carbolic acid and turpentine in one day.

Chickens and Bacteria.

Some German experiments are reported in which chicks were hatched out and fed in such a way and under such conditions as to exclude all bacteria, says American Poultry Journal. The chicks ate well and regularly and apparently digested their food normally. Nevertheless they did not gain in weight and died after about twenty days. Upon examination the droppings were found free from bacteria. Other chicks fed normally gained about three times their original weight during the same period. Part of the chicks used in the test were inoculated with intestinal bacteria from normal chicks, after which they soon became strong and gained in weight.

In the Squab Loft.

It cannot too often be said that unwanted pigeons in a loft can do more harm to the workers than can be estimated in a few words, says the Feather. Never allow unwanted or non-working pigeons to stay in the squab loft with the active producers. If you intend keeping any of the young squabs you grow for breeders remove them into a separate loft as soon as they are weaned and able to care for themselves.

When to Build a Henhouse.

Poultry houses should never be built so late in the season that time will not permit them to be thoroughly dried before the winter season sets in.

Why Is This So?

A father of four boys has discovered that different sounds travel with different velocity.

A call to dinner, he says, will carry over a ten acre field in a minute and a half, while a summons to return to work takes from five to eight minutes. —Chums.

A PAIN ACROSS THE STOMACH

Can Always be Relieved by a Few Doses of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

"I could not take the simplest food without a pain across my stomach." That was the miserable condition Marie Ann Bujold, of Maria Cap, Bonaventure County, Que., was in. Thousands of Canadians could sympathize with her. For they know just how miserable she was. They are that way themselves. But listen to the words of Miss Bujold's experience:

"I finally consulted the doctors, but they did me no good. Then an advertisement led me to try Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. One box completely cured me."

No one can appreciate the amount of condensed happiness contained in a box of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets till they have suffered as Marie Ann Bujold did, and found the relief that came to her. That relief can always be found in Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

THE PROPER TREATMENT FOR A SPRAINED ANKLE.

As a rule a man will feel well satisfied if he can hobble around on crutches two or three weeks after spraining his ankle, and it is usually two or three months before he has fully recovered. This is an unnecessary loss of time, for in many cases in which Chamberlain's Pain Balm has been promptly and freely applied, a complete cure has been effected in less than one week's time, and in some cases within three days. For sale by all druggists.
