FRAUD IN ENGLAND.

Britain has set a good example in the punishment meted out to the corrupt officials of West Ham, England. On being convicted of receiving bribes and conniving at various frauds, five of the six managers of West Ham work-house, along with four lesser officials, have all been disfranchised for seven years and sent to prison, some for terms of two years with hard labor, others for terms of two years, and shorter periods according to degree of guilt. Some of the offenders are also to be forever disqualified from holding any public office.

THE HAYWOOD TRIAL.

The jury having been completed, the trial of William D. Haywood, secretary of the Western Federation of Miners, for the murder of Ex-Governor Frank Steunenberg, began last week at Boise, Idaho. The jury contains no member of a trades-union, and the whole twelve are political opponents of the accused. The objections of defendant's counsel to several of the jurors were overruled by the presiding judge.

As President Roosevelt has classed Haywood and the other members of the Executive of the Western Federation as "undesirable citizens," and as Governor Gooding of Idaho publicly declared several months ago that the accused men should never leave Idaho alive, the chances are that, no matter what the evidence may be, the present trial will end in a conviction followed by a speedy execution and an attempt to break up the Federation, that has so long been an eyecore to the Mine Owners Association of the West.

Alfred Horsley, alias Harry Orchard, who in 1896 deserted his wife and child in Ontario and eloped with a married woman with whom he had boarded, afterwards leaving her to marry a third, is the prosecution's chief witness. Horsley, who was caught almost red-handed, admits that he himself killed Steunenberg and also committed some twenty other murders; but, at the same time, he declares that all the crimes were instigated by Haywood and other officials of the Western Federation. Without the least sign of emotion he told one of the most revolting tales of crime that have ever been revealed in an American court, horrifying and disgusting those who listened.

The character of the chief witness being such, his evidence will be of no value except it is corroborated by other and more reliable witnesses. This the prosecution claims will be done. Serious havoc, however, has already been made with Horsley's evidence during cross examination. The defending lawyers, taking up Horsley's admission in his direct evidence that he had once been treacherous to his alleged co-conspirators, developed that he long ago entered the employ of D. C. Scott, one of the mine owners, and had been paid by K. C. Sterling, a detective in the employ of the Mine Owners' Association; also that while other members of the Federation were being daily arrested or interfered with by the militia during strikes, Horsley was never molested by the soldiery, having been guaranteed immunity by Scott. It also appears that shortly after he called out the troops to suppress the strike at Cœur d'Alene, Steunenberg thought it best to leave that vicinity for a time and sold out his interest in the Hercules Mine, the purchasers of which subsequently became millionaires. Max Malich of Denver declares that Horsley told him that he would kill Steunenberg because he prevented him from becoming a millionaire. If Malich's story be true, Horsley evidently demanded from Steunenberg a share of the Hercules mine in return for his work as a spy in the labor camp and upon being refused determined to kill Steunenberg in revenge. The case is attracting wide

Buy Hair at Auction?

At any rate, you seem to be getting rid of it on auction-sale principles: "going, going, gone!" Stop the auction with Ayer's Hair Vigor. It certainly checks falling hair; no mistake about this. It acts as a regular medicine; makes the scalp healthy. Then you must have healthy hair, for it's nature's way.

spread attention, not only in Canada in the Western part of which country the Federation has many members, but as far away as St. Petersburg where the Novoe Vremya, the chief organ of the infamous Russian government, hailed with delight Roosevelt's classification of labor leaders as undesirable citizens, the Russian authorities instantly recognizing in that frank declaration of the president a hearty endorsement of their own well-known methods of dealing with those who agitate for political and economic changes.

Wedding Bells.

HAMBLY-TROY.

The marriage of Mr. William H. Hambley and Miss Kate Lingley Troy was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents on Saturday night at nine o'clock, only members of the immediate families being present. Rev. Mr. McArthur performed the ceremony.

Mr. Hambley is a son of Col. and Mrs. P. C. Hambley of Belleville, Ont., and is now manager of the Northern Bank at Sedley. He was formerly of the Bank of Montreal staff of Chatham.

Miss Troy was one of Newcastle's most popular young ladies and will be much missed in social circles.

NORMANDEAU-POIRIER.

A very quiet wedding took place at 7:30 o'clock p. m. of the 3rd of this month in the R. C. church of Rogersville, the contracting parties being Mr. Louis Normandeau of Cananea, Mexico, and Miss Alma Poirier, daughter of the popular Hotel keeper of Rogersville. The bride was charming in a beautiful dress of white silk, imported from Mexico, and a picture hat to match. The happy couple left on the marriage express for a short tour to Halifax, N. S. where they spent a week and on their return Saturday night they were welcomed by many friends and a very enjoyable evening was spent at the residence of the bride's parent's, Central Hotel. The bride and groom received many rich and useful presents. Among the invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Buckley, Mr. and Mrs. I. McCully in the presence of the near relatives and friends of bride and groom. After the ceremony the guests sat down to a most sumptuous supper. Mr. and Mrs. Coughlan have the best wishes of a large circle of friends for a long and happy life.

DON'T MISS IT.

The appearance of James H. Huntley in "Rip Van Winkle" at the Opera House to-night promises to be a genuine dramatic feast. For years Mr. Huntley has enjoyed a reputation second to none in the title role. He has given years of careful study to Irving's classic idyl and the result is one of the greatest characterizations of the present day. The management have surrounded Mr. Huntley with a competent and capable cast of players including Miss Sadie Hilton, who will be in the role of "Gretchen." One of the greatest mementos which the late Jos. Jefferson left was a personal letter addressed to Mr. Huntley commending in the highest praise his portrayal of the title role. This letter Mr. Huntley values very much as it virtually places the mantle of the dean of the American stage upon his shoulders.

THE DRIVES.

All the drives are in on the South West Miramichi. D. & J. Ritchie's Little South West drive came in on Friday, and that on the Seveglie on Saturday. ## OBITUARY

MRS. MARGARET FORSYTHE.
 Whitneyville, June 10.—On the 4th ult., at the home of her son, Peter A. Forsythe, Margaret Forsythe, relict of the late James Forsythe, entered peacefully into rest in the 87th year of her age. Although in failing health for the past two years she was confined to her bed for only nineteen days. She was born in Scotland, near Glasgow and at the age of thirteen came to this country with her parents and other members of the family, where she has ever since remained. She was well and favorably known and was kind and hospitable to all who entered her home. She united with the Presbyterian church over half a century ago, and was ever a true and consistent member. She was a great Bible student and was always present in the house of the Lord on Sabbath until failing health prevented her doing so. In her early years she was known to walk seven miles to Newcastle every Sunday to divine service before there was a church in the place. The ministers of the gospel were especially welcome guests to her home where she was always anxious to have the word read and prayer offered. She leaves to mourn her loss three daughters: Mrs. Geo. Peabody, Seville; Mrs. G. T. Howe, Strathadam; Isabella, at home; and two sons, John and Peter. Also one brother, Mr. Peter Russell, and one sister Mrs. David Whitney both of this place. Fifteen grandchildren and five great grand children besides other relatives also survive. The funeral service was conducted both at the house and grave by the Rev. G. S. Mitchell, pastor, assisted by Rev. I. N. Thorne, Baptist. The 11. chapter of I Peter was read and the 61st Paraphrase sung. This chapter and Paraphrase was selected by the lady years before her decease to be used at her funeral service. Interment was in the Presbyterian cemetery at this place.

In 1877 he married Bridget Keenan and went West in 1880. He was prominent in many engineering undertakings in his adopted state. He is survived by his wife and two sons, James and Willie. His mother, James and Andrew, his brothers, and Mrs. Mary McMahon, a sister, all of Chatham, survive him. Mr. Hoy's death was due to pneumonia.
