Ottawa, Dec. 12 .- (Special) - In the es

imates for 1908-9, presented to Parlia ment last evening, the subsidy for the Australian steamship line from Vancouver to Australia has been dropped. It ver to Australia has been dropped. It amounted to $180,509. This subsidy ex-pires in August next, and evidently it is not to be renewed. Although the service is not what it should be, still that is not the real reason for the discontinu-ance of the subsidy. As a matter of fact, Australia's treatment of Canada in regard to trade matters is not such as to encourage this country in providn regard to trade matters is not execu-se to encourage this country in provid-ing trade facilities for the Common-vealth when the latter continues to clace tariff obstacles in the way instead of meeting the Dominion Government's repeated offers of a preference. JURY DISAGREED

In the Frawley Murder Case at Rochester.

Rochester, Dec. 12.—(Special.)—The ury in the murder case of Mrs. Frawley-Osborne disagreed. The case has been vatched with a great deal of interest on both sides of the international border. Mrs. Frawley-Osborne, a former resident of Hamilton, Canada, where she married of Hamilton, Caneda, where she married Frawley, was accused of the murder of Fred. Kistenmaker, with whom she had lived. The police advanced the theory that she shot Kistenmaker to get rid of him for a seventeen-year-old lad named Clark. During the trial the defence tried to fusten the crime upon Clark. There were many sensational features in the trial, including the hysterical outbreaks of the accused and her violent protests that she loved Kistenmaker too well to do min any harm.

BELLEVILLE WOMAN FOUND HER AFFINITY IN SOUTH DAKOTA

Strange Story Told In Chicago Divorce Court Mr. Marion Asks Help of the About Canadian Couple.

Chicago, Dec. 12.-How it is possible ! for a man to sue for a divorce from a woman who is now married to another man, was exemplified in Judge Barnes' court to-day. The case was a shining specimen of interstate divorce code con-

The complainant was Harry P. Whitely, manager of the credit department of a bank and living at 1958 Kenmore avenue. About ten years ago, according to his testimony, his wife, Agnes P. Whitely, deserted him. The affinity germ had not been discovered at that time, but, according to present-day diagnosis, this capricious microbe explains

Seven years ago Mrs. Whitely obtained Seven years ago Mrs. Whitely obtained a divorce from her husband in South Dakota, the charge being non-support, and then married her affinity. Mr. Whitely declared to-day that he never received notification of the suit, and that he was not aware that he had been divorced until last winter. He picked out a dozen counties in South Dakota adjoining the home of his wife's parents, and began to make inquiries of the court clerks by mail. His second letter brought the information.

mail. His second letter brought the information.

When Mr. Whitely was placed on the witness stand Judge Barnes learned that during their life together the couple had not established a residence in Illinois. He warned the complainant that a divorce granted by him might not be considered binding in the courts of other States, and then heard the case.

"We were married in Belleville, Ont., in May, 1892," said Mr. Whitely, "In the spring of 1898 my wife went to visit her parents in South Dakota. There she met some one whom she preferred to live with more than me."

"How do you know that?" asked Judge Barnes.

"She herself told me of her infatua-tion. This is the way it happened. Af-ter she had been with her people several months I asked her to come home. She was very reluctant, but I sent her the necessary money and finally she started. When she reached Chicago she wrote me that she would come no farther and that she was ill. I came here to meet her, and found her in bad health and very de-spondent. When she was strong enough, however, she consented to start back to Canada with me.

"When we are on the train, about forty or fifty miles out of Chicago, she asked me:

"Did you ever meet any woman whom you would rather have for your wife than myself."

"I said 'No,' and asked her what had put such an idea in her mind. She was silent. I asked:

"Is it because you have found some one whom you prefer to me!' Then she told me that was the truth.

"Well, we went back home and I tried to make her forget the man who had fascinated her in South Dakota. It was not long, however, before she deserted me and her son, leaving no explanation. I knew that she had gone back to South Dakota and wrote to her, offering to forgive everything if she would return to me."

Lively Municipal Campaign Is Promised.

No Overdraft In Sewers Committee.

Hamilton's campaign to carry the Hy-dro-Electric by-law by voting $225,000 for a municipal lighting plant and $50,-000 for electric pumps wil consist of one big pow-wow in Association Hall on Friday evening, Dec. 20. Hon. Adam Beck, father of the Hydro power scheme, was in the city yesterday, and Mayor Stewart made arrangements for the meeting on that date. Besides Mr. Beck some of the other big guns prominent in the power campaign will be heard. Mr. Beek slated to address a meeting of the Canadian Club on the same date. Mayor Stewart says the meeting in the Association Hall will be an open one, at which which were in the sheds. The cause of Hydro project will have an opportunity of presenting their views. Mayor Stewart said to-day that Chief Engineer Sothman, of the Hydro-Electric Commission, had assured him that the city would make a saving of $5,000 a year alone by installing its own pumps and using hydro power, as compared with the Cataract of the commission also explained that the Cataract was figuring on a chearer gradual size. also explained that the Catarack was figuring on a cheaper grade of pumps than the city had in view. The Mayor is not aware how Mr. Sothman became possessed of this information. Should Cataract Company wish to go at greater length into an explanation of its offer, the Mayor promises that it will be carefully considered, otherwise it will up to the company to disprove the statements that will be made at the meeting in Association Hall. General Manager Hawkins, President Gibson or any one else connected with the company is at perfect liberty, he says, to appear at the meeting and speak against the Hydro scheme. If it can be shown that the city by accepting a proposition from the Cataract can make a big saving over Hydro power, the Mayor declares he is in favor of the scheme which will save the city money.

A meeting of the associated charities of the city has been called for 4 o'clock to-morrow afternoon in Mayor Stewart's office, to discuss the situation and make preparations for demands that may be made on the different organizations during the winter months.
