Battle on Marne

Victory For Allies

After Five Days Fighting Germans Yield to Pressure of French Attack

London, Sept. 12, 10.35 p. m .- The sixth week of the war between Germany and France, Great Britain and Belgium has wrought a vast transformation. The pursued are now the pursuers. The irresistable sweep of seven German armies through Belgium into France met an immovable force at the Marne river.

The army ofGen. Von Kluck, which battled to turn the Allies western flank, was itself slowly and steadily outflanked. Its retirement before the small but hardy British army turned the tide of battle. To The Weeks News From day, if the French official reports are correct, all the German armie except that facing Verdun and a few miles southward, are retiring.

Gen. Von Kluck's army, which a week ago was a few miles to the southeast of Paris, has retired more than sixty miles tothe northeast while on the extreme right the army of the Bavarian crown prince which was attacking the French eastern line from Nancy to Epinal, charge by the Algerian riflemen. At has fallen back to the frontiers of Lorraine, permitting the French to reoccupy Luneville and several other towns.

Gen. Joffre, the French commander-in-chief, pictures the retreat as hurried, if not disorderly, with the Germans abandoning prisoners wounded, and supplies.

The last Sunday was the darkest of all for the Allies. The French ing besieged is removed, the army government emigrated from Paris to Bordeaux in a long, sad procession of motor cars, An attack upon the capital appeared imminent, a million men is released, and will John W. Stymiest, Tabusintac and the main German force had hammered a huge wedge into France, between Paris and Verdun, with its centre some miles south of that Montreal, Sept. 10-The situation in Austria is becoming alarming, and currency is given a report that she will sue for peace within the next fortnight.

The allies are prepared, however, for any such action on the part of the enemy, and are expected to put up a successful resistance.

An intercepted wireless message from a German commander to headquarters states that the army is badly in need of supplies and horses, and unless they can be got through the consequences will be disastrous. A prominent German officer was heard to remark that the Germans were in a serious situation. The Belgians have put another good one over the Germans. By opening the dykes around Antwerp and flooding the city, the Germans who were besieging it were drowned out and compelled to flee leaving guns, ammunition and baggage wagons behind.

The Germans are fast evacuating all Belgian towns and hurrying southward, and Belgian troops are re-taking possession again. Winston Churchill, speaking last night, gave out no hope that the war would soon be over, but he said by early next year Britain would have such a force available as would permit of Germany being driven entirely out of France and Belgium for good. Moreover, by next tion in Germany. > NO RUSSIANS ON BELGIAN OR FRENCH SOIL London, Sept. 14, 11.25 p. m.—The official press bureau issued tonight a denial of the reports that Russian troops have been landed in Belgium. "There is a truth whatever," says the bureau, "in the rumors that Russian soldiers have landed or passed through Great Britain on that Bussian solution was landed or passed through Great Britain on their way to France or Belgium. The statements that Russian troops are on Belgium or Franch soil should be discredited."
