RUSSIAN GOVT. DEMANDS SUSPENSION OF DEPUTIES

Wants to Try Them For Treason But Cannot Do So While Parliament is in Session--Reactionaries Rejoice

St. Petersburg, June 15.—Premier Stolypin yesterday demanded the suspension of certain members of the Duma in order to try them for high treason under the criminal code.

The press and public galleries were cleared, the police and troops took possession of the entrances to the parliament building, and the house went into secret session and debated a question raised by the premier. It is considered almost certain that his demands will be rejected.

The prosecutor read a specific charge against Prince Tzereteli Ozel and fourteen other deputies. The charges against the prince included the fact that he had been guilty of almost every crime in the revolutionary calendar. They were all accused of being in possession of false passports and having long in the balance. One, M. Geras, was charged in particular with presiding at a secret congress of the military revolutionary league.

Minister of Justice Chitchevloff, who followed M. Kamenshansky, explained the legal basis for the government's demand for the suspension of the deputies. The action of the cabinet fell like a thunderbolt on parliament, as it had been popularly supposed that the House's action in shelving the amnesty resolution, and refusing to instruct the agrarian committee in favor of the forcible expropriation of land, had averted the impending danger of a dissolution. As soon as M. Chitchevloff had finished his statement, a motion that a recess of one hour be declared, was carried, and the various parties retired to their respective benches to deliberate on the course of action. The monarchists and Octobrists naturally took the opposite side, but the Democratic Union and the Constitutional Democrats. The Conservative wing, who were anxious to preserve parliament at all costs, took no part in the discussion this morning. The yellow crossiers were brought into the city during the night, and the Duma members were camped at Krasinge-Selo are ready to march.

St. Petersburg, June 15.—The official message contains no news of this morning. The yellow crossiers were brought into the city during the night, and the Duma members were camped at Krasinge-Selo are ready to march.

TO MANUFACTURE PRESSED BRICKS

Strong Local Company Formed Operations will be Begun At Once

(From Saturday's Bulletin.)

At a meeting last night a very strong company of local capitalists was organized for the manufacture of pressed bricks by the Berg process. The company will be known as Pressed Bricks Limited.

A property has been secured on Gallagher's Hill on the southern bank of the river opposite D. R. Fraser and Co.'s lumber mill. The location is probably the best at present available in the Edmonton district.

At the meeting last night the following officers were elected: President, D. R. Fraser; Vice-president, Charles May; Directors, Alf. Brown, C. Gallagher, H. Gariepy, A. J. Manson, John Macneil; Secretary-treasurer, H. J. Hillwell; Solicitor, N. D. Beck.

Orders have been given to A. Berg & Sons, for the machinery and plans are now out for the plant. It is proposed to expend in the vicinity of $65,000, and it is expected that the work of manufacture will be in full operation this fall.

By the Berg process, which is used extensively in the United States and Eastern Canada, an excellent brick is produced which is composed of 94 per cent of sand and six per cent of clay. Mr. Berg has been in Edmonton for some days, and the formation of the present company is the result of his representations.

WAR DECLARED BY NICARAGUA

Troops & Munitions of War Sent to Aid the Insurgents in Salvador

Washington, D.C., June 15.—What amounts to an actual declaration of war between Nicaragua and Salvador was contained in the reply of President Zelaya to an inquiry from Washington as to his connection with the recent attack and capture of Aranjula. The answer to the State Department in the shape of the following cablegram from American Consul General Olivares at Managua, the Nicaraguan capital: "I am officially informed that in accordance with the Central American Union plan President Zelaya has despatched munitions of war and troops in aid of General Alfaro, who is the popular Union candidate for the presidency of Salvador. President Figueroa opposes the union idea."

LOGS SWEEP AWAY BY RISING RIVER

Local Lumbermen Suffer Severely By Sudden Rise of Water and Destruction of Booms

What virtually constitutes one of the greatest disasters ever experienced by the lumbermen of the city of Edmonton occurred last night caused by the sudden rise and flood of the Saskatchewan river which swept away thousands of logs and several rafts of lumber.

This morning the muddy brown waters of the river were alive with logs and floating debris.

The heaviest losers are D. R. Fraser & Co. and The Edmonton Lumber Co. The large pocket boom of the Edmonton Lumber Co. was carried completely away as was also a portion of the pocket boom of the D. R. Fraser Co. lower down the river. John Waller's boom was intact this morning at 10 o'clock.

The first word of the disaster reached the city yesterday afternoon at 4:30 by wire from Jas. Greenough at Stony Plain who rode in from the river to send a message of warning to D. R. Fraser & Co. The message read: "River rising, black with logs. Six lumber rafts broken away. Look out for the floating logs. The boom of the Edmonton Lumber Co. and John Waller's mill and steps were immediately taken to protect the booms and catch the logs and lumber that were being swept down the river. The Fraser boom left this afternoon containing about 5,000 logs.

The river was quiet until 6 o'clock when the light drifwood began to appear. The river rose rapidly carrying large quantities of driftwood. About 10 o'clock the first logs appeared in the Edmonton district. The Pacific bridge at 11:30. The Fraser & Co. from Fraser's Landing came down past the bridge. The pocket boom at the mill which had been put into bad shape by the floating logs piling upon the boomsticks gave way. The lumber collision with the boom pier carrying the top away. This loosened the boom letting the lumber and logs away. Meanwhile the floating logs piled so heavily on the boomsticks of the Edmonton Lumber Company's pocket boom that it was weighted down and the logs carried through. This immense mass was swept by the irresistible current upon the Fraser boom and a further portion was carried away. There is a small portion of the Fraser boom left this afternoon containing about 5,000 logs.

It is estimated that over 100,000 logs have been carried away by last night's flood. The river rose 15 feet from six o'clock yesterday evening until one o'clock this morning.

The logs were lying at various points upon the river bank from 60 to 100 miles. The owners said today that the logs had been piled within high water mark during the winter, and all those within that zone would be carried away. One of the logs which struck out adrift is caught and anchored about 18 miles up the river at Big Island Channel.

The firms owning the logs will issue public notices that all logs bearing their respective marks will be claimed.

Advices have been wired to Prince Albert, of Battleford, to take precautions and measures to catch the river may subside and leave the logs stranded at various points which would in all probability mean a total loss.

The mill men say this is the highest water there has been since 1896, when it was much higher. Five years ago a similar calamity occurred, but the quantity of logs carried away was much less. The hot weather of last week has caused the snows in the mountains to melt and saturate the mountain streams. The unprecedented heavy snowfall of last winter has also been a contributing factor.

NETHERLANDS CAPITAL IS GAY WITH FLAGS

Delegates Assembled From Many Lands--Prospects of the Conference--Little Chance of Limiting Armaments

The Hague, June 14.—This city has suddenly blossomed out with flags, representatives of every civilized country on the globe hoisting the standard over the hotels and delegations clustered about the two principal squares, while the hotels facing the sea at Scheveningen, with their multi-colored banners snapping in a stiff breeze, formed a picturesque picture. It was like a vast camp of the nations of the world. The weather could not have been finer, cool and bright sunshine. Practically all the missing delegates arrived during the day. The English, twenty-five strong, headed by Sir Edward Frye, Judge of the Chancery division of the British High Court of Justice, and member of the permanent Court of Arbitration at the Hague, reached here early by way of the Hook of Holland.

Jos. H. Choate, Wm. Buchanan, U. M. Rose and Charles Henry Butler and the other Americans travelled on the same steamer. Soon after their arrival the latter held their first meeting. Mr. Choate presiding.

The Germans, Italians and many South and Central Americans came by train.

Following the precedent established in 1894, the Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Netherlands, on the opening of the conference in the Hall of Knights tomorrow, will propose that the conference despatch a message of greeting and appreciation to the Emperor Nicholas, and in return M. Nelido will move a message of thanks for the hospitality of Queen Wilhelmina, and the Government of the Netherlands. W. H. Debauffort, head of the delegation of the Netherlands, will propose that Nelido be elected president.

After the inaugural session, the delegation will make a tour of the Hall of Knights.

The attitude of the Germans in favor of admitting the press to the plenary sessions is regarded as settling this point in the affirmative.

M. Tushnet, head of the Japanese delegation, today stated that the delegates of that country had been given the widest latitude in the matter of instructions. He pointed out that there was considerable misapprehension abroad concerning Japan's reservation to withdraw, if in her opinion the consideration of any particular subject would not lead to any useful results. The inference that this reservation referred to the question of the limitation of armaments he said was incorrect. The reservation had been made before the question of discussing the limitation of armaments was broached.

The Italian delegates have not yet held a general meeting, but they are talking over their policy among themselves. It is not much interest in European questions and intend to avoid so far as possible any attempt to interpose.

The Hague, June 14.—The signing of the Protocol admitting the countries which were not parties to the last conference, and although the outcome is not an assured fact it is much improved and points to a good year for the town and surrounding country.

Vegeville, June 15.—Crop conditions have greatly improved during the past week owing to the warm weather and light rains. All grains are growing very fast and the outlook is much better than it has been in the past. The new turn of conditions has done much to put new life into business and although the outcome is not an assured fact it is much improved and points to a good year for the town and surrounding country.

Imperial, June 15.—Warm weather during the last few days mingled with occasional showers. Grain fields are looking beautiful and every farmer's face wears the smile that won't come off.

THE ROUND-UP.

Lethbridge, June 14.—It is expected that the cattle round-up will be completed within the next few days. Strict precautions as to dipping for mange will be necessary. The entire losses will soon be known. Those who should know say they will be comparatively light. With good pasture a few weeks will make a vast difference on the animals, and this fall will find on the market many large animals that should have been sold last year had it been possible to ship them. As they started out on May 21," said one of the cowboys and already we know that the loss to ranchers north of the Belly river is not nearly as great as had been anticipated. Fully 21,000 head have been rounded up now and between 7,000 and 8,000 are across the river. These have been gathered from the south as far as the border and east as far as Medicine Hat. We have still to be joined by thousands from the southwest, and the total will easily reach 20,000 or more." "The calf crop," said another, "is as large as usual. Many said there would be few calves. This is not the case. In most seasons spring storms take off a lot of the youngsters, but this year we have not had such storms since the calves came."
