Fell From Building.

A boy named Parsley was the victim of an accident yesterday afternoon. The lad descended the roof of the tailor's workshop, on Duckworth Street, for the purpose of blowing peas at several of his companions. While engaged in his frolic he happened to walk too near the edge of the building and fell to the ground a distance of fifteen feet. He was picked up in an unconscious condition by passersby who brought him to Dr. Scully's surgery where on examination it was found that no bones were broken and that the youngster was alright beyond being badly frightened.

One Way of Saving Money.

BY RUTH CAMERON.
 There are a great many ways of saving money in this world. And according to some people all methods which accomplish this end are excellent. I beg to disagree. I know one woman who most certainly saves money, and yet I do not admire or envy her. I said I knew one woman. I thought of her because she happens to be a most flagrant example of the type. Actually I know a great many people who save money in a way I don't admire, and undoubtedly you also count them among your acquaintance. The prime necessity for conducting this kind of saving successfully is to have a purse that is not easily gotten at. One of these clever economizers happens to go to town with you. The conductor comes around for the fares and she begins to hunt for her pocket-book. She has difficulty either in finding it or opening it, and of course you have paid the conductor while she is struggling. At that her protests are as eager as her search was not. Sometimes she even backs them by trying to get you to accept a nickel, but when you refuse she gives in with a resignation which is beautiful to see. If you go shopping with this thrifty person you cannot help observing that she has no trouble whatever in locating her purse when she wishes to make some personal purchase, but the difficulty promptly re-occurs when it is a case of getting soda checks. Again, this is the type of person who economizes by not having a telephone and self-sacrificingly contents herself by borrowing yours. You grant her the use of it with all alacrity, remembering the time when you also did not have that necessity of life, but you cannot help wishing that she were not so economical as to omit to settle for her pay calls. This kind of person seldom wastes a penny buying a newspaper. She thinks it is terrible to fritter away money in things like that. So, instead, she lets her companion buy the paper and offer her half of it. Or she reads over her neighbour's shoulder, or picks up the paper which someone who could not afford to buy it half so well as she, had left in the car. If a theatre party or some other excursion is proposed, "dutch treat," this is the type of person who never offers to advance the money for the tickets. Instead she lets you advance it, and then either delays payment a few months or forgets it altogether. I have said "she" all the time because I am more familiar with the feminine economizer, but I am sure the class is not made up entirely of females. Probably any of my masculine readers could tell me of the male economizer whose tobacco pouch is always empty when it is possible to accept a smoke from someone else. Yes, economy is a grand thing, and we couldn't get along without thrifty folks. But still less, it seems to me, could they get along without the open-handed people at whose extravagance they often gibe? Ruth Cameron

How The Body Kills Germs.

Germs that get into the body are killed in two ways—by the white corpuscles of the blood, and by a germ-killing substance that is in the blood. Just what this substance is, we do not know. The blood of a healthy person always has some germ-killing substance in it to ward off the attack of disease. The fountain head of life is the stomach. A man who has a weak and impaired stomach and who does not properly digest his food will soon find that his blood has become weak and impoverished, and that his whole body is improperly and insufficiently nourished. To put the body in healthy condition, to feed the system on rich, red blood and throw out the poisons from the body, nothing in the past forty years has excelled Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a pure glyceric extract (without alcohol), of bloodroot, golden seal and Oregon grape root, stone root, mandrake and queen's root with black cherry bark. "My husband was a sufferer from stomach trouble and impure blood," writes Mrs. JAMES H. MARTIN, of Frankfort, Ky. "He had a sore on his face that would form a scab which would dry and drop off in about a month, then another would immediately form. It continued this way for a long time. He tried every remedy that any one would suggest, but found no relief. He then tried Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery which completely cured him. He has stayed cured now for two years, and I recommend this valuable medicine for impurities of the blood."
 Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules.

Household Notes.

The best pieces of meat for roasting are the ribs, sirloin and pinbone. Put a piece of ice in the room in which a patient with a high fever is lying; it will prove a boon to the sufferer. Bread will cut thinner and in more even slices if you turn the loaf upside-down. Eucalyptus oil will remove grease, including machine oil, from any fabric without injury. When the enamel on gas stoves becomes discoloured, scour it with a damp flannel dipped in garden soil. When making desserts, allow one heaping tablespoonful of granulated sugar to each egg and half a pint of milk. To remove the unpleasant odor from the hands after peeling onions, rub them with salt and wash in cold water. White of egg will clean fly specks from gilt frames or mouldings. Apply the white of egg with a camel's hair brush. A very good way to singe chickens is to hold them over a saucer of burning alcohol. There is no soot left then on the flesh. One and a half teaspoonfuls of baking powder to one pint of sifted flour is a good rule to follow for biscuits or shortcakes. One large tablespoonful of white flour and one large tablespoonful of butter, blended, will thicken half a pint of milk or water sauces. Sweet oil will remove hot water marks from Japanese trays. Rub it well until the marks disappear, then polish the tray with flour and a soft cloth. Paint can be removed from clothing by saturating the spots two or three times with equal parts of ammonia and turpentine, then wash out in soap-suds. Place new gloves between the folds of a damp towel for an hour before being worn. They are much easier to put on; the damp makes the kid more pliable. Cabbage should never be boiled longer than thirty minutes, for when the time is lengthened, the leaves lose their tender crispness and become soft and dark colored. Lamb, if fresh, should be of a bright red color, with white fat. It should be used within three days after killing. It is unwholesome if not thoroughly cooked. A good method to save fuel is to do many things with one fire. On washing days there must be of necessity a good fire, so cook as much as possible on that day. Kitchen utensils made of wood may be kept clean and white by rubbing with soap and lukewarm water to which is added a little common soda or household ammonia. After embroidered sheets and pillow cases have become worn, the monogram may be cut out in a circle and used again by neatly featherstitching it on the new material. To clean a soiled lace yoke in a silk or cloth dress, rub powdered starch into the lace; let it lie several hours and then brush it out. The starch absorbs the grease and dust. Perch, brook trout, catfish and all small fish are best fried. These small fish should swim twice, once in water and once in hot fat. The fat should be boiling hot before putting the fish in. Golfers, after a hard day outdoors, often suffer from tired feet. They will get great relief if they rub the feet with equal parts of lemon juice and alcohol well blended together.

On Second Thought.

BY JAY E. HOUSE.
 The moral to be drawn from the career of every rich man is that the public prefers an open-handed freebooter to a pious sinfinit. Go back far enough into the life of every man over 40 and you will find a celluloid collar. The difference between men and fish is that men often are caught on bare hooks. You must bait to catch fish. In a country community indiscretion in a young woman consists in having more than one beau. Generally speaking, a man ceases to be a Socialist as soon as he becomes interested in his own business. The Maryland man who started to school at the age of 60 has plenty of time left in which to learn that nobody knows much. A reader of the Chicago Tribune writes to protest against the widespread prevalence of crime in that city. In checking a widespread prevalence of crime nothing is so effective as writing a piece for the papers about it. Every practice has its variations. A Kansas City man killed himself instead of the woman he loved. One distinguished editor calls attention to the fact that there is more than one way to skin a rabbit. But there is no particular object in any of them. We Americans brag too much, but there is this to say for us: Very few of us become butlers or footmen. POLICE RECORD.—Last night not a single arrest was made. This is the third night in succession no prisoners have been taken, which is a record in police circles. MINARD'S LINIMENT RELIEVES NEURALGIA.

Cable News.

Special to Evening Telegram: WASHINGTON, Sept. 6. A letter from Foreign Secretary Grey to the Gateshead Chamber of Commerce, regarding the Government's attitude towards the Panama legislation, is looked upon as an indication that negotiations between the two countries are on a financial basis, his argument being that British shipping is to be burdened with an undue proportion of charges for the maintenance of the Canal through the now complete exemption from tolls of American coastwise shipping. Prof. Johnson, special commissioner on Panama traffic and tolls, estimates that the whole American coastwise traffic likely to pass through will be about a million tons, or 10 per cent. of the total tonnage, for 1915 and 1916. In the course of five years, it is estimated that this will increase, but foreign commerce will do so also in proportion. This would indicate that British and Foreign commerce would have to bear an additional 10 per cent. burden. It is pointed out, however, that a proportionate share must be borne by American ships in the foreign trade, which would be on an equality with British ships. Professor Johnson declares that the only possibility for the Canal to get a fair share of the world's trade is to place the tolls at a figure actually lower than the Suez Canal's. These are now $1.25 a ton. A flat dollar rate is suggested for the first few years. Special Evening Telegram, LONDON, Sept. 6. Sir Edward Grey wrote nothing regarding the financial side of the question in the Gateshead letter. He simply said that the British Government was making representations to Washington. An official correction was published to-day, the newspapers stating that the statements were merely the comments of the Secretary of the Gateshead Chamber of Commerce. Special to Evening Telegram, LONDON, Sept. 6. A deputation of Welsh Americans promoting an international Eisteddfod at Pittsburgh next year, called on Mr. Lloyd George and invited him to attend. The Chancellor agreed to consider the matter if a more convenient date than July 4th could be arranged. He said that nothing would give him greater pleasure than to talk the Welsh tongue to his fellow-countrymen in America. Special Evening Telegram, TORONTO, Sept. 6. England's first team of Cadet riflemen carried off all the laurels in the individual match for Lord Roberts' championship medal, their men annexing the first four places on the list of prize-winners. Cadet Knight made the highest score, winning the medal. Special to Evening Telegram, CHARLESTON, Virginia, Sept. 6. Every company of the West Virginia State Militia has been ordered back to the Kanawha coal fields, where Governor Glasscock declared martial law on Tuesday. The conditions throughout the strike zone are declared to be critical. Special Evening Telegram, LONDON, Sept. 6. The Daily Express prints an attack upon Lloyd George's tax-collecting methods by giving a list of fifty millionaires of his party now untaxed. Amongst them are Lord Pirrie, Cowdray, Abercromby, St. Leger, Brassy, and De Forest. Special Evening Telegram, MEXICO CITY, Sept. 6. A rear-end collision on the Mexican Central Railway resulted in the death of twelve passengers and the injury of four. Among the dead are Division Superintendent Chritzberg, his wife, and five children. Special Evening Telegram, STEVENAGE, Sept. 6. Capt. Hamilton and Lieut. Stewart of the British Army, lost their lives to-day, while flying. The wind caused the bi-plane to collapse at an altitude of 250 feet. Special Evening Telegram, WINNIPEG, Sept. 6. Manitoba's harvest operations are at a standstill, on account of wet weather. There are fears as to the effect on the crops. Special to Evening Telegram, MUNICH, Sept. 6. A German military aviator was killed this morning. Patients Discharged. Nurse Osbourne, who was indisposed at the Signal Hill Hospital with smallpox, was released yesterday. Nurse Osbourne contracted the disease while nursing the Bennett family, who have also recovered. Constable Nugent, who had been on guard for two months at the above institution carrying out the quarantine laws his resumed duty in the city. At present there is not a single case of smallpox in the city or outposts.
