Approaching a Climax.

The war has reached a pitch of fury unequalled in its previous course and hardly to be imagined from the scanty messages. Fighting such as that on the outskirts of Lens means the speedy exhaustion, at least locally, of one side or the other, and we know it will not be our own. Germany is standing a supreme test. Along some twenty miles in Flanders the French and British are pressing home a tremendous attack, shifting its chief point from time to time but slowly bearing back the whole line. At Lens the Canadians, hardly to be restrained with the prize almost within grasp, are grappling the defenders hand to hand and the fierce intensity of the battle marks the importance of the issue. The German counter attacks have for the time exhausted themselves and again but always fruitlessly against the French on the Chemin des Dames. In retaliation the French have come back at Verdun and come back in earnest. Their brilliant gains are already the object of more German counter attacks, doomed to the same failure and the same attendant losses. What appears to be the greatest battle of all rages on the Isigny and Carre fronts, though little definite news, beyond the large number of prisoners taken by the Italians, tells of its course. It is to be noted that the general effect of the intense and sustained fighting in these theatres of war is already apparent in the slowing down of the enemy's progress in the East. While little information comes from that quarter and much that is important is suppressed, it is a fact that the grave disasters recently threatened to the Russian and Rumanian armies are yet far from being realised. While it would be foolish to expect any great offensive assistance from our eastern Allies for some time to come, it is to be noted that West comes upon it—it would be more foolish to exclude them altogether from the calculations. The enemy is compelled to give them a comparative respite. If anarchy and socialism will permit them to make use of it, the autumn may see the steam-roller once more under way.

In the West the whole is of more moment than the parts. The Allies are fighting less for particular points than for the general attrition of the enemy, and this must be proceeding at an exhausting rate. The number of prisoners taken is greatly less than that representing the killed and severely wounded, while the artillery preponderance of the Allies puts the total considerably in their favour. There can only be one end to that sort of thing and we can see through it to beyond anything that may happen in the tactical distribution of the forces. The latter is likely soon to be greatly affected by the fall of Lens, which is assured by the Canadians' retention of Hill 70. After Lens comes Lille, menaced north and south by the two drives; after Lille, almost anything. These prospects may not be so far distant as many suppose. Things happened quickly on the Somme once a certain point was reached.

Light Breakfasts

Thoughtful people these days are urging economy in eating, and many are even advocating "no breakfast."

The "no breakfast" plan may agree with some, but most people feel better and work better on at least a light breakfast.

A great many have found that a liberal dish of Grape-Nuts, served with cream, milk, or fruit juice, furnishes ample morning nourishment, is easily digested, and promotes buoyancy and clearness of mind.

Grape-Nuts

contains all the nourishing goodness of wheat and barley, including the vital mineral salts of the grain, and is a most delicious food.

GERMAN VERSION.
BERLIN, To-day.
The supplementary report from German headquarters to-day reads: In Flanders British attacks east of Ypres, which began this morning extending over a 15 kilometre front, failed, the enemy suffering heavy losses. Before Verdun up to the present time there has been no fresh infantry fighting. Artillery firing remained strong. Bomb attacks by our aviators on fortified towns on the English coast to-day were successful. In the East there is nothing of importance to report.

PERU SENDS ULTIMATUM TO GERMANY.

AMSTERDAM, To-day.
The Berlin Vossische Zeitung announces that Peru has sent an ultimatum to Germany. The Hamburg Prize Court recently refused damages to the owners of the Peruvian sailing vessel Lorton which was sunk by a German submarine off the coast of Spain. The reason assigned by the court was that the Lorton, when stopped, asked for the name of the ship, hoisted the British flag. It is also alleged that the Lorton was carrying contraband for England. The paper says that in view of the threatening tone of Peru's note the Imperial German Chancellor has ordered the decision to be referred to the German court at Berlin for final adjustment.

PIRACY FRUSTRATED.

AMOY, China, To-day.
The British steamer Laertes, bound from Singapore for Amoy, reports a practical attempt to seize the ship. The Laertes carried 900 Chinese passengers, among them, unknown to the officers, 41 desperadoes who had been deported. These criminals attacked the European officers, but after a hard fight were overpowered by the Europeans and the Chinese crew. The Laertes called at Cape St. James, Indo China, and secured an armed guard.

LARGE AUSTRIAN LOSSES.

UDINE, Italy, To-day.
The enemy losses during the first two days in the new Italian advance are calculated at 30,000 in killed, wounded and prisoners.

BERNSTORFF'S NEPHEW PRISONER.

PARIS, To-day.
Among the 600 prisoners made in the hollow recesses of Dead Man's Hill was a battalion commander with his staff, including Count Eugene Bernstorff, the nephew of the former German Ambassador at Washington.

EFFECTIVE GUN AND AIR DEFENCES.

LONDON, To-day.
Reports from the places raided yesterday by German airplanes concur in the efficiency of the gun and air craft defences, the enterprise of German raiders being balked and the casualties minimized. Owing to the clear weather the air operations were visible for long distances and were watched with excited interest by crowds of visitors at Deal and Folkestone as well as by the people of the towns attacked. In the air fight over Dover the spectators saw the airplanes were so intermixed that it was impossible to distinguish friend or foe. Similarly the airplanes fought fiercely off Ramsgate, while shells burst all around the manoeuvres of them being hidden in smoke clouds from the shrapnel. The manoeuvres amazed all the onlookers, when a raider was seen to wobble and burst into flames, diving helplessly to earth. The papers, commenting on the raid, declare that the defending forces are not large enough and must be increased to overwhelming dimensions, so that it may be impossible for any raiders to return home. So soon as this is done, they declare, the raids will cease.

BRITAIN MAY REPLY FOR THE ENTENTE.

PARIS, To-day.
France probably will not answer the Pope's peace note individually.

since it has no representative at the Vatican, but Great Britain, doubtless will tender a collective reply in the name of the Entente. The French Government's view of the note, therefore, are unobtainable officially.

SAY MONASTIR ON FIRE.

LONDON, To-day.
Berlin reports say that Monastir has been set on fire by shells, two thousand of which have been poured into the city.

ZEEBRUGGE BOMBED AGAIN.

AMSTERDAM, To-day.
Zeebrugge and environs were bombed by airplanes yesterday morning. Great explosions occurred, according to an Ostend despatch to the Nieuwvan Den Dag.

PUNISHING THE RAIDERS.

LONDON, To-day.
An Admiralty announcement, late last night, said, the following report has been received from the Vice Admiral at Dover relative to the action done by the Royal Navy Air Craft at Dunkirk in several flights of machines sent up to intercept enemy air craft returning from England. One flight of three machines met twelve Gothas, 35 miles north of Nieuport, and engaged them, chasing them toward Zeebrugge but with no decisive result. Another of our patrols of ten machines engaged a flight of about twenty-five. Enemy escorting scouts which were off the coast awaiting the return of the enemy bombers and in the ensuing fight five enemy aircraft were sent down completely out of control, and probably some more, but in the close fighting accurate counting was impossible. All of our machines returned safely.
