Friday's Economy News

Sale of Embroideries

INVOLVING ABOUT FIVE THOUSAND YARDS OF BEAUTIFUL NEW GOODS

■ OMORROW we expect the most enthusiastic gathering of shoppers we've had this season, in response to this sensational announcement. Besides the importance of such a sale, there are hundreds of women who have been anxiously awaiting this news and who will be on the scene bright and early for the best pickings, for every yard at the regular price represents splendid value. To tell you that these have been cut a quarter off their regular prices is news of the most interesting character, and is bound to keep arms busy measuring off all day. And it might further interest you to know that these self same embroideries are bought by our own buyer, direct from the factory in St. Gall, Switzerland, thus saving an enormous amount of handling and the profits of the jobbers and wholesalers. All the best embroideries are here, from the narrow beadings and edgings to the widest skirtings. A rare chance indeed for women to fill up their work baskets. The prices simply make it a matter of sheer wisdom to buyand generously, for present and future necessities. So many women prefer making up their own garments, selecting the trimmings from these splendid stocks; sure of securing the best patterns and qualities. Every yard is fresh this season, thousands have just arrived and have never yet been shown to the public. See some of the examples in the window today. Sale will commence at 9 o'clock sharp-not before.
