

RUSSIAN SCOTLAND IS RAPIDLY BECOMING DEPOPULATED

Main Causes Are Opportunities Offered by Dominions and Dullness of Country Life

London, June 27.—According to a writer in The Daily Mail, rural Scotland is being depopulated. He says: The two main causes of rural depopulation in Scotland are the opportunities offered by the dominions and the effect on Scotch farmers of the big stores. There is another cause, less definite in its effects, but brooding over the intolerable dullness of country life to people whose minds have been stirred to activity by some education, by reading the papers, and by occasionally acquiring direct knowledge of the outside world.

The well-to-do farmers feel this acutely, and they fight it by attending at least two markets a week—Aberdeen, where they can allow themselves since the management of a farm on the scale of the Scotch farmer is a familiar subject of conversation. When they have something to sell they take six weeks to sell it, and persuade themselves that they are exercising their own judgment in the matter.

The other inhabitants of the parishes have no such recourse, and the ways in which they seek relief are pitifully eloquent in their very inadequacy. Workmen frequent village corners, and a railway station favored by the passage of one or two trains a day has become an amenity. Relatively few parishes in Scotland have one.

From this dullness there is a constant flight towards the town. An entire family recently moved out of one of the large towns hardly better than a slum. They are all perfectly pleased and think they have done well. The families speak with gusto of the convenience of having everything they want within easy reach—shops, schools, doctors, water, and a street car. There are no more than a few minutes' ride. There are football matches, picture palaces, and the streets, which are an unending diversion.

Dyers, finishers, and warehousemen in Yealand and Galesby, Shire, demand a standard wage of 15s a week at the age of 22 and over, and 8 cents an hour for those between 18 and 22. Boys also asked for a raise of 4s cents an hour.

Nearly 1,500 brewery workers in Buffalo and 700 in nearby towns such as Tonawanda, Lockport, Niagara Falls, and Dunkirk, have secured a raise of $1 a week and a reduction of working hours from nine to eight.

Romance is as much a part of a woman as her sex. A faded, worn, and three years old, and whose married life is a colorless record of scrubbing, cooking and nursing, likes to get the babies to sleep before this old man can get to bed. She had another chapter wherein the handsome, young man, who she had met in the hospital, and they lived happily ever after.

ENGLAND MORE THAN ITS SHARE OF YOUNG ADULTS

Interesting Comparisons of Vital Statistics of Different Countries

London, June 27.—Much valuable information on the birth-rate and age distribution of the population is contained in a blue book issued by the census-office, containing reports and tabulated results of the last census. Condition as to marriage is also dealt with. This country, it seems, contains a larger proportion of young adults than either France, Germany, Sweden, or Holland. It has fewer children than any of these countries but France, and fewer old persons than any except Germany.

THRILLS OF A NOVEL KIND

Thrills of a novel kind are promised for tourists to Sicily if an American hotel proprietor can carry out his plans. He has bought the site on the summit of a mountain the females considerably outnumber the males.

She'd Been Pittsburg. Tom Lewis, who plays a native of Pittsburg stranded in England in "The Sunshine Girl" at the Knickerbocker Theatre, New York, almost forgot his lines the other night. At one place in the piece a young woman who has never seen Pittsburg goes into raptures over it. "Oh, it must be a beautiful city," she says, or words to that effect. Lewis is astonished. He always looks straight ahead into the house and asks: "Shall I tell her?" On this particular night he chanced to look directly at a woman in the front row when he asked the question. To his surprise and consternation she shook her head. "She'd evidently been to Pittsburg," said Lewis in telling of the incident. "Anyway, it struck me as being so funny that I almost forgot what I was to say."

TO THE MAN WHO IS "ALL IN"

A man who was not yet 40, but who probably felt like he was 70, dropped into a chair in our office. "I'm all in. My back aches, I'm trembling all over. I've got no energy for my work. I run away from an old friend, because I feel as if it would be a task to greet him pleasantly. I just want to get down and sleep, and I don't care if I never wake up."

We see such men daily and hear from them by every mail. "Drugs—I've taken enough to float a ship. I had to quit because my stomach wouldn't stand any more dosing." There never was a patient who had not tried drugs first. Since they were old enough to swallow they had taken drugs.

Dr. Oliver Woodard Holmes told the Massachusetts Medical Society: "If the whole materia medica were dumped into the bottom of the sea it would be good for mankind, but bad for the fishes." Drugs won't restore energy. Food makes energy if you digest it. A weak stomach can't digest food. That's what had happened to this man, and he was "all in."

Dr. Jacques Loeb, renowned for his discoveries, says: "The basis of animal vitality is electricity." An old man of 70, who was "all in," thought electricity might do him some good, used Electro-Vigor for a few months, and wrote to us: "Although I am over 70, I have returned to my trade as a blacksmith, and I can hold my own with men of 30. I am an old man no more." The nice thing about Electro-Vigor is its simplicity, its power comes from dry cells, so that you put it on when you retire and turn on the current. While you sleep, it pumps energy into your nerves and vital organs.

For a man who is exhausted it is worth his weight in gold. It rejuvenates him. If you have a pain or ache, it removes the cause by finding the weak nerve and invigorating it. You know there is no pain that does not come from some weakness. Electro-Vigor invigorates and that finds the pain and cures it. A drug will "kill the pain" by destroying the nerve feeling, but that does not remove the cause. Electro-Vigor cures the cause by giving back to the nerve its vitality. Moral! Don't drug; don't get into the habit. A small dose today cures for a large one tomorrow. A man who was drunk all night fell so badly in the morning that he got drunk again. His nerves were so upset from overstimulation that he needed more wine to sober off on. Drugs act like that, only worse. Frank Dooley says: "A drug is a little poison that a little more of it would kill you."

"Are you all in?" Do you feel that your youthful energy is exhausted? Are you full of pain and aches? Are you easily tired, nervous, discouraged, worried, despondent? Is the old cheerful spirit gone? Be joyous, be happy and light-hearted, feel the exhilaration that comes from nerves full of electric energy, youth and vigor. You can and will if you apply Electro-Vigor. Read This Evidence Dear Sirs—Am pleased to say that I am still gaining in weight. When I wrote you last I had gained 11 pounds, but now I have gained 15 pounds. I have never had the piles since I started to wear Electro-Vigor; my back is still A-1 and the rupture has receded in size. I can do quite a lot of walking before it bothers me. I will do as you say and wear it longer. Yours truly, T. BARTLETT.
