A REMARKABLE SALE

Disposal of Brown's Shoe Stock Attracts Much Attention.

The sale of all kinds of footwear that is going on at Brown's Shoe Store (three doors east of The Advertiser building) is the most important special sale that has ever been held in that line in the city. The offerings include the very best kinds of boots and shoes, rubbers and slippers at prices which have never been approached in London. The sale has been going on for the past two weeks, and so far has been extremely successful. It was well known before it started that Mr. Brown carried one of the most exclusive stocks in the west, and everything in his store is being offered at prices that are astonishingly low. This sale is a real opportunity for the exceptional opportunity to people of all classes to buy shoes at prices equal to wholesale and even better. Prospective buyers would do well to take advantage of the sale that appear in The Advertiser.

Some preliminary business, such as deciding whether or not adherents would be allowed to vote, was first considered. It was decided that, because of the rules of the church, it would not be possible to let adherents vote, but that their opinions would be taken into account when the time came. Some preliminary business, such as deciding whether or not adherents would be allowed to vote, was first considered. It was decided that, because of the rules of the church, it would not be possible to let adherents vote, but that their opinions would be taken into account when the time came.

The successor of Rev. Dr. Johnston, late pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, will not be chosen for some time. A meeting of the congregation was held last night, when it was decided to defer the selection until the fall, and in the interval to hear a number of other applicants for the vacancy. When a vote was taken it was found that those in favor of calling a pastor were in the majority, but not sufficiently strong to carry the day, it having been agreed that a motion to call a pastor should be adopted by a vote of 3 to 1.

Rev. A. J. MacGillivray, moderator of the district, presided. It was first explained by Mr. R. Somerville, chairman of the committee appointed to secure a pastor, why the meeting had been called. Of a large number of candidates who were heard, he said, there were fifteen who were available. Of a number of others who had been approached, he said, he did not believe that there were any stronger than those already heard. There were also about thirteen other ministers in the United States who might be approached, but the names would not be considered until the result of the meeting was known. Some preliminary business, such as deciding whether or not adherents would be allowed to vote, was first considered. It was decided that, because of the rules of the church, it would not be possible to let adherents vote, but that their opinions would be taken into account when the time came.

In consequence of this step by the congregation it is not likely that another meeting in connection with the matter will be held for some months.

Does Not Take Effect Until June of 1935—The Exemptions and Those Not Liable.

The following are the principal features of the new assessment act, which received its final ratification at the meeting of the Ontario Legislature a few days ago. Photographer, theater, concert hall, skating rink, boarding stable, restaurant, hotel, 25 per cent.

Telephone or telephone company, electric or street railway, transmission company, 25 per cent, exclusive of plant.

Where assessment of any person under the business tax is less than $250 he shall be assessed for $250.

THOSE NOT LIABLE.
Every person not liable to business assessment: incomes not derived from the business under which a person is not assessable; income from business over the amount of business assessment; agent or trustee who controls income of persons living outside of the Province, shall be assessed in respect to such income.

Telephone companies, 80 per cent of gross receipts in cities, towns and villages; in cities over 100,000, 75 per cent; in towns and villages, 50 per cent of gross receipts; in townships, 30 per cent for one wire; $5 a mile for each additional wire.

The other two horses brought, one $100 and the other $30. A rubber-tired buggy sold for $91, and single harness for $29. The sale amounted to nearly $1,000. Mr. Stewart will move to London in a few days to conduct his undertaking business which he has purchased from Mr. John T. Stephenson.

LIVE STOCK SALE.
A very successful auction sale of horses, rigs, etc., was held yesterday afternoon for Mr. D. A. Stewart, reeve of Lobo, at his residence, Poplar Hill. Mr. Stewart is well and favorably known throughout that part of the country, and there was therefore a very large attendance. A. M. Hunt conducted the sale. The stallion, Five Points, was sold to Mr. Alex. McNeil, of Lobo village, for $350. The other two horses brought, one $100 and the other $30. A rubber-tired buggy sold for $91, and single harness for $29. The sale amounted to nearly $1,000. Mr. Stewart will move to London in a few days to conduct his undertaking business which he has purchased from Mr. John T. Stephenson.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

At the Grand Opera House last night, Mr. Chester De Vonde administered a well-merited rebuke to a certain rowdy element in the audience. The play was "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," and in the dual role Mr. De Vonde exhibited an ability, which won him unstinted praise from those who were present. He was capable and when he is not, but there were a number of smart alecks in the house who imagined that because they had paid ten or twenty cents to see the performance they were entitled to give a show of their own in the auditorium. Intending situations were spoiled by the most ignorant remarks and loud guffaws, and Goldsmith's immortal saying: "the loud laugh betrays the vacant mind" was illustrated too nicely. Finally the interruptions became unbearable, and Mr. De Vonde stopped the play, and waited for the uproar to subside. He did not say anything, but he certainly had room to remark that there were a few specimens of the long-eared species in the house, which might with profit to the audience be removed at once. The management of the house should not put up with such conduct. Conduct of the audience should be called in and all such offenders removed at once. Mr. De Vonde was given a splendid support last night by Mr. Burr, as Dr. Lanyon, and Mr. Henry, as Mr. Utterson. The former's portrayal of the elderly physician, was perhaps one of the most pleasing impersonations seen at the Grand this season. Tonight the melodrama, "Doomed," will be the attraction.

"AN ENGLISH DAISY."
"An English Daisy" is the offering at the next Saturday matinee and night. This company comes direct from its long and successful run at the New York Casino, and brings with it the stamp of approval and hearty endorsement of the press and public of the

THE INCURABLE CURED AGAIN
J. J. PERKINS OWES HIS LIFE TO DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Mantle Man Helpless From Kidney Disease Made Strong and Healthy by the Great Canadian Kidney Remedy.

Tyndall, Man, April 20. —Among the many in the great west who confidently state that they owe their lives to Dodd's Kidney Pills is Mr. J. J. Perkins, a well-known resident of this place.

"For two years I was troubled with my kidneys," Mr. Perkins states, "and at last became so bad that the doctor gave me up and said I was incurable. I, at times, had such severe pains in my back and kidneys that I thought I would have to give up all hope and that I was unable to work and was becoming destitute."

"While in this condition a friend presented me with a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills. I had little faith in them, and it was more to please him than anything else I gave them a trial."

"To my surprise the first box did me so much good that I felt like a new man. Five boxes cured me completely. Dodd's Kidney Pills saved my life and I cannot praise them too much."

Thousands of cases similar to that of Mr. Perkins are the proof that any Kidney Disease from Backache, Bright's Disease, yields readily to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

When a young man is really in love he doesn't hesitate to propose just because the girl has money.
