PURSE OF GOLD FOR VETERAN SIMCOE PASTOR

[Special To The Advertiser.]
SIMCOE, Jan. 29.—The members of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, at a monster gathering here tonight, honored Rev. W. J. Dey, D. D., on the 25th anniversary of his retirement, with them by presenting him with a purse containing $200 in gold, and an illuminated address. Dr. G. Munro, a classmate of the veteran pastor, was present and extended hearty congratulations. Dr. D. L. McCrae, of London, the moderator, wired his heartiest good wishes. During the evening a splendid musical program was much enjoyed, and the ladies of the congregation provided an excellent supper.

GRAY HAIR BECOMES DARK, THICK, GLOSSY

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everybody knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and keeps falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe, because nobody can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

INTEREST CENTRES ON EASTERN FRONT

At Extreme Ends of Immense Line Important Events Are Expected.

INVASION IS PROGRESSING

Russians Advancing Along the Front, Only 50 Miles From Koenigsburg.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Jan. 30.—12:32 p.m.—Two conditions call particularly for comment this morning at the hands of British observers of the war: the Austro-German concentration in the Carpathians, which is regarded as a menace to the Russian armies in Bukovina, and the Russian activities in East Prussia, which have been characterized as a threat to the German forces in this territory. Thus, at the extreme end of the immense eastern front, military operations of the greatest importance are now developing. As for the western battle front, another big battle in the vicinity of Soissons is confidently expected, as is a bitter conflict near La Bassée, where for some time the Germans have been piling up reinforcements.

New Invasion Progresses.
Russia's new invasion of East Prussia is becoming well-defined in the eyes of British observers as an outflanking movement. For some time past this frontier district has been in Russian hands without attracting much attention, but now the invaders have begun a series of slight western advances along the 50-mile front from Tilsit southward almost as far as Angerburg. This front is only about 50 miles to the east of the Prussian fortress of Koenigsburg.

Many miles to the south the combined Austro-German armies and the forces of Russia are battling in the snow in the Carpathian Mountains passes, but as is usual with mountain fighting the situation is confused, each side maintaining that the tide of battle is running in its favor. It will be hard to form a clear picture of the situation until either the Russians emerge in force on the Hungarian plains or the Austro-Germans hammer them back to the mountain passes, perhaps raising at the same time a Russian retreat in Bukovina. One effect of this struggle has been to bring the Roumanian troops so near the Roumanian frontier as to fan the war in this country, a fact which may have an important bearing on deciding when Roumanians will enter the conflict.

Little reliable information has come to hand concerning the fight in the Caucasus. A roundabout rumor credits Russia with the recapture of Tabriz. The London newspapers which hailed the fighting to the east of El Kanbara as the real beginning of the Turkish invasion of Egypt, now seem inclined to qualify that assertion. While there has been more unimportant skirmishing to the east of the canal, there is little proof that the Turks are advancing in force.

EIGHTY DOLLARS FOR BELGIUM.
TILBURY, Jan. 28.—About $80 was collected for the Belgian relief fund, of which Editor Snave, of The Times, is treasurer, at the ball given in Odd-fellows' Hall. Fifty or more couples participated in the function. The decorations and the music by Watts' Orchestra, of Chatham, were superb.

GOT THE "GOAT" OF REEVE HODGINS

Even Tenor of Yesterday Afternoon's Session of County Council Disturbed.

The even tenor of yesterday afternoon's session of the county council was disturbed when, in response to several requests, County Clerk Robson read the names of county patients who had received aid from the council in Victoria Hospital. The list was one continual round of London Township patients, sent to the hospital by order of Reeve J. H. Hodgins, many of the patients being women.

MEXICO CITY QUIET

Oregon Denies Making Any Agreement With Gutierrez for Alliance.

[Canadian Press.]
Washington, Jan. 29.—Mexico City was quiet, with Gen. Obregon in command, in a dispatch received today from American Consul Silliman. Obregon denies making any agreement with Gen. Gutierrez, who was reported to have sent commissioners to propose terms upon which he might form an alliance with Carranza against Villa. The Carranza forces have abandoned the siege of Puebla, the stronghold midway between Mexico City and Vera Cruz, but still hold some of the small villages near the capital, the dispatch said. Mr. Silliman made no mention of the expected departure of Carranza himself from Vera Cruz for Mexico City.

BRITISH NAVY IS THE VITAL FACTOR

Admiral Peary Points Out Its Importance To Explorers' Club.

SINKING OF THE KARLUK

Capt. Bartlett Says Funeral March Was Played As She Sank.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Jan. 30.—The European war has essentially paralyzed exploration, and the president of the Explorers' Club, at the tenth annual dinner of the club here last night. Only those geographical expeditions which have already started or others have been postponed. In regard to the lessons of the war itself, the admiral declared that three things were vital to the United States: preparedness, a powerful navy, and the possession within the American borders of the means to conduct vigorous offensive and defensive operations.

A Vital Factor.
"No one thing stands out in the present struggle as does the meaning of the British navy. Without that factor, the status abroad today would be easily different," he said.

Of the two expeditions now in the North Pole regions, that under McMillan has been heard from briefly, while the whereabouts of Stefansson and his crew are still unknown; but, Admiral Peary said, that there was good ground for hope that Stefansson had reached land.

PROFITS NOT LARGE WHEN ALL CONSIDERED

Retail Grocers Are Confronted With Huge Expenses In Their Businesses.

It costs local retail grocers a great deal of money to run their stores under present conditions. In the first place, it is impossible to obtain the services of a good clerk for less than $10 or $12 a week, and when it is taken into consideration that the modern grocer needs two or three of these men, one sometimes wonders just how the grocers make a profit at all. Every business counts on a 25 per cent gross profit, yet grocers make but 25 per cent in the average. In print, the disparity between wholesale and retail prices of groceries looks rather large, but in reality the gain to the latter is very small. Retail grocery prices in London are, in the main, cheaper than elsewhere throughout the Dominion.

In Full Retreat.
As a prelude to the manoeuvres it was understood that the Blues were defeated and were in full retreat along the road through Tabbotville and Lambeth. The Reds were sent out from London to overtake them.

BLUES HELD HILLS AGAINST THE REDS

Reds Marched On Park From Lambeth—Did Not Fear the Nipping Cold—A Long Route March Yesterday.

"The whole operations on both sides were carried out exceedingly well and the flanking movements were particularly well executed, was the verdict of a senior officer of the Eighteenth Battalion, given last night in regard to the manoeuvres of the day. With the mercury dipping far down in the tube, and a regular gale blowing from the west, the splendid manner in which the men stood the strain of the long route march of Thursday, the strenuous hours of tactics culminating in a sham battle, bespoke the efficiency of the special training that has been given, and assures the officers that the men of the battalion will be able to stand up under any conditions in which they may find themselves.

Breakfast at Seven.
The Lambeth forces, or "Reds," in command of Major Milligan, were ready for breakfast at seven, which consisted of bread, bacon, cheese and tea. At ten o'clock, piping hot soup and bread were served, after which orders were given to fall in line for the march. Already sixteen accounts, the establishment of the Lambeth-Springbank road, and one-half to one mile west. The line of resistance of the "Blue" forces was along a line parallel with the second concession.

About four miles had been covered by the Reds when an order was given to return to Lambeth. Only one "casualty" occurred, an exceptionally fine one man having his fingers frozen. Attention was given the victim by a medical officer when he arrived at the site of operations.

Men in Best of Spirits.
The men, in hilarious mood, warmed up by their hike, and delighted over a crowning pleasure in the piping-hot dinner that awaited them at 4 o'clock. Emery, Quartermaster-Sergeant Lawrence, and Pte. Page had looked after the commissariat department faithfully and well, with the result that the menu offered to the soldiers was soup, roast potatoes, bread, jam and coffee.

WITH THE "BLUES."

To repel the attack of the swiftly advancing Reds, who were marching from Lambeth, the command of Major Milligan, to capture Springbank, Major Gordon Ingram's Blues took up a position covering over two miles in the vicinity of the reservoir hill yesterday.

The 400 men of the Eighteenth Battalion, comprising the defending army, or Blues, were on the move with sun, and, throughout the day were kept constantly in action. Bright and early in the morning, in the form of skanking bacon and piping hot coffee, was served, after which the columns got under way to Lambeth.

Mecca of Visitors.
The mecca of visitors last night was a field back of the town, to the southeast, where in the centre glowed a red beacon. The beacon was a pile of seven or eight feet high, of straw, and the famous transport kitchen was in place. A little to one side, drawn there by two men, was the pride of the "Reds."

"Fall in line for skiffing," came a joking command, which was promptly obeyed, by a singing, laughing mob carrying mess cans. Hospitality was gallantly extended to the strangers, a tin of gleaming, syrupy tea, soda biscuits and cheese.

Higher and higher blazed the fire, sending aloft banners of flame and clouds of sparks. As the heat grew fiercer, the circle melted back a bit and coughs for those who desired to sit freely with the happy campers mingled bery, and with the camaraderie that distinguishes Canadian soldiers at home. A British public house in the neighbourhood has caused a more youthful than on parade appear. Less than the happy campers, the men of the Blues were in full retreat along the road through Tabbotville and Lambeth. The Reds were sent out from London to overtake them.

ANOTHER AIRSHIP RAID ON DUNKIRK

Germans Drop Fifty Bombs, Damaging Some Private Houses.

SOME BRITISH ACTIVITY

Berlin Reports Raids On Zeppelins and Ostend By Seven Aeroplanes.

[Canadian Press.]

Dunkirk, France, Jan. 29.—Via Paris, Jan. 30.—The bombardment from the air came out here by the Germans last night came from six aeroplanes. It was a clear, moonlight night, but the machines could not be seen except when it lit up now and then by the beam of a whirling searchlight, by which the three-hundred anti-aircraft guns directed their fire.

RAID BY BRITISH

[Canadian Press.]

London, Jan. 30.—10:15 a.m.—Wireless advice from Berlin brings a report that seven British aeroplanes which have been based at Ostend and Zebruggen, three of which were in the air, were seen by three German aeroplanes and chased into the open sea.

The above dispatch may indicate a new British air raid on the Belgian coast. In that direction occurred at Zebruggen on January 29. Two British aeroplanes took part in this attack, and it was stated that their bombs damaged a number of the German aeroplanes. The German report of this raid said that no damage was done.

SOLDIERS HAD SPLENDID TIME IN PRETTY LAMBETH VILLAGE

Citizens Vied With One Another In Showing Hospitality To Men Encamped There.

Arriving in Lambeth village last night, one might well imagine the scene in Northern France or a reproduction of a civil war winter picture. Serene, the moon shone high, revealing a background of dark blue, dotted with brilliant and glowing a glittering white world with a silvery light in which there was no suggestion of warmth. Streets were deserted at 7:30, except for dark figures of soldiers hurrying to and fro, recognizable by their silhouette in front of the tracery of the houses. The soldiers were in the mood of a survival of old days and ways.

Thursday afternoon, two companies of the Eighteenth Battalion, the "Reds," under command of Major Milligan, marched out to Lambeth, where they were received with open arms and extended the freedom of the town and every conceivable hospitality by the residents. An encampment was made in the night, some finding shelter in halls, others in the church sheds and the houses of the villagers. The night trying to keep warm therein, it was a pleasant surprise to find that the officers to accept the offers of the villagers, in which the men of the Eighteenth Battalion, the "Reds," were without risk of bodily ill the second night.

HOW TO MAKE YOUR HAIR BEAUTIFUL

Ten Minutes' Home Treatment Works Wonders, Stops Falling Hair, Itching Scalp, and Dandruff. Makes the Hair Soft, Brilliant, Lustrous and Fluffy.

Better than all the so-called "hair tonics" in the world is a simple old-fashioned home recipe consisting of plain Bay Rum, Lavender (or Rosemary) and a little Menthol Crystals. These three work wonders with any scalp trouble in a few minutes. Just one night and see. Get from your druggist 3 oz. Lavender, 3 oz. Bay Rum and 1 oz. Menthol Crystals. Dissolve the Crystals in the Bay Rum and the Lavender, shake well and let it stand for an hour before using. Apply it to the scalp with a brush or your fingers. This cleanses the hair and makes the hair soft and fluffy. To stop the hair from falling and to make it grow again rub the lotion briskly into the scalp with the finger tips or a medium stiff brush. Apply night and morning. A few days' use and you will not find a single loose hair falling out. They will be locked on your scalp as tight as a vice. Dandruff will disappear and itching cease. You will find the dainty, new hair sprouting up all over your scalp and this new hair will grow with wonderful rapidity.

Any druggist can sell you the above. The prescription is very inexpensive and we know of nothing so effective and certain in its result.

The dropping of their propellers, however, was heard some time before the aeroplanes arrived. This was sufficient notice, and the town was rung for the inhabitants to seek shelter, according to a plan arranged by the authorities.

In all 50 bombs were thrown, 10 of which were incendiary bombs. A number of private houses were damaged, but the result of the raid from a military point of view was nil.

SYMONS IS NOT PUT IN THE BOX

Union Life Defence Closes — Dr. Hughes Reproaches Himself Now.

[Canadian Press.]

TORONTO, Jan. 29.—The Ontario K.C., Union Life director, charged with conspiracy to defraud, is not to be put in the witness box. The hearing of evidence closed today with the completion of the examination of Dr. F. Hughes, director. When it was concluded T. H. Lennox, K.C., counsel for Symons, said that was the case for the defence.

The court then adjourned for two hours to enable counsel to prepare their addresses and to hear the testimony of the crown witness, Mr. Evans. The crown said Polman Evans was in a country from which he could not be extradited.

Depended on Actuary.
Dr. Hughes admitted he had moved for the payment by the National Agency of $150,000 to the Union Life Insurance Co. of Canada, and shares to put that company into being. "Did you think it fair to pay dividends when you had to borrow money on a demand note?" he was asked.

"I depended on the actuary's statement," he answered.

"They relied on my honesty, but not on my business experience," was the reply.

Is Sorry Now.
He admitted that he reproached himself for this now.

One hand you were paying out dividends and bonuses, and with the other were breaking faith with the shareholders by making moves you promised would not be made."

Witness said it looked like that, but it was Polman Evans' plan. Hughes admitted that once he refused to go a debenture selling trip because he did not think it quite right. Dr. Hughes was shown the minutes which stated that he seconded a resolution moved by him, Evans, to England, empowering and giving him a power of attorney under the seal of the company. Yesterday witness stated that he had no knowledge of a power of attorney possessed by Evans.

POULTRY SHOW A SUCCESS.
RIDGE TOWN, Jan. 28.—The Kent County Poultry and Pet Stock Association show proved so successful that the promoters have decided to make next year's event more notable. In the drawing, which took place at the close, L. J. Hummel won the turkey; D. Ferguson carried away the goose, and Frank McGregor got the duck, while Wm. Simpson captured the cockerel.
