BEE-KEEPERS IN SESSION

Association Decides That the TWO LIEUTENANTS Prices Shall Not Be Raised and Fixes Them

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ontario have gathered a bountiful yield of honey this season, according to a report issued by the Ontario Beekeepers' Association. A large crop of light honey has been extracted this season, and the quality is unsurpassed. The honey is light in color with a heavy body and good flavor.

The association's honey crop com mittee has advised its members that prices shall not be increased this year. The prices recommended are 10 to 111/2 cents per pound for No. 1 light, extracted, wholesale, and 21/2 cents above those prices for retail. Combs will be sold at $2 to $2.75 dozen, wholesales, for No. 1, and $1.50 to $2 a dozen for No. 2.

Middlesex County holds the lead as far as volume of production is concerned, with 262,812 pounds of white honey extracted this year, in contras to 118,945 in 1915.

York County stands second on the list, with a production of 138,220 pounds, showing an increase of 64,000 over last year. Peel, Halton and Simcoe are the other counties that stand over the 100,-Ontario's total yield is 2,127,903 pounds. The average number of pounds
