AWARD WIDOW OF AUTO CRASH VICTIM $1,450

Jurors Find Verdict in Favor of Mrs. Martha Hardiman.

FULL CLAIM WAS $7,000

North Dorchester Must Also Pay $200 to Frank Scattergood.

A settlement of $1,450 for Mrs. Martha Hardiman, and $200 for Frank Scattergood, was reached over night in the $7,000 action brought by Mrs. Hardiman against the township of North Dorchester. Mrs. Hardiman's husband, Joseph Hardiman, was killed on the night of Aug. 30, 1921, when an automobile owned by Mr. Scattergood, plunged into a gully at the side of a road near Dorchester Station. Mrs. Hardiman alleged that the road was not in a proper state of repair. Mr. Scattergood was claiming $900 for damage to his car.

When court opened before Chief Justice R. M. Meredith at 10 o'clock Friday morning, counsel announced that they had reached an agreement on the case, which was commenced Thursday afternoon. As a result of this agreement, the mortgage on the plaintiff's house of $300 will be paid off; $300 goes to Edward William Hardiman, a son, who was born in 1903, and $150 to Gertrude H., daughter, born in 1905. Mrs. Hardiman will receive $700.

J. M. McEvoy, K.C., appeared for the plaintiff, and F. H. Curran for the defence.

Lacked Guard Rails.

Luther Pinnegar, a farmer, living in the vicinity of the accident, stated that if a car got off the beaten track, it would sink into the soil. There was about eight feet of loose soil over the pipe running beneath the road. There were no guard rails up at the time of the accident. He never thought the place was safe without a railing. The last railing was a wire one.

The night of the accident Mr. Hardiman had motored past his place and left a milk can he had borrowed. The wife of the witness had gone to the door and had heard screams. She called to witness, and he and his son had rushed to the scene of the accident. The car was turned over in the ditch with Mr. Scattergood and Hardiman and his son underneath. Mr. Hardiman died shortly after witness pulled him from beneath the car.

Was Industrious Man.

Mr. Pinnegar stated that he knew Hardiman well, and that he was a good, industrious man, was about 53 years of age, and farmed seven acres.

Richard Pinnegar, son of the previous witness, said that the car had turned off about five feet before going over into the gully. The centre of the road, in his opinion, was the only safe place for traffic.

F. Farncombe, civil engineer, testified that the plan he had drawn of the scene of the fatality was correct.

PLANS UNION OF GARAGE WORKERS

Representative of International Organization Visits London.

Plans for union organization were outlined by several local motor mechanics and garage workers in session at the Labor Temple, Thursday night, at which gathering attended Harry Kerwin of Toronto, grand lodge representative of the International Machinists.

Representative Kerwin explained that organizations had been created in Hamilton, Brantford and Toronto, and had resulted in great success He felt that directly the local workers were aware of the immense educational value attached to this union they would lose little time in becoming identified with it.

Once the men are organized, it is proposed to hold special educational classes in the Labor Temple in order that the workers may learn something concerning every type of car on the continent. The speaker pointed out that the various firms would be only too pleased to co-operate in every way and would send demonstrators to the city.

The grand lodge representative also touched upon the question of wages and working conditions, and warned the men that they should guard against a gradual return to the old days of 55 to 72 hours a week. He referred to certain places in the eastern provinces where men were now employed 60 hours a week, and in one place in particular, in Quebec, 72 hours.

Another meeting will be held at an early date to complete orgainzation.

COMMENCE SUIT OVER PURCHASE OF FARM LANDS

Harry Stabler Brings Action Against Thomas Robinson.

DISPUTE ABOUT COTTAGE

Vendor Alleges Mistake in Including Dwelling in Title.

The action of Harry Stabler against Thomas H. Robinson, over the ownership of a cottage, which the plaintiff claims he was entitled to when he bought a 44-acre farm from Robinson in August, 1919, for $9,000, is being heard before Chief Justice R. M. Meredith at the court house.

Stabler asks for the conveyance of the lands, and that no further payment be required until the amount found to be the value of the property has been given credit for by the defendant.

Mr. Stabler the first witness called Friday morning told of the agreement being made with Robinson and that it turned out later that Robinson was not the owner of the cottage on one corner of the farm which is situated over the Vauxhall bridge. Witness had to release the cottage which sold for $2,400. He had met Robinson in the office of John G. Anderson, the price had been agreed on and the agreement signed. Witness paid $500 down and was to get possession Jan. 1, 1920. Without the cottage the place was worth about $6,000 he thought. Mr. Robinson had told him several times that he (Robinson) had made a mistake in including the Alway cottage in the agreement. He had paid $2,000 on the place to date.

E. S. Hunt, assessor for Westminster Township, declared that he would hesitate to give $6,000 for the property without the cottage.

Andrew J. Henderson, father-in-law of Stabler, and a former assessor of East Nissouri, stated that $6,000 would be a fair market value for the farm.

"It was a gentleman's residence at one time," remarked the judge.

"You wouldn't think so to look at it," rejoined Mr. Henderson.

Mr. Stabler, recalled to the box, said that 15 acres of the land was along the river bank and subject to floods. He did not buy the land for speculative purposes.

John G. Anderson, for the defence, told of the agreement being prepared in his office from papers brought there by Mr. Robinson. Stabler had never claimed at any time that he had purchased the Alway cottage. He thought a fair value of the property would be $9,000.

John Robinson, tenant before Stabler bought the place, said that the plaintiff never claimed he had purchased he cottage. He, too, valued the land at $9,000.

Henry Fisher purchased the cottage in April, 1920, Stabler had told him a "good time after" the purchase, not to pay any more money on it.

Thomas Robinson declared that he had sold the cottage in 1902 to Hester and Agnes Alway, sisters of his wife. He had told Stabler about the mistake in the deed given and wanted plaintiff to sign a quit claim deed and Stabler refused. Witness had never intended the Alway property to be included in the sale.

Cross-examined by P. H. Bartlett witness did not know that his wife had given John Robinson a five-year lease. He admitted that his wife had issued a writ against him, claiming to be the owner of the land.

When showing Stabler the property he did not say one way or the other that the cottage was included in the purchase price.

"Are you willing to take the land back now for $9,000?" asked Mr. Bartlett.

"That is a different proposition," witness replied.

Pat Walsh valued the property at $10,400.

T. G. Meredith, for defence, and P. H. Bartlett for plaintiff.

ODDFELLOWS AT FUNERAL WILL NUMBER 300

Prominent Members of Order To Honor Dr. Cl. T. Campbell.

GRAND OFFICERS COMING

Services To Be Held Sunday Afternoon in St. Paul's Cathedral.

The funeral services of the late Dr. Cl. T. Campbell, to be held under the auspices of the Independent Order of Oddfellows at St. Paul's Cathedral at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, promise to be very largely attended. Members of the local Oddfellows' lodges to the number of about 300, will attend in a body, as well as many prominent members of the order from distant parts. Meeting at the Oddfellows' Hall, Richmond street, at 2 o'clock, the members of the order will proceed to Queen's avenue, lining the street on either side from the residence of the late Dr. Campbell, where services will be conducted by the Rev. Denny Bright, curat of that church. It is probable that Rev. Walter Cox of Toronto, a prominent member of the I. O. O. F., will also be present to assist at the church.

March to Cemetery.

From the church the funeral procession will proceed to Mount Pleasant cemetery where, after the grave service has been read by the minister, the Oddfellows will conduct their own service for the dead. Leaving the church, the funeral procession will be headed by the ministers, closely followed by the patriarchs militant, all in their regalias. The Assembly Officers and Rebekas will come next in the procession with the subordinate lodge members following. They in turn will be followed by the Grand Lodge and Grand Encampment officers, the Sovereign Grand Lodge officers, public officials such as mayor and council members, the cortege and pallbearers and lastly the mourners.

Many floral tributes have been sent in from different cities of Canada and the United States, where the late Dr. Campbell was well known on account of his prominence in the I.O. O.F.

Joined Order In 1867.

As an oddfellow, he leaves the record of a remarkable career. On September 18, 1867, he joined Dominion Lodge, No. 45. He entered the Grand Lodge in 1870 and the Grand representative to Soverign Lodge from 1879 to 1892, becoming deputy grand sire in 1892, and serving as grand sire during 1894 and 1895. He was also a member of Victoria Rebekah Lodge, No. 1. At the time of his death, Dr. Campbell occupied the position of senior past grand sire.

Dr. Campbell also achieved prominence in the Masonic Lodge. He was past master of Tecumseh, No. 144, A. F. and A. M., and past grand regent of the Royal Arcanum.

SENTENCED TO 3-YEAR TERM

Enoch Shaddock of Parkhill Pleaded Guilty to Crime.

Enoch Shaddock of Parkhill was sentenced to three years in Kingston penitentiary when he appeared before Judge Macbeth at the court house on a charge of attacking his daughter Clara on April 1, 1920.

A warrant for Shaddock's arrest was issued, but he could not be found by the police. Provincial officer Arthur H. Palmer learned at a late hour Thursday afternoon that Shaddock was on a farm in west McGillivray and motoring out to the farm house Palmer found Shaddock in bed.

Later in the evening Shaddock was brought before Squire W. H. Chittick, acknowledged his guilt and was sent for trial before Judge Macbeth. The prisoner will be escorted to the penitentiary within the next few days.

WANTS CITIZENS TO DISCUSS TAXES

Ald. Ashplant Sees Food For Reflection in Fixed Assessments.

While Ald. H. B. Ashplant has offered no definite proposal or presented a motion calling for the breaking of the annex agreement, whereby the 15-mill rate as fixed applies to the assessment of factories, for the general as well as the school tax, he is continuing to advance reasons why some action should be taken.

In his latest statement on the matter he suggests that the subject should "provide serious reflection for such organizations as the chamber of commerce, the social service council, the Minister Association, the church brotherhoods, etc., not to mention the downtown victims in their own folly in permitting such a situation to develop in any case."

"Take the faculty of Western University also, and let these good citizens figure out the contribution to the university expansion, which is being made by the commercial organizations in our industrial annex. It must be borne in mind that the "general tax" of less than $30, paid for the full year, as in the report on record, has to provide for, and cover the following expense over and above the school charges; viz:

Fire protection, police protection, department of justice, city hall administration staff, Victoria Hospital support, Western University support, board of works maintenance costs, relief of the poor.

GIVES FARMERS RADIOPHONE TALK

Washington, Feb. 3. — Secretary Wallace, using a wireless telephone in his residence here last night, addressed a meeting of farmers and men interested in allied industries at St. Paul, Minn. He told them the department of agriculture was preparing to give the farmers more help in the marketing of their crops and more information on prices and adjustment of production to demand. Expressing gratification that he was the first secretary of agriculture to address by wireless a group of farmers a thousand miles away, Mr. Wallace predicted it would not be long before "individual farmers everywhere can install receiving sets at small expense and get frequent daily reports from the principal grain and live stock markets, weather forecasts and other important news."

AGRICULTURAL ACT LIKELY TO BE REDRAFTED

Federal Instruction Measure May Undergo Revisions by New Government.

GIVES ONTARIO $200,000

[Special to London Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Feb. 3.—The agricultural instruction act sponsored by Hon. Martin Burrell, and put into effect over nine years ago, expires within the present year, and it will be for the new administration to decide whether it will be re-enacted at the coming session of parliament or not. The act provided for the expenditure among the provinces for purposes of agricultural instruction on a basis of population.

Receives Largest Grant.

On this basis Ontario has been receiving the largest amount, over $200,000, while there has always been some difference of opinion as to the advisability of federal aid to provinces for instruction for all purposes. Liberals, in opposition, did not offer serious objection to the act especially inasmuch as the amount was distributed on a pro rata basis, and without interference on the part of the federal authorities as to how it should be disbursed.

It is for the present government to decide whether the aid in question shall be continued in its present form or discontinued or whether there shall be a modification or even an expansion of the scope of the measure. Should the assistance be withdrawn certain activities in every provincial department of agriculture in the Dominion will be crippled or retarded.

Suggest Co-ordination

It has been suggested in connection with the reconsideration of the act that an attempt be made for the co-ordination of dominion and provincial activities in connection with the improvement of the agricultural industry and for the elimination of certain duplications in live stock, seed distribution, etc., which at present exists.

It is obvious that the new government will not be willing to simply build upon the foundation laid down by a preceding administration without first investigating the working of the act in all of the provinces and canvassing their needs and requirements.

The act is a rural act. It may very well be that if it is renewed the distribution of monies may be based not upon total but upon rural population.

KIWANIANS HEAR WINDSOR SPEAKER

Gordon McGregor Congratulates Promoters of Motor Show.

Gordon MacGregor, vice-president and general manager of the Ford Motor Company of Windsor, was the speaker at the Kiwanis luncheon Friday. Mr. MacGregor is here assisting with the automobile show which is to be held in London next week, and said that London and Windsor were the only places in Ontario which put on a really good automobile show, and were to be congratulated for their courage in undertaking it. If business was to be had in any line, there was only one way of getting it and that was to go out after it.

J. B. Hay, district governor gave a report on the International conference held in Chicago last week, and announced htat the Canada-America week would be held in April when representatives from the Canadian clubs would visit and address American clubs and vice versa.

The international convention of the Kiwanis clubs will be held in Toronto this year, and it is expected that about 10,000 people will be present. The convention will take place in June.

Friday was automobile day at the club and the dealers presented musical numbers besides providing the speaker and the "silent booster" of the occasion.

INSPECTORS TO APPLY TUBERCULOSIS TEST

The federal government has supplied the local board of health with the full details of the scheme to test cattle for tuberoulosis, and this afternoon the local board will take steps to introduce this scheme here.

Under the provision of the federal act, the Dominion veterinary department inspectors look after the various herds supplying milk to the city. Cattle placed in the re-actor class, that is, those afflicted with tuberculosis, are slaughtered and the dominion compensates the owner. The dominion will carry on these tests for two years and then hand it over to the local board to be continued.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

SMALL ATTENDANCE ON CITY MARKET

Potatoes Sell at From $1.50 to $1.65 a Bag.

There was a small attendance on the local market on Friday.

Only two loads of hay were offered for sale; one brought $17, and the other $18 50 per ton.

Potatoes are in fair demand and are selling at $1 50@1 65 per bag.

Dressed hogs are bringing from $15 50 @16 per cwt.

The heavy snowfall of Thursday night was partly responsible for the light attendance at the market. It will probably also affect Saturday's market if the snow is not packed down by traffic in the meantime. Farmers report the snow is many feet deep, and nearly impassable in places.

Chicago, Feb. 3.—Although the market scored a fresh advance in the early transactions today, the effect failed to last. Initial upturns were ascribed to the influence of new gains in the Liverpool quotations. Many dealers here, however, leaned to the view that the recent general advance of values had been too rapid, and that a reaction was in order. Opening prices, which ranged from ⅛c to ⅞c higher, were followed by a setback all around to below yesterday's finish.

Reports showing that farm reserve supplies of oats were unusually small gave firmnes sto prices of corn and oats. After opening unchanged to ⅛c to ¼c higher, the corn market hardened a little more.

Oats started unchanged to ⅛c higher, and continued to point upward.

Liverpool, Feb. 3.—Wheat—Spot, No. 2 red western winter, 10s 10d; No. 1 northern, 12s; No. 2, 11s 11½d.

DISTRICT MARKETS

ST. THOMAS.

ST. THOMAS, Feb. 2.—A drop of 50 cents per cwt. in the price of live hogs was reported by the St. Thomas Packing Company Thursday, the price to farmers being $11 as against $11.50 on Monday of this week. The price is still 50 cents higher than the top price paid last week. No change was reported in the price of eggs or butter.

A fairly active bean market is reported by the Empire Flour Mills, Limited, the price quoted per bushel of 60 pounds being $2.25, hand-picked basis.

Flour and feed prices are the same as at the beginning of the week, shorts selling at $32 to $35 a ton.
