OUR OTTAWA LETTER

The important legislation of Naval Defence introduced at the opening of Parliament last week by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, marks a new era in Canadian history. The people have been before them a serious problem for consideration and one of vast importance, relative to the future security of this nation. There will be no allowance for false judgment and petty mistakes will not be tolerated. Unity and harmony must be reached between both parties before this national question receives its final disposition.

In all probability some weeks will elapse before any further controversy will be raised over naval matters in the House of Commons. However it is understood that in the event of Mr. Brodeur not recovering and able to proceed within a reasonable time the Premier himself will guide the bill through its different stages.

Budget Debate Resumed.

Dr. Clark, M. P. for Red Deer, Alberta, in speaking on the budget expressed himself as an ardent believer in free trade. His advocacy of this principle brought him into disagreement with the Minister of Finance in respect to the question of bounties.

Dr. Clark repudiated the analogy, as drawn by the Minister of Finance, in his budget speech in respect to the iron and steel bounties and subsidies to railways being of a similar nature.

The doctor maintained that the subsidizing of railroads might be all right as the whole of the people were to receive benefit from railroads, but it could not be so from the bounties paid out to the iron and steel industries.

Dr. Clark also took a fling at the German tariff, saying that it was an unjust policy of retaliation, and that it would not tend to improve trade relations between Germany and Canada.

The doctor while only a settler in the West for the past nine years, has been thoroughly acquainted with the needs of that country, and marshals his facts as but few can.

O'Leary Building, Water St.

He picked up at the Hon. Geo. E. Foster over the Saskatchewan Valley land transactions, saying that results of the outside civil service would be a great increase of salary, and that their positions should be made independent of government action. He was surprised he said, when he visited the public accounts committee, to hear such statements as he did there, and he believed that in one instance an outside civil servant had juggled with the truth as his head and butter was at stake, and the Minister of the Department was gazing into his face.

He concluded with a tribute of praise to Mr. Butler, Deputy Minister of Railways, who had been lately appointed general manager of the Dominion.

Mr. A. Magrath, M. P. of Medicine Hat, challenged the government in its Postal policy. He believed that every dollar of revenue from the P. O. Dept. should be expended on better postal facilities.

Mr. Magrath in speaking of the outside civil service hoped they would get an increase of salary, and that their positions should be made independent of government action. He was surprised he said, when he visited the public accounts committee, to hear such statements as he did there, and he believed that in one instance an outside civil servant had juggled with the truth as his head and butter was at stake, and the Minister of the Department was gazing into his face.

He concluded with a tribute of praise to Mr. Butler, Deputy Minister of Railways, who had been lately appointed general manager of the Dominion.

Mr. Piquet (Liberal) hoped that a French Canadian would get Mr. Butler's job on the I. C. R. Board of Directors.

T. W. Crothers, M. P. for West Edm., expressed his opinion that if Canada had followed the principles of the Liberal party we would have seen here this annexed to the United States.

Every great work he said, had been originated by the Conservative party for the development of Canada, and that the foundations of Canada's great development had been laid by such men as Cortier, McDonald, Tilly, Tupper and others.

Mr. F. T. Condon, M. P. for the Yukon, delivered a ringing speech in defence of the Liberal policy, and he came out strongly in favor of free trade, especially with the United States, saying that it would be the best guarantee of amity between Canada and her neighbors to the south.

Abolishing Senate.

The House of Commons voted on the proposal of Mr. Lancaster (Cons.) Niagara, to abolish the Senate. The motion was defeated by 111 to 22 on a vote of 133.
