DISASTROUS FIRE AT HEAD TIDE

House and Barn of Albert Mann With Practically All Their Contents Destroyed.

A most disastrous fire occurred at Head of Tide on Saturday morning about 7:30 o'clock in which Mr. Albert Mann lost his house and barn with practically all their contents. The fire originated through some wood which had been placed under the stove the previous evening catching fire. No one was in the house at the time, Mrs. Mann having gone to the barn to milk and Mr. Mann having gone to the woods to new eggs. Neighbors were the first to notice the fire and immediately gathered about to render assistance, but without proper fire fighting apparatus could do nothing but save a few household articles, the fire having gained such headway before being discovered. Before the fire had reached the barn all the cattle had been released. Both buildings were burned to the ground, Mr. Mann losing practically everything. In the barn were stored some five tons of hay and 100 bushels of oats, thrashing mill and other machinery. Only a little of the smaller machinery was saved. Mr. Mann's loss will be in the vicinity of $4,000, and it will take considerably more than this to now replace what he has lost. There was no insurance upon any of the property. Neighbors are today assisting him in hauling lumber from the mill with which to rebuild, an act of kindness which is very much appreciated by Mr. and Mrs. Mann.

GERMANY DOES NOT WANT EX-KAISER

Minister Gives Assurance That No Indulgences Will Be Granted.
(By Joseph Hering.)
Berlin, May 28.—Pan-German agitation for return of the Kaiser family has caused much alarm among the true friends of the republic. All the more because it is generally regarded as an attempted resurrection of the spirit of Prussianism with reactionary plots against the republic in the background.
The proposed petition to Parliament to permit the return has not been produced yet, but it is almost certain it will be unsuccessful. Minister of the Interior Heinemann, speaking to The Gazette correspondent today, said:
"I am thinking that the persons who are arranging that petition cannot be fully informed about the Hohenzollerns' intentions, for I have good reasons to believe that they do not intend to apply to the Parliament for permission to return, but even if they did Parliament may be trusted to deny permission. There is certainly danger that the presence of the Kaiser and the Crown Prince here might strengthen reaction and cause the Republican Government more or less serious feeling, which we must guard against by refusing to extend any such invitation."
"It is said that a powerful clique of pan-Germans whose leaders fear having to appear with Wilhelm as co-defendants have conspired to bring the Hohenzollerns back to Germany, hoping that public sentiment may rise in their favor and shield the Hohenzollerns as well as their co-defendants against appearing in an international court," observed the correspondent.
No Serious Danger.
"The German people," the minister replied, "might shield a man like Hindenburg, whom all respect for his unswerving devotion, duty and patriotism, but would never do that for Wilhelm, who, with whatever grounds, is generally regarded as responsible for the monstrous calamity of the war and its consequences. Neither can Wilhelm and his clique ever expect the German people to raise a banner in their defense, and what little sympathy the Hohenzollerns still have among certain classes would disappear quickly if they in any way exerted political activity."
"Nobody knows what happened exactly during the last few days before the outbreak of the war, but the whole German people for years witnessed the Kaiser's conduct that made war unpreventable, though he may not have intended it. It is true that Hindenburg, too, has mixed in politics, or perhaps his name was used by others for bad politics, but he is an old man, who will be forgiven for the sake of any other fine human qualities, while Wilhelm and the Crown Prince can expect no such indulgence."
"There is no fear that either Wilhelm or the Crown Prince will return without the Government's permission, and that will not be forthcoming."
Minister Heinemann seemed confident that there was no serious reactionary danger at present though apprehension in many well-informed circles is growing constantly.

Aged Lady Struck by Engine and Instantly Killed.

A particularly sad accident occurred about seven o'clock Friday morning at a crossing near Richards, whereby Mrs. Peter Wilmot was instantly killed by a light engine.

Mrs. Wilmot who shortly before the accident was talking to Robert Nelson, a returned soldier, who she had seen for the first time since his arrival home, had just stepped upon the track when the light engine was coming along. It is supposed that she was excited and became confused. She was killed instantly.

The train hands and neighbors picked up the body, which was brought to the station here by the train crew. She is survived by a husband, who has the sympathy of all in his sad bereavement.

HEARTY WELCOME FOR NANCY FOUR

London, June 1.—The crews of the three American seaplanes which started the memorable trans-Atlantic flight completed so gallantly by the N. C. 4 through her arrival at Plymouth yesterday came to London this afternoon and were given a hearty reception as their train stopped at the railway station.

One of the first to reach Commander Read of the N. C. 4, after he came from the train, was Harry G. Hawker, who shouted his congratulations as the commander was being led about on the shoulders and heads of a score of men.

The Royal Air Force officers joined with the American Navy men in arranging the welcome, and took part in the procession to the Avon Club house, where Hawker was conveyed to his arrival in London. Tonight the Americans, joined by "guests" of the Royal Air Force.

GERMAN GOVT. NOT ANXIOUS TO CONTINUE WAR

Berlin, via London, June 2.—A semi-official statement issued today says that the Government disapproves of the circular issued by the Supreme Army Command regarding the attitude to be adopted by the population should fighting be resumed. Distribution of the circular has been stopped.

The statement adds that the Government is obliged to obtain a correct view of the situation in order to calm the hot heads and to be able to meet with convincing proofs the "attacks of public opinion which are certainly to be expected shortly."

The statement continues: "The National Government puts its trust in the intrinsic justice and convincing character of its counter-proposals, not in a renewal of the armed struggle by Germany, but will continuously endeavor in no way to permit the safety of the eastern provinces to be neglected."
