

appointing. One lays down the book, however, with a feeling of satisfaction at having had an opportunity of examining it.

A Short History of the English People. By John Richard Green. In four parts. Part IV. (London: Macmillan & Co., and New York.)—The new edition of Mr. Green's history is now completed by the issue of the Fourth Part, uniform with Parts I., II. and III., to which we have already invited the attention of our readers. The corresponding portion of Mr. Tait's analysis is bound up with each part, and the edition, we are sure, will be a favourite one. The English people have never had a better historian than John Richard Green.

The Mental Faculty. By Francis Warner, M.D. (Cambridge: At the University Press. New York: Macmillan & Co.)—A course of lectures delivered by Dr. Warner in the University of Cambridge on the "Growth and Means of Training the Mental Faculty" have been, happily for the profession, placed before a wider audience than that before which they were first spoken, by the appearance of this book. The eminence and experience of the author, and the years of careful study he has devoted to this and kindred subjects are a sufficient guarantee for the value of the book, but those who are fortunate enough to examine it will find their expectations more than fulfilled. The real subject of the book is the "Scientific Observation and Study of Children in School," and in this Dr. Warner is a specialist. He is one of the members of a committee appointed last year by the British Medical Association to promote enquiry into this subject, and has done much practical work in connection with the medical examination of children both in schools and hospitals. A great deal may be learned from these lectures, and we strongly commend them to our readers.

MAKING MONEY IN VACATION.—About one year ago I procured instructions for plating with Gold, Silver and Nickle, and devoted my summer vacation to plating. In 43 days I cleared $391.10, a sufficient amount to pay my expenses for the college year. At nearly every house I plated spoons, castors or jewelry, and find it pleasant, instructive and profitable. My brother in 19 days cleared $162.40. Knowing that there are many desiring an education who have not the necessary means, I trust that my experience will be to such, a joyful revelation. By sending 25 cents to the Zanesville Chemical Company Zanesville, Ohio, you will receive directions for making Gold, Silver and Nickle solutions, with the necessary instructions for using them, and in an hour's practice you will be quite proficient.

NELLIE B.—

PUBLISHER'S DEPARTMENT.

THE BEST EDUCATIONAL JOURNAL IS THE TEACHER'S BEST FRIEND.

Renew your subscription. Subscribers in arrears are respectfully requested to remit the amount at once.

Notify us at once of any change of address, giving the old address as well as the new.

Accounts will be rendered from time to time, and prompt payment of the same will be expected. Specimen copies sent free from this office to any address.

Our readers will observe that special attention is given to examination papers in this Magazine; in many cases hints and solutions are added. We hope subscribers and others will show in a practical way their appreciation of the valuable work done by the editors of the different departments of THE MONTHLY.

WE are grateful to the friends of THE MONTHLY who have, from many different places, sent us letters of approval and encouragement, and request their kind assistance in getting new subscribers for 1890.

The Editor will always be glad to receive original contributions, especially from those engaged in the work of teaching.

Bound copies of this Magazine in cloth may be had from Williamson & Co., or from James Bain & Son, King Street Toronto, for $1.00 per copy.