

day, or for that still darker day of final separation. It is perfectly natural then, that the wives and families of our brothers should enquire as to what sort of institution this is, what has been history, what is its standing, and what part it has had in the life of the nation. This is a start, and C. M. B. A. will do all it can to help them. We have a new Almanac for 1896, which is now in the hands of the printer and will be ready in time for the first of January. It gives full information concerning the origin and aims of the Association, and its principles and objects.

It is a very interesting book, and now we have a copy of the Almanac for 1895, which is also well worth having. Our Association is a great success, and the work done by the various branches and judges of the same is of very great merit. I hope that the members will see in the Almanac a record of their own work, and a good opportunity to testify to the truth of the statements in the previous year.

Since 1878 we have paid out a few thousand dollars in relief of the poor members through the sum of $88,000. Think of the happiness and comfort this has wrought! But we are also making provision for the future. An extraordinary death-rate might occur amongst our members, from epidemics or other causes, and to provide against that or other contingencies we have organized a reserve fund. We started this fund in 1877 by setting aside five per cent of the assessments collected, and already we have to our credit the magnificent sum of $17,000, and of all the money we have thus collected, and of the money we have collected for administrative purposes, it has never yet been charged that one single dollar has either gone astray or has been misappropriated.

It is frequently stated that assessment insurance associations cannot possibly survive, that the rates are not high enough to secure permanency, that it is a question of time till they all must fail. To my mind assessment assurance is the most equitable and safest method of graded, and honestly administered. We have no bill gatherers, no luxurious offices to equip, and maintaining no presidents or managers drawing princely salaries. Every dollar we collect is returned in the form of death claims. The only salaried officers in the C. M. B. A. are the Grand Secretary and his assistant, and I am free to say that our Grand Secretary is not at all sufficiently remunerated for the faithful and efficient services rendered. What I have said so far relates mainly to the financial standing of our association. We have other duties to perform, no less important in their nature. One of the great aims of the association is to improve the social, intellectual and moral condition of the members of the association, and to educate them in integrity, sobriety and industry.

No nature of our associations must necessarily lead to sordidity, the rules insist on sobriety, and the meetings, like this we are now enjoying, cannot but lead to social and intellectual improvement. Such has been our history. Whenever we have established a branch we have the confidence and respect of the community. We have never yet failed to pay a death claim nor to discharge our lawful obligations. We have been doing an honorable and a noble work. Our foundation has been laid wide and deep, and the house erected thereon will not soon crumble away. And while we have had such success thus far on our journey, may we not expect even better results and greater prosperity in the years yet to come.

The Catholic Almanac of Ontario for 1896.

A publication that is wanted in every Catholic Family.

This annual has entered upon its second year, and good as we thought the first number, the second surpasses it. A number of pages in the book is devoted to Catholic Societies, giving valuable information concerning each, and information that cannot be obtained elsewhere.

We would draw the attention of C. M. B. A. men to this deserving publication. We feel proud of the good shown our own association makes in the book, and thank the editor for the space accorded us. It is no small advantage for a travelling man to be able to learn, as he can from this useful publication, the names, dates of meetings etc. of C. M. B. A. branches in whatever town or village he may be visiting.

The work of the Catholic Bishops in Ontario is put prominently before the readers of the Almanac, and the work done in them will surprise those who thought they knew something of our Catholic institutions.

The Catholic members of the Ontario Legislature are introduced in pleasant chatty sketches by Brother J. D. Ward; while the whole history of the Manitoba School Question is treated in a concise and lucid style by Mr. Frank A. Anglin another C. M. B. A. man. To know this question thoroughly is a necessity today for all Catholics everywhere, and in no publication has there appeared such a clear and fair exposition of the subject.

Short stories by Dean Egan, Mrs. Sadlier, Brother J. C. Walsh; poems by Dr. O'Hagan, and Mr. Joseph Sadler make most interesting reading. Mr. W. L. Scott of Ottawa writes a delightful sketch of "A new world Calvary." The well known features of the lamented Father Stafford — the Father Matthew of Ontario — look at us from the pages of the book; an account of the late Father Dawson with excellent portrait is contributed by Mr. J. E. O'Meara of Ottawa. The book abounds in numerous and interesting illustrations.

The meditations and selections for each month are a valuable feature of this Almanac. We notice at the beginning of this calendar for each month most appropriate texts from the Old and New Testament illustrative of the particular devotion of the month. The Calendar is compiled by the Rev. J. M. Cruise who has in charge every year of the Order for the Province. This makes the work an accurate guide to the feasts, feasts etc., of the year in Ontario. For this reason alone the book should have a large sale as no American publication supplies this information. Copies of the work can be obtained from the Sisters of the Precious Blood, 113 St. Joseph St., Toronto.

ANNIVERSARY OF BRANCH 215.

Branch 215, C. M. B. A., Summer side, celebrated its second anniversary on Monday evening last, by a very pleasant and successful concert, which was attended by the members and their families, and their invited friends and a number of representatives of sister societies, the hall being completely filled. All present appeared to be well pleased with the affair, which passed off in first rate style, and to the credit of Branch 215. The following was the programme, Miss Sarah Strong, organist of St. Paul's Church, playing the accompaniments, in her usual good style, for the different singers, with the exception of Mr. Turner, who was accompanied by Miss Siliphant.

Opening remarks by the Chairman, Rev. D. J. G. McDonald.

Instrumental Music, organ and violin, Miss Sarah Strong and Mr. John E. Delaney.
