A REMARITABLY honest Chicago doctor sent in a certificate of death, the other day, with his name signed in the space reserved for "Cause of death."

A LADY who advertised for a girl "to do light housework," received a letter from an applicant who said her health demanded sea air, and asked where the light-house was Miss Bunker (reading Browning): Isn't Browning delicious, Penelope? Miss Waldo: Perfectly divine I Miss Bunker: How do you think he is the more charming, backward or forward?

"I AM on my way home, doctor," said a itizen who was after some free advice, and I'm tired and worn out. What ought to take?" "Take a cab," replied the incitizen I to take ?" telligent physician.

MAMMA. Did you have a nice time at the party, II 1179? Harry Oh yes, splendid! I had five kinds of cake. First I had some sponge cake and chocolate cake, and then I jelly cake and cream cake, and then I had the stomach-cake.

A LADY stood hanging on the strap of a street car, when a workman in the far corner arose and politely offered her a seat. "I thank you, she said in a very sweet tone, "but I dislike to deprive the only gentleman in the car of a seat."

"GRACIOUS me I" said old Mis. Bently, who was reading an account of a public din-ner. "What's the matter?" inquired old Mr. Bently. "What an awful amount o' ner. "What's the matter?" inquired old Mr. Bently. "What an awful amount o' toast these men do eat! I should think it would make 'em thirsty."

Wife: John, dear, what would you do if I were to die? Husband: Don't speak of such a thing. I would be desperate. Wife: Do you think you would marry again? Husband: Well, n—o: I don't think I would be as desperate as all that.

THE Court: How is this, Mr. Johnson? The last time you were here you consented to be sworn, and now you simply make athemation. Mr. Johnson: Well, yo' H mah, de reason am dat I specis I ain't quite so such about de lacks ob dis case as de odder.

" Vor ought to be ashamed of yourself, a great big man like you to be a beggar and tramp. You oughtn't to be alraid of work. tramp. You oughin't to be alraid of work,"
"I know it mum, but I can't help it. You see my nurse frightened me once in a dark room when I was a baby, and I have been timid ever since."

LITTLE Chicago boy. Kin ye help a poor harmless, helpless boy? Kind Civizen I reckon so, Are you an orphan, Sonny? Boy: I'm wuss nor an orphan. Me fadder an' mudder is both diworced an' married agin', an' I don't know whose boy I am, an' am slowly fergittin' me own name.

PHYSICIAN (after consultation): I congratulate you most sincerely. Patient (smiling): Am I recovering? "Not exactly that; but on consultation we find that your case is entirely unique, and we have decided to give your name to the disease, if our diagnosis is confirmed at the autopsy."

A HOUSEHOLD KEMEDY. No family should be without some remedy for the cure of affections so universally prevalent as coughs, colds, sore throat, whooping cough and croup—some remedy, too, which can be relied on as safe, sure and certain. Dr. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY is the article required.
