TAKE the heating problem into consideration and provide for a "Sovereign" Hot Water Boiler and Radiators. The first cost will be more than for a hot air furnace but it will give more comfort and burn less coal—and it will assist the sale of your house, and get you a better price for it if you should decide to "put it on the market" at any future time.

A ton of coal and a "Sovereign" Hot Water Boiler will keep a nine room house comfortably warm for five weeks. Against only four weeks in a hot air furnace of the same rated heating capacity.

Our booklet will help you solve the heating problem.
