

Mr. Gillies: Mr. Speaker, may I rise on a question of privilege. I may have misspoken when I said "CANDU". I do know that it was a research reactor, and I stand corrected. However, I am sure that the hon. member knows that it was a research reactor which did come from Canada, which did produce plutonium, and which did eventually lead to the bomb.

Mr. Speaker: Order. I understand that the President of the Privy Council (Mr. MacEachen) has a motion standing in his name.

Mr. Knowles (Winnipeg North Centre): No.

Mr. Speaker: The only reason I am asking is that there are questions on the order paper. I wonder whether hon. members might want to give their consent to my now calling questions on the order paper before calling motions?

Some hon. Members: Agreed.

RCMP INVESTIGATION—MAILING LISTS

Question No. 43—Mr. Cossitt:

1. What is the name and address of the person, persons, or company to which Post Office Box 220, Ville Mont-Royal, Quebec is rented?

2. Is the RCMP investigating any Canadian publications or companies who have sold or in any way forwarded mailing lists to persons in the Soviet Union for purposes of soliciting subscriptions to magazines printed in English in the Soviet Union and, if so (a) what are the results of this investigation (b) has the RCMP any knowledge of how persons in Moscow obtained mailing lists of those in Canada holding Chargex and Master Charge cards?

Mr. Ralph E. Goodale (Parliamentary Secretary to President of the Privy Council): I am informed by the Post Office Department and the Department of the Solicitor General as follows: 1. It is post office policy to regard the information requested as confidential and not to disclose it without the customer's permission.

2. Yes. (a) Periodica International Subscription Agency purchases mailing lists from various firms (Canada and the United States) and sends them to the editors of three Soviet magazines. Subscription order forms are subsequently sent out from Moscow. (b) No.
