

Amends for this Inferiory by having gained the Advantage of the Wind. Primauguet, an Officer of Bretagne, embarked in the Cordelier, a first Rate Man of War, which carried twelve Hundred Soldiers. Twelve Sail of English, amongst which was the Admiral, called the Queen of England, (the Regent) surrounded Him. He fought with great Conduct, and Intrepidity; had sunk some of the Ships belonging to the Enemy; and, as the Rest began to bear away, was resolved to chace the Admiral. He kept close up to Him, when another English Commander, into whose Vessel He had poured a Broad Side, discharged a large Quantity of Combustibles at the Cordelier, which set Fire to Her, in such a Manner that there was no Hope of extinguishing it. The Breton Captain, resolving not to perish alone, made up to the English Admiral-Ship, and grappled with Her, until She, likewise, took Fire, and they blew up into the Air together. Soon afterwards, the two Fleets separated, as it were, by Consent. This Action redounded much to the Honour of the French, and the English came off with the Loss of some Ships.

In April, of the Year one Thousand, five Hundred, and Thirteen, Henry, preparing to invade France, levied a considerable Army, and equipped a formidable Fleet, consisting of forty-two Men of War, besides small Vessels, the Command of which was given to the Lord High Admiral, Sir Edward Howard. Under Him, as Captains, and Assistants, were Walter Deu-reux, Lord Ferrars, Sir Wolstan Browne, Sir Edward Ichyngham, Sir Anthony Poyntz, Sir John Wallop, Sir Thomas Wyndham, Sir Stephen Bull, William Fitz-William, Arthur Plantagenet, William Sidney, Esquires, and other Officers of Distinction. The King resolving to conduct, in Person, the Operations of the next Campaign, in France, Sir Edward was directed to scour the Channel, for some Time, and, then, present Him-