

as that of your lordship. At least every foldier and sailor is ready to confefs this truth, that there is none which has been more liberal in the most noble and laudable acts of generosity and humanity. To the remaining eldest branch of such a family, it therefore cannot be any impropriety to inscribe this history ; which is most humbly and respectfully done by

Your Lordship's

Most obedient and most

Humble servant.

*Westminster,
Sept. 16, 1763.*

The AUTHOR.

H

V

From the

which the F
nada with I
extirpate th
To clear this fessed of wh
of the French
Aix la Chape
arms, provit
intended first