

Woman's Realm---the Household, Fashions and Society

Lady Duff Gordon is in town from New York.

Col. Chadwick wishes to have the names of debutantes who are coming out at the Misses' Ball and are going to dance in the debutante set of dances which will open the ball. He will provide partners in uniform for the girls taking part.

Mr. Meakin of the "Merry Widow" Company gave a small tea last week at the King Edward.

One of the chief social events of Saturday afternoon was the large at home given by Mrs. W. H. B. Atkins at her house in Bloor street. The hostess was handsomely gowned in one of the new material contrasting beautifully with the cream lace pattern over which it opened. The same lace formed the sleeves and yoke, her ornaments of Venetian gold and antique jewels completing a very charming toilet. An orchestra played in the hall behind the foliage of many palms, and the drawing-rooms were beautified by many golden chrysanthemums and ferns. Tea was served in the dining-room, where the many beautiful paintings of Venetian scenes attracted much attention. The flowers here were gold and dark red chrysanthemums and Richmond roses. The niece of the hostess (the Misses Sutherland), Miss Beatrice and Major Ritchie, Miss Lillian Crowther and Miss Roderick were waiting in looking after the numerous guests.

Mrs. T. Lee Peters, Winnipeg, who has been in Dorchester, New Brunswick, visiting her sister, is in town for a few days on her way home, and is with Mrs. Frank Colson.

Mr. and Mrs. William Stone are spending the winter at the King Edward.

Rev. Clifford Sifton, Ottawa, is convalescent after the flu. His wife, Mrs. Sifton, have their three sons, the Messrs. Clifford, Harry and Victor Sifton, home from Toronto for Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Marion Walker, 13 Edgar avenue, has issued invitations to an at home on Friday, Nov. 8, from 4 to 7 o'clock, to introduce her second daughter, Hilda.

Mrs. Keefe, St. George street, has sent out invitations to a tea on Tuesday, Nov. 5, to introduce her two daughters, the Misses Patricia and Lillian Keefe, who will be two of the season's debutantes.

The Badington Club will hold its annual meeting on Nov. 2 in the Armories.

Mrs. Churchill and her daughter, who were recently in the Caucasus, are in Russia and are at the Hotel Metropole, Moscow.

Miss Emily Hendrie is the hostess of a bridge party the end of the week in honor of the Misses VanHusen, Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. William Harry Kingsford, and Miss Dorothy Bettis, Kingston, who accompanied them abroad, have been on a tour of the Chateaux, in the valley of the Loire, and have just returned to the Hotel Metropole, Paris.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Tomlin have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Miss Beatrice, to Mr. Harold H. H. Windsor, on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 14, at 2.30, in St. Stephen's Church and afterwards at 418 Bathurst street.

Miss Lilian Stuart, Maynard avenue, gave a very charming tea the end of the week to introduce her two daughters, the Misses Dorothy and Beatrice Stuart, who were crowned with garlands of pink and white roses, and carried a bouquet of white roses tied with white ribbon.

There was a white satin dress with silver embroidered yoke and sleeves, edged with silver fringe, a corseage bouquet of orchids and lilies and a diamond necklace. Mrs. Dore and Mrs. J. P. Dore, who assisted in the drawing-room, wore blue and black satin gowns with a profusion of yellow chrysanthemums. In the dining-room, the table was covered with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The Daily Hint From Paris

FOR AUTUMN COUNTRY WEAR

The blanket, weaves, with extreme woolly effects, are in high favor, especially for country wear.

This suit is made of a mixed tan and red material, with a hat of the same. The deep yoke is edged with a cord of the material, and tucks resembling cords are used to decorate the jacket and skirt. The buckle on the belt is also covered with the material.

The closing of both jacket and skirt is made with fancy pearl buttons and is far to the side. The wide cape collar can be rolled close around the neck, if desired.

daughter, Lilian Joyce, to Mr. Gilbert Francis Cardell, a young man of Mr. and Mrs. John Cardell. The marriage will take place very quietly on Nov. 20.

Their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, who are in the Windsor, Montreal.

The regular monthly meeting of the Toronto Women's Press Club will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 27, at 2.30, in St. Stephen's Church and afterwards at 418 Bathurst street.

Miss Lilian Stuart, Maynard avenue, gave a very charming tea the end of the week to introduce her two daughters, the Misses Dorothy and Beatrice Stuart, who were crowned with garlands of pink and white roses, and carried a bouquet of white roses tied with white ribbon.

There was a white satin dress with silver embroidered yoke and sleeves, edged with silver fringe, a corseage bouquet of orchids and lilies and a diamond necklace. Mrs. Dore and Mrs. J. P. Dore, who assisted in the drawing-room, wore blue and black satin gowns with a profusion of yellow chrysanthemums. In the dining-room, the table was covered with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

Dr. MacKellar Attended Thousands During Famine and Plague—Missionary Work Explained.

To a large congregation in College street Presbyterian Church yesterday morning, Dr. Margaret MacKellar gave a short outline of twenty-two years of her life as a medical missionary in India. After passing through two continents and three plagues in the last twenty years, Dr. MacKellar is still as vigorously preserved in body—and this in spite of the fact that during the plague she gave medical attention to thousands of the sick and a half million who died from the dreadful disease.

By way of emphasizing the importance of India to the British Empire, Dr. MacKellar dwelt on the immense population of 315,000,000, "King George," she said, "is the sovereign of 400,000,000 souls, but omitting India, there are left only 85,000,000, not as many people as live in the United States."

In Dr. MacKellar's opinion the day was still far distant when all the inhabitants of India would know of Jesus and yet, making everything into consideration, the Christian Church, much for which it could give thanks.

Today, after 100 years of work, said the speaker, there are only one million Protestant Christians in India. Counting each letter in the Bible as an inhabitant of India, we would require eight-eighths of them to represent the total population, while the Protestant Christian element could be represented by one-thirtieth of the Bible.

Dr. MacKellar spoke in detail of the fourfold nature of the church's missionary activity in India. The work was evangelical, educational, industrial and medical; and with the latter she herself was chiefly concerned. The speaker said that twenty years ago the first dispensary ever built in India was cursed by the natives. This early attitude of the Hindu, she said, now is a strong contrast to the present feeling. Hospitals were now looked upon as a blessing, and at the opening of a new one two weeks before she left on furlough, hundreds of native men were present, and on these persons were many magnificent gifts for the physicians.

The most deplorable feature of Indian life, said Dr. MacKellar, was the low estimate of woman. Cows were sacred and women had neither minds nor souls.

The regular monthly meeting of the Toronto Women's Press Club will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 27, at 2.30, in St. Stephen's Church and afterwards at 418 Bathurst street.

Miss Lilian Stuart, Maynard avenue, gave a very charming tea the end of the week to introduce her two daughters, the Misses Dorothy and Beatrice Stuart, who were crowned with garlands of pink and white roses, and carried a bouquet of white roses tied with white ribbon.

There was a white satin dress with silver embroidered yoke and sleeves, edged with silver fringe, a corseage bouquet of orchids and lilies and a diamond necklace. Mrs. Dore and Mrs. J. P. Dore, who assisted in the drawing-room, wore blue and black satin gowns with a profusion of yellow chrysanthemums. In the dining-room, the table was covered with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

The table was also decorated with a white cloth, and a mirror placed on which stood a cut-glass bowl of single white chrysanthemums, surrounded with pink and white roses.

MONEY REEDED FOR THE WORK

Dr. Margaret MacKellar of Central India Explained Her Work and Asked for Funds.

By a practice of the profession of medicine the hearty of the heathen can be more effectively reached in Christian mission work. This was the view expressed to an audience of 300 women in Guild Hall, Saturday afternoon by Dr. Margaret MacKellar of Central India, who addressed them for more than an hour on the work being done in Central India, a Christian institution turning out medical missionaries.

Dr. MacKellar's service to India was recognized at the recent Durban when King George pinned on her the Kaiser's medal for the good she had done in her work as a Christian evangelist and philanthropist among the suffering natives.

The Women's Christian Medical College at Ludhiana, Punjab, India, which is sustained by Christian women in the English-speaking countries, receives a portion of its support from the Canadian Auxiliary, of which the principal branches are in Toronto and Winnipeg.

Women of all Protestant denominations are represented in the Toronto branch. Dr. MacKellar's appeal to the auxiliary on Saturday afternoon was for further financial assistance in order that the institution might be extended in its influence, and be better equipped to meet the needs of the people of India.

Dr. MacKellar's appeal to the auxiliary on Saturday afternoon was for further financial assistance in order that the institution might be extended in its influence, and be better equipped to meet the needs of the people of India.

Dr. MacKellar's appeal to the auxiliary on Saturday afternoon was for further financial assistance in order that the institution might be extended in its influence, and be better equipped to meet the needs of the people of India.

Dr. MacKellar's appeal to the auxiliary on Saturday afternoon was for further financial assistance in order that the institution might be extended in its influence, and be better equipped to meet the needs of the people of India.

Dr. MacKellar's appeal to the auxiliary on Saturday afternoon was for further financial assistance in order that the institution might be extended in its influence, and be better equipped to meet the needs of the people of India.

Dr. MacKellar's appeal to the auxiliary on Saturday afternoon was for further financial assistance in order that the institution might be extended in its influence, and be better equipped to meet the needs of the people of India.

Dr. MacKellar's appeal to the auxiliary on Saturday afternoon was for further financial assistance in order that the institution might be extended in its influence, and be better equipped to meet the needs of the people of India.

Dr. MacKellar's appeal to the auxiliary on Saturday afternoon was for further financial assistance in order that the institution might be extended in its influence, and be better equipped to meet the needs of the people of India.

Dr. MacKellar's appeal to the auxiliary on Saturday afternoon was for further financial assistance in order that the institution might be extended in its influence, and be better equipped to meet the needs of the people of India.

Dr. MacKellar's appeal to the auxiliary on Saturday afternoon was for further financial assistance in order that the institution might be extended in its influence, and be better equipped to meet the needs of the people of India.

Dr. MacKellar's appeal to the auxiliary on Saturday afternoon was for further financial assistance in order that the institution might be extended in its influence, and be better equipped to meet the needs of the people of India.

Dr. MacKellar's appeal to the auxiliary on Saturday afternoon was for further financial assistance in order that the institution might be extended in its influence, and be better equipped to meet the needs of the people of India.

Dr. MacKellar's appeal to the auxiliary on Saturday afternoon was for further financial assistance in order that the institution might be extended in its influence, and be better equipped to meet the needs of the people of India.

Dr. MacKellar's appeal to the auxiliary on Saturday afternoon was for further financial assistance in order that the institution might be extended in its influence, and be better equipped to meet the needs of the people of India.

Dr. MacKellar's appeal to the auxiliary on Saturday afternoon was for further financial assistance in order that the institution might be extended in its influence, and be better equipped to meet the needs of the people of India.

Dr. MacKellar's appeal to the auxiliary on Saturday afternoon was for further financial assistance in order that the institution might be extended in its influence, and be better equipped to meet the needs of the people of India.

Dr. MacKellar's appeal to the auxiliary on Saturday afternoon was for further financial assistance in order that the institution might be extended in its influence, and be better equipped to meet the needs of the people of India.

Dr. MacKellar's appeal to the auxiliary on Saturday afternoon was for further financial assistance in order that the institution might be extended in its influence, and be better equipped to meet the needs of the people of India.

Dr. MacKellar's appeal to the auxiliary on Saturday afternoon was for further financial assistance in order that the institution might be extended in its influence, and be better equipped to meet the needs of the people of India.

Dr. MacKellar's appeal to the auxiliary on Saturday afternoon was for further financial assistance in order that the institution might be extended in its influence, and be better equipped to meet the needs of the people of India.

Dr. MacKellar's appeal to the auxiliary on Saturday afternoon was for further financial assistance in order that the institution might be extended in its influence, and be better equipped to meet the needs of the people of India.

Dr. MacKellar's appeal to the auxiliary on Saturday afternoon was for further financial assistance in order that the institution might be extended in its influence, and be better equipped to meet the needs of the people of India.

Dr. MacKellar's appeal to the auxiliary on Saturday afternoon was for further financial assistance in order that the institution might be extended in its influence, and be better equipped to meet the needs of the people of India.

Dr. MacKellar's appeal to the auxiliary on Saturday afternoon was for further financial assistance in order that the institution might be extended in its influence, and be better equipped to meet the needs of the people of India.

Dr. MacKellar's appeal to the auxiliary on Saturday afternoon was for further financial assistance in order that the institution might be extended in its influence, and be better equipped to meet the needs of the people of India.

BRING CHILDREN OUT TO CANADA

Rev. Dr. Hincks Says More Can Be Done Here With Dollars Than With Pounds in England.

"I say to every Englishman who can afford it, 'Bring your children to Canada. In the matter of education you can do more for them with dollars than you can with pounds.' This was the earnest plea of Rev. Dr. Hincks, in his sermon on National Thanksgiving, in Broadway Tabernacle last night. If figures tell, Dr. Hincks, in his exposition of Canada's prosperity, spoke not in vain. Statistics dealing with the commercial, industrial and spiritual outlooks in 1913, Dr. Hincks were cited in abundance. A reference was made to Ontario's 175,000 farmers to the rich wheat soil of Saskatchewan and Alberta, and to the timber, fruit and mineral wealth of the Maritime provinces and British Columbia.

"We are greatly thankful for all these blessings," asked Dr. Hincks, "or are we like the Caspian Sea, which receives rivers after rivers, but its bosom, yet gives out, not a single rivulet? I sometimes think that we who get the most are the least thankful. Perhaps, from some church in this city to-night, perhaps from the heart of some fallen Magdalen, shall go out the rhapsody of a heart which throws out its love in gratitude for God's mercy. We're so used to seeing God get out dinner, that we think little of it. The pang of hunger probably not a man here has ever felt. In my native city in the past year 200 have died on the streets from starvation. Not one in Canada has died from this cause. How thankful we should be."

In four years Chinamen paid $600,000 to get in here," said the speaker. "Do we appreciate it? Here's a country big enough to die for. Where a slave was 20 years ago, there are skyscrapers today. The bank deposits average $120 per head, the highest per unit in the history of the human race."

Dr. Hincks referred to the Balkan war and to the sacrifice foreigners in Toronto were making for the freedom of their mother countries. "Let us remember them," he said, "in this our time of thanksgiving."

Dr. Hincks referred to the Balkan war and to the sacrifice foreigners in Toronto were making for the freedom of their mother countries. "Let us remember them," he said, "in this our time of thanksgiving."

Dr. Hincks referred to the Balkan war and to the sacrifice foreigners in Toronto were making for the freedom of their mother countries. "Let us remember them," he said, "in this our time of thanksgiving."

Dr. Hincks referred to the Balkan war and to the sacrifice foreigners in Toronto were making for the freedom of their mother countries. "Let us remember them," he said, "in this our time of thanksgiving."

Dr. Hincks referred to the Balkan war and to the sacrifice foreigners in Toronto were making for the freedom of their mother countries. "Let us remember them," he said, "in this our time of thanksgiving."

Dr. Hincks referred to the Balkan war and to the sacrifice foreigners in Toronto were making for the freedom of their mother countries. "Let us remember them," he said, "in this our time of thanksgiving."

Dr. Hincks referred to the Balkan war and to the sacrifice foreigners in Toronto were making for the freedom of their mother countries. "Let us remember them," he said, "in this our time of thanksgiving."

Dr. Hincks referred to the Balkan war and to the sacrifice foreigners in Toronto were making for the freedom of their mother countries. "Let us remember them," he said, "in this our time of thanksgiving."

Dr. Hincks referred to the Balkan war and to the sacrifice foreigners in Toronto were making for the freedom of their mother countries. "Let us remember them," he said, "in this our time of thanksgiving."

Dr. Hincks referred to the Balkan war and to the sacrifice foreigners in Toronto were making for the freedom of their mother countries. "Let us remember them," he said, "in this our time of thanksgiving."

Dr. Hincks referred to the Balkan war and to the sacrifice foreigners in Toronto were making for the freedom of their mother countries. "Let us remember them," he said, "in this our time of thanksgiving."

Dr. Hincks referred to the Balkan war and to the sacrifice foreigners in Toronto were making for the freedom of their mother countries. "Let us remember them," he said, "in this our time of thanksgiving."

Dr. Hincks referred to the Balkan war and to the sacrifice foreigners in Toronto were making for the freedom of their mother countries. "Let us remember them," he said, "in this our time of thanksgiving."

Dr. Hincks referred to the Balkan war and to the sacrifice foreigners in Toronto were making for the freedom of their mother countries. "Let us remember them," he said, "in this our time of thanksgiving."

Dr. Hincks referred to the Balkan war and to the sacrifice foreigners in Toronto were making for the freedom of their mother countries. "Let us remember them," he said, "in this our time of thanksgiving."

Dr. Hincks referred to the Balkan war and to the sacrifice foreigners in Toronto were making for the freedom of their mother countries. "Let us remember them," he said, "in this our time of thanksgiving."

Dr. Hincks referred to the Balkan war and to the sacrifice foreigners in Toronto were making for the freedom of their mother countries. "Let us remember them," he said, "in this our time of thanksgiving."

Dr. Hincks referred to the Balkan war and to the sacrifice foreigners in Toronto were making for the freedom of their mother countries. "Let us remember them," he said, "in this our time of thanksgiving."

Dr. Hincks referred to the Balkan war and to the sacrifice foreigners in Toronto were making for the freedom of their mother countries. "Let us remember them," he said, "in this our time of thanksgiving."

Dr. Hincks referred to the Balkan war and to the sacrifice foreigners in Toronto were making for the freedom of their mother countries. "Let us remember them," he said, "in this our time of thanksgiving."

Dr. Hincks referred to the Balkan war and to the sacrifice foreigners in Toronto were making for the freedom of their mother countries. "Let us remember them," he said, "in this our time of thanksgiving."

Dr. Hincks referred to the Balkan war and to the sacrifice foreigners in Toronto were making for the freedom of their mother countries. "Let us remember them," he said, "in this our time of thanksgiving."

Dr. Hincks referred to the Balkan war and to the sacrifice foreigners in Toronto were making for the freedom of their mother countries. "Let us remember them," he said, "in this our time of thanksgiving."

Dr. Hincks referred to the Balkan war and to the sacrifice foreigners in Toronto were making for the freedom of their mother countries. "Let us remember them," he said, "in this our time of thanksgiving."

Dr. Hincks referred to the Balkan war and to the sacrifice foreigners in Toronto were making for the freedom of their mother countries. "Let us remember them," he said, "in this our time of thanksgiving."

The Crisp, Tasty Toast

Food science has taught us that there is much body-building nutriment in the whole wheat grain which we do not get in white flour. The only question is how to make the whole wheat grain digestible. That problem has been solved in the making of the shredded whole wheat wafer. It is the whole wheat, steam-cooked shredded, compressed into a wafer, and baked—the maximum of nutriment in smallest bulk. Many people prefer it to ordinary bread toast. Heated in the oven to restore its crispness it is delicious for luncheon, or for any meal, with butter, potted cheese or marmalade.

TRISCUIT

"THE TOAST OF THE TOWN"

Made of Choicest Selected Canadian Wheat

A Canadian Food for Canadians

Made by

The Canadian Shredded Wheat Company, Limited

Niagara Falls, Ont